REV. FORD DENOUNCES THE STANDPATTERS

At the Methodist church Sunday night Rev. T. B. Ford took for his subject "National Housecleaning," and preached from the text: "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people. Set thine house in order, for thou shalt die and not live." Mr. Ford went into politics. He inveighed against corruption and delivered some hot shot at the assembly movement in Oregon, fired a broadside at standpatters and encouraged the insurgents. In speaking of Taft's administration he said:

"It was a well known fact that Mr. Taft was the choice of Mr. Roosevelt. The powers that stood across the Rooseveltian path organized to circumvent the new administration, and forced it into harmony with the dominant influences in the senate and house of representatives. The battle was a royal one, and is not yet ended. 'Standpattism' is deeply entrenched in powerful interests. 'Progressivism' is ground in the convictions of some great leaders and will not down. Iowa and Kansas have joined hands, and Nebraska is coming into line with the progressive propagandists. Indiana and Wisconsin, with Illinois coming on, are in the forward movement, and thus the great heart of the northern belt of this country is throbbing with the new spirit. Washington and Oregon ought to join California, and the right hand of the great central West, the Pacific Slope, should be lifted in full strength to help in the right adjustment of conflicting interests and in the inauguration of the new policy.

"Mr. Taft has heard the warning voice saying in no uncertain tone, 'Clean house, or thou shalt not keep house any more.' It is not a question of Pinchotism or Ballingerism, but one of right conservation of our resources in the interests of the people on the ground, and this question can not be settled by removing Pinchot, or the retirement of Ballinger. It must be settled on a basis of righteousness, or the nation will suffer reproach. It is not a question of Mr. Cannon, a man of long public service, but one of 'Cannonism' and a non-progressive and obstructive element to legislation in the interests of righteousness, and can not be settled dropping Mr. Cannon over the party wall, but by the enactment of progressive laws."

"It is not a question of Mr. Aldrich or Mr. Beveridge, but of the revision of our tariff laws in fulfillment of pledges to the people. The withdrawal of Senator Aldrich from public life, and the refusal of Mr. Taft to speak in Indiana in behalf of Senator Beveridge, will not settle this question. The creation of a non-partisan tariff commission with non-sectional, non-discriminative and adjustable schedules providing ample revenue for governmental expenses and equal protection to American industries, American labor and the American tradesman an adjustment in righteousness."

Another Candidate for County Judge

A new candidate to announce himself during the week is G. D. Woodworth, who has filed his declaration for county judge. Mr. Woodworth, it is said, has come out as a candidate for the office at the instigation of a number of friends who believe that it is essential to have a man on the county board who is a practical road builder. Mr. Woodworth, it is pointed out, has built many of the best pieces of dirt and gravel roads in the valley and therefore fills the bill in this respect. In another column he announces his candidacy, subject to the primaries.

Made Two Fruit Land Sales

A land sale of note during the week was the sale by the Hood River Realty Company of seven acres of the Baker-Hardinger tract, which was bought by D. D. Brewster, of Akron, Ohio. The price paid by Mr. Brewster was $5,425. The Realty company also sold 19 acres belonging to O. P. Breese to Earl C. Chapin for $13,000.

Valuable Horse Shot

H. Schupp, manager for the Red Apple company, reported the loss of a valuable horse to Sheriff Morse Monday which had been shot. The animal was shot through the right shoulder in such a manner that it died from loss of blood. The shooting is thought to have been done some time Sunday afternoon or night and was not discovered until Monday morning, when Mr. Schupp had occasion to use the horse. Who did the shooting is not known, but it is attributed to a gang of Italians who have been working in the neighborhood of the river road. Mr. Schupp paid $250 for the horse, which was one of a team that he bought recently in Portland for $500. The authorities are investigating the case.
