THE BLACK HAND.

the Name of This Group of Daring Criminals.

According to the United States se cret service, the Black Hand is a title common to innumerable groups of criminals operating under the direction of some secret central government. These men are blackmallers, using murder, arson, kidnaping and bomb throwing as punishments for those who will not submit to their iniquitous demands. Black Hand is, in short, a handy name for a brand of crime peculiar to Italian criminals who are successful in it because of the temperament of the foreign immigrants and their inborn dread of the extortionist. Whether the central government which guides the Black Hand society is to cated in the United States or in Italy is something which neither the Italian nor American authorities can discover United States officers say the name of the American Black Hand emanated from Chicago about ten years ago, when one of the first of many mysterious murders in the Italian quarter remained unsolved. The victim of the murder had received a warning that death would follow his failure to contribute a specified sum of money. The letter was embellished with a crude drawing representing a fist clutching a dagger. The fist and dagger gave the name Black Hand-later to become unpleasantly familiar to every citizen of the country-and the sinister sketch was soon a source of terror to all law abiding Italians.-Wide World Maga-

KERMIT'S LATEST TRIP.

Return of the Colonel's Son to Paris

Reveals a Romance Although Master Cupid was not mentioned as being one of those who accompanied Colonel Roosevelt on bis triumphal tour of Europe, it now appears that he was with the colonel's party most of the time and made at least two crack shots. His victims, it is said, are Miss Margaret Rutherford and Kermit Roosevelt, and the latter has now returned to Paris where the young lady is spending the summer. The two were much in each other's company while the ex-president was in the French capital, and it is hinted that a bond greater than friendship exists between them

Miss Rutherford is the first daughtes of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt. Sr.

She is about Kermit's age and a noted beauty who has attracted much attention abroad. The present Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Sr., was Mrs. Samuel S. Sands, Jr., whose husband was killed while riding to hounds. Later, in 1890, she married Lewis Morris Rutherford, Jr., and to them were born two daughters, Margaret and Barbara, Death left Mrs. Rutherford a widow for a second time, and in 1903 she became Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Sr., in London. From each husband had come a competence, but when she married Mr. Vanderbilt she became the wife of a multimillionaire. and little Margaret Rutherford be came a conspicuous member of society and an heiress to some of the Vander bilt millions Young Roosevelt has gone to Paris unaccompanied by any member of his family He is, however, twenty years of age and well able to take care of himself, baving plenty of self rellance. He has spent one year at Harvard and intends to do some studying while abroad Returning by way of Switzerland. Kermit expects to try chamois bunting to the Alps, depending upon this pastime to get himself into good physical condition for study when he resumes his university course.

The second son of the ex-president is a lean, loose jointed young man and looks as thin and undeveloped as his 30-35 father did at his age and later when he went west to rough it and build up the remarkable strength of body and mind which have made him one of the most striking characters in the world. Kermit is a spiendid shot and as good on the back of a borse as the best of young riders. He keeps bimself in splendld trim by outdoor work and was one of the most active members of the party that hunted big game in
