JUDGE A. J. DERBY FOR REPRESENTATIVE

To the Voters of Hood River County: I take this opportunity of announcing to you my candidacy for election as joint representative from Hood River and Wasco counties.

As the voters of Hood River are well aware, I now occupy the position of county judge of this county and will continue to do so until my successor is elected and qualified. It occurs to me, therefore, that while drawing a salary from the county for this work, it would not be proper for me to neglect the duties of this office for the purpose of campaigning for another, and I am therefore under the necessity of getting in touch with the voters through the press and other means which do not take my time from my duties.

I would appreciate your support if you consider me worthy of the honor.—Adv. A. J. Derby.

COMMERCIAL CLUB RESENTS SLANDER

According to Secretary Skinner, of the Commercial Club, malicious stories have been set afloat in connection with the organization, and he writes the News as follows:

To The Editor: There seems to be considerable talk going through the town and valley to the effect that the Commercial Club was responsible for the two meetings recently held in the club rooms under the auspices of the Oregon Home Rule Association. It has been stated that the Commercial Club paid for the distributing of advertising matter concerning these meetings. Such a statement is absolutely false, based either on malicious misrepresentation or a misunderstanding of facts.

The Commercial Club is connected in no way with any political or non-political party, nor has it any views on prohibition or anti-prohibition. The Assembly Hall of the club rooms is for rent at a stipulated price per evening to anybody for any purpose as long as it is legitimate and proper.

When the Oregon Home Rule Association rents the Assembly Hall of the club rooms, the Commercial Club is in no way responsible for any feeling that may come up through people having antagonistic views. The Commercial Club is an organization having the welfare of the whole valley and town at heart, whose only business in life is the advancement of this town and valley.

J. E. SKINNER, Secretary Commercial Club.
