Apple picking seems to have come earlier this year. Some of the growers will begin the last of the week. The apple crop will be the largest yet and they are of a very fine size, hence will bring top notch prices.

The many friends of the happy couple wish them all happiness in their wedded life.

New York Gets Apple Sale

New York, Sept. 2—A wire received this morning, says the Produce News, announces that Jos. Steinhart of Steinhart & Kelly yesterday completed a deal whereby his firm will handle the entire apple crop of Hood River valley controlled by the Hood River Apple Growers' Union. Evidently it did not take Mr. Steinhart long to close the deal. He did not leave New York until the latter part of last week. The entire purchase will probably amount to $900,000 and may involve nearly $1,000,000. The crop is considerably larger than usual and from all reports the quality promises to be up to the high standard set by the Hood River Union.

This will be the third season that Steinhart & Kelly will handle this Hood River account, having made a success of the deal the previous seasons. This is without question the largest purchase of apples ever made by one single firm in the history of the fruit business. When Mr. Steinhart goes into a deal he goes into it with both feet and is deserving of success.

Gravenstein Trees Yield $47

Dr. W. R. Colley reports one of the largest yields of Gravenstein apples in the valley. He packed 251 boxes from eight 14 year-old trees. It will be interesting to know that the fruit sold for $150 per box, or at the rate of $47.06 per tree. At this rate an acre containing 60 Gravensteins would bring in a gross return of between $2,500 and $3,000.

Something in Prunes

The Newberg Register says that G. H. Greer picked twelve prunes from a French tree in his garden which, placed in a row, measured twenty-four and a half inches and their added diameter was eighteen inches, while their weight was nineteen ounces. If anyone can show larger French prunes Mr. Greer says he would like to see them.

Kindergarten Sept. 26

Owing to an illness the reorganization of the Hood River kindergarten has been delayed. The opening date however, has been set for September 26th, when Miss Stickney will be ready to receive the little pupils.

Apple Time

From Baltimore Sun

Apple time, dapple time, ripe world and mellow.

Summer sweets amber and maiden's blush yellow;

Baldwin and greening and redstreak, and, ho!

The ting and the tang of the ruddy rambo!

Apple time, apple time,

Windfalls to greet us

Where love in the orchard

Comes dancing to meet us!

Apple time, dapple time, red fruit and golden,

Sweet flow the juices from the cider mills older;

Pearmain and winesap and Ben Davis, hi!

The sweet dreams of autumn, the sweet autumn sky!

Apple time, apple time,

Red cheeks and rosy,

With love 'neath the old tree

To weave us a posy!

Apple time, dapple time, sheepnose and rusty coat,

Grimes and the pippin with the light green and dusty coat;

Sweet world and true world and good world, ah me,

When dreams in the orchard sing sweetly of glee!

Apple time, apple time,

Sweet spell and fine,

With love's lips of rose

Like a rose touching mine!
