CANADIAN SHOW WILL BE BIG EVENT

It is estimated by the secretary of the first Canadian Apple Show that there will be 21 carloads of apples exhibited at the big exposition. The exhibition rules require 600 boxes of apples for a car, hence there will be a grand total of 12,600 boxes of apples on display. A box of apples is approximately 20 inches long. If all of these boxes of apples were placed end to end, and a little boy told he could have the last box in the row if he would go after it, he would have to walk 47 and three-fourths miles to get it.

There are 36 to 225 apples in a box, according to size and the manner in which they are packed. The average would, therefore, be about 150 apples to each box, or a total of 1,638,000 apples in the entire show. These apples will average about two and one-quarter inches in diameter, and if they were placed in a single row it would be 628 miles long. If a little boy should start to walk to the end of the row, and walk seven and one-half miles a day, it would require three months and three days to accomplish the feat.

The owners of these apples will receive $25,000 in prizes, or nearly two dollars per box. After the show is over the apples will sell readily at two to five dollars per box, say an average of $3.50 per box, or a total of $44,100. Therefore the exhibitors will receive approximately $70,000 for the apples exhibited at Canada's first national apple show.

The secretary of the National Apple Show draws a fanciful picture in regard to the consumption of the apples that are expected to be exhibited. He figures it out this way:

Now then suppose that a greedy little boy who lives in London should ask his papa to buy all of those apples, how much would it cost his papa at a shilling apiece, and how long would it take that little boy to eat all of them, eating six apples a day?

Let us see, those apples would cost 1,638,000 shillings or $1,000 pounds, or approximately $409,500. And to eat all of them at the rate of six apples per day would take approximately 748 years, or nearly seven and one-half centuries. If that little boy should live the allotted span of life, three score and ten years from the time he began eating the apples, he would eat only 133,300 apples, hence it would require ten little boys, each eating six apples a day, 70 years to eat 1,533,000 apples, and there would still remain 105,000 apples to eat, which would require another little boy nearly 48 years to consume at the same rate. In other words, it would require 11 little boys, each eating six apples a day, just 68 years to eat all of those apples. Again, if but one little boy should undertake the task of eating the apples and should begin eating them on the last day of the first Canadian National Apple Show, November 5, 1910, and at his death another little boy should take up the task to finish the job, and so on, the last apple would not be eaten until Nov. 5, A. D. 2651, not counting the extra days for the leap years. By that time, at the present rate of the advancement of the human race towards the higher civilization, especially in the field of invention, little boys will be flying through the air like birds, talking to their papas or mamas miles away with a wireless pocket telephone, and listening to the world's greatest masters of music at home every evening. Certainly these little boys are to be envied, but you must remember that you started it, that there would be no little boy or girl to eat apples in that future age if it were not for the little boys and girls of today.

A Good Position
Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

Notice to Stockholders of the Farmers Irrigating Company
The annual stockholders' meeting of the Farmers Irrigating Company will be held Saturday, Oct. 1, 1910 at 10 o'clock a. m. at K. of P. hall for the purpose of electing seven directors to serve one year. The annual report from secretary and treasurer will be read and such other business transacted as may properly come before the meeting. Following resolutions will be voted on to hold the annual meeting of stockholders the first Saturday in September instead of October. By order of directors.

DIED

STEPHEN B. REED.
Stephen B. Reed, a well-known Hood River resident, died at his home here Wednesday, Sept. 21, at the advanced age of 88 years. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at Bartmess chapel, conducted by Rev. O. E. McOmber of the Methodist church, and burial was made in Idlewild cemetery.

Mr. Reed was born in the state of Ohio, May 29, 1822. From Ohio he moved to Indiana, then to Kansas, Nebraska and Washington, and came to Hood River about three years ago.

He served his country as a soldier in the War of the Rebellion and was a member of that great army of the Republic that is being so rapidly mowed down by death. For twenty years he had been associated with the Church of the Advent. There remain to mourn his death seven children, Benjamin Reed, of Beaver City, Neb., Albert, of Blackly, Ore., George and Mrs. Della Young, of Portland, Oliver, of Walla Walla, and Mrs. Nelle Warren, of Hood River.

FREDERICK DE FOREST ISHAM.
Frederick DeForest Isham, a resident of the Upper valley, died here Friday, Sept. 23. Mr. Isham was about forty-five years old and the cause of death was tuberculosis, from which he had been a sufferer for some time. He came to Hood River about two years ago in the hope of benefitting his health, and for the past two years had spent the winters in Southern California. The body was sent to New York City, where Mr. Isham has relatives.

MRS. LOUISA LANG PLATH.
While on a visit at the home of her son, C. A. Plath of this city, Mrs. Louisa Lang Plath passed away Thursday, Sept. 22. Mrs. Plath was born in Hanover, Germany, and was in her seventy-second year. The body was shipped to North Yakima, where the deceased has a daughter living, and where funeral services were held.

Water Works on the Farm

Yes, that's just what we mean—real water works; running water in the kitchen, the bathroom, the laundry, the barn—in fact, all over the place. And it's all done by that tank you see in the lower left hand corner of this picture—the Leader System. It's vastly different from the old-fashioned elevated tank which worked by gravity. For the Leader Water Supply System is operated by compressed air—reliable, safe and cleanly. Your windmill pumps water into the tank (which is already full of air). The air, being elastic, is compressed into upper part of the tank, and forces the water out through the pipes.

This gives you a pressure, so that a powerful stream of water is on tap at every faucet, no matter where it is located. And this means absolute fire-protection, for the pressure is always on and always ready.

Now, the old style gravity tanks were either put in the attic or situated on a high tower out of doors.

In the former case, their weight when full, cracked the plastering; or they overflowed or leaked, flooding the rooms below.

In the case of the outside tanks, the water often froze solid in winter, necessitating expensive plumbing bills; or it became hot and stagnant during the summer and unfit for use. The Leader Water Supply System avoids all this, because the air-tight tank is either in the basement or buried under ground below the frost line. Every outfit is complete, with full directions, and is easily installed. The Leader system needs no repairs, is suited to small buildings of large, and is moderate in price.

Let us send you our free booklet, "How I Solved the Water Supply Problem," the story of a man who successfully equipped his country home with modern water works. Write for it today, before you forget
