MORTON OBJECTS TO NEWSPAPER STORY

Editor News,

Dear Sir:—I noticed quite a lengthy article in the Hood River Glacier of Nov. 10, 1910, pertaining to the Morton Injunction petition being withdrawn, which petition sought to enjoin the sale of the $90,000 municipal water bond issue.

Since the "learned" attorney representing Mrs. Pearl Morton saw fit to have published in said paper an article from her to the effect that C. D. Nickelsen and I so misrepresented her that she was compelled to withdraw her sworn statement, I desire to make a few brief remarks at this time for the benefit of those who may be misled.

C. D. Nickelsen and I went over to White Salmon together and securing the services of a notary public proceeded to the residence of Mrs. Pearl Morton. It was stated to her that in order to get a hearing on this suit before the federal court it was necessary to have a complaining witness outside of the state of Oregon and who owns property in the city. A copy of the Burt Van Horn petition was then read to her, word for word, and she then read the petition she afterwards signed and swore to.

I am not aware of, nor do I believe there were any misrepresentations made to the said Mrs. Pearl Morton, by us, in regard to this matter.

I know nothing about Mr. Butler or C. M. Wolfard in this connection, for I never talked to them about this Injunction suit. Mr. C. M. Wolfard was not present when the papers were signed nor at any time when C. D. Nickelsen and I were there.

In closing this article I wish to say that Oregon has been my home for more than thirty-five years and that I have held positions of honor and trust at the hands of the people of different counties of this state, also of the state at large, and I think this is the most unscrupulous treatment ever shown me by any newspaper in the state.
