DIMICK AND LAFFERTY GIVE POLITICAL VIEWS

Grant B. Dimick, of Oregon City, anti-assembly candidate for the nomination for governor, and A. W. Lafferty, candidate for the nomination for congress from the Second Oregon district, also anti-assembly, spoke at the court house Wednesday night. As the seating capacity of the building is not large and it was not filled, the speakers did not have a very big audience. What was lacked in numbers, however, was made up in enthusiasm by some of the insurgents present.

The speakers were introduced by A. I. Mason, who devoted a good part of his introduction to knocking the local papers because they do not happen to be his way of thinking. His particular complaint was on account of a number of challenges which he had sent to M. C. George and other prominent assembly supporters to meet a number of anti-assembly opponents in joint debate. The papers had made no mention of the refusal of Mr. George and other members of the Republican party to engage in an idle discussion, hence the hammer.

Mr. Lafferty, who spoke first, criticized W. R. Ellis, the present congressman from this district, for not being as Lafferty claimed, as active and zealous in the state's behalf as he would be. He spoke at length on the needs of the Columbia River basin, declaring that one of the first moves he would make, if elected to congress, would be the improvement of the river as far as Nelson canyon, giving Eastern Washington country and Oregon a much-needed waterway route to the coast.

He said, if he was elected, the first thing he would do would be the calling together of the Idaho, Washington and Oregon congressional delegates to lay plans for securing an appropriation for up-river improvements.

Mr. Dimick, who followed, severely criticized the business management of the governor's office, which, he claimed, had been administered extravagantly, and promised, if he was elected, retrenchments along all lines. One of the most flagrant instances of extravagance, he said, was in the disposition of the moneys of the state school lands, for which he again promised a remedy if he was elected.

Both speakers vowed eternal alliance to the direct primary and statement No. 1 and flayed Republicans and Democrats of any other opinion loudly.

Davidson Fruit Co. Ready for Apples

The Davidson Fruit Co. has just closed the strawberry season, having handled some 25,000 crates which netted here at Hood River $2.33 per crate, giving their customers an increased profit of 20c per crate, or about $5,000 over other shippers.

This firm will be in the apple deal and expect to maintain their good reputation by giving their customers satisfaction.

Those having crops of fancy apples will no doubt put money into their pockets by arranging with the Davidson Fruit Co. to handle their fruit.

Phone them at 65 or call at the office at the foot of Third street, Hood River, Oregon.
