ONLY ONE SAFE ROAD TO SUCCESS
OTHING so far, in the history of humanity, has been discovered as an acceptable substitute for honesty. The man who lies down and the man who lies up and down eventually stay $\boldsymbol{s}$ doken-the one won't deliver what's expected of him-the onther 1 the man who lies up and down eventually stays doten-the one won't deliver what's expected of him-the other can't. There's just one safe road-the hard straight teay. The little short cuts, the smooth twisting side paths, only seem safe; they're not meant to be walked on. Ever since human folk began to reason, a certain percentage of idiots have tried to get ahead by cutting over the quick-sands, slighting their future for temporary gain. Many a man has lost out just because he wasn't patient enough to travel the road of honesty in his business. Money is desirable if fairly gained, but after all, it will only purchase food, clothes and excitement-Peace, Security and Happiness
