Daily Thought The greatest man is he who chooses right with invincible resolution, who resists secret temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burden cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under menace and frowns, whose reliance on the truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching.—Channing.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR HOTEL OREGON

By a deal closed last week, the Hotel Oregon changed hands, the building being leased for a period of five years by Messrs. C. P. Ross and E. A. Baker, who have also bought the entire furnishings. The former managers, E. C. Smith and Chas. Hall, left the latter part of the week for California, where they will remain during the winter.

HOOD RIVER DEFEATS THE DALLES 6 TO 2

The Hood River freshmen defeated The Dalles freshmen at The Dalles in one of the fastest games ever played at The Dalles. The first two quarters Hood River played The Dalles off their feet. In the last part of the first quarter The Dalles punted from the thirty yard line and lacked five yards from going over Hood River's goal line. Hood River signaled for a punt but was blocked and F. Coshow got the ball and was downed behind the line. In the first quarter Coshow received an injury and was removed in the second quarter. After the second quarter The Dalles were out playing Hood River to a finish. Once Hood River in the last quarter signaled for a punt and was received by Franz on Hood River's thirty yard line. Then Hood River signaled for a drop kick but instead Franz kicked an inside kick to Ingalls who recovered the ball for a touch down, then the goal was kicked, making the score 6 to 2 in favor of Hood River. This is the first time a Hood River team ever defeated The Dalles in football. The stars for the home team were Franz, Sherleb and Coshow.

BOX APPLES SAVE DAMAGE TO FLOOR

Last Wednesday afternoon the first floor in the old building of the Apple Growers' Union gave way by the buckling of a girder under it. There were enough boxes of apples piled up underneath the floor or serious damage might have resulted. The floor settled down upon them and remained in that place. Men in the building were frightened when the crash came, as they expected it was of a more serious nature. Only about thirty boxes of apples were bruised by the floor, of which about ten were a total loss, so the loss was small. The floor was immediately repaired.

The Election

Now that the city election is over we must abide by the result of that action, and the correct thing for everybody to do is to believe that everything is for the best and keep right on sawing wood.

There isn't a partical of use in sulking now and misusing your best friends just because YOUR candidates failed to win.

Your motives are undoubtedly pure and sincere, but you must remember that the other fellow has some privileges, too, and is entitled to your good will as a citizen and a neighbor. Life is too short to waste one-third of your time quarrelling over politics. A united effort for the good of all is the ideal government. To put it into an aphorism:

"He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind."

UPPER VALLEY HAS RAILROAD HEARING

The complaint of the Upper Hood River Valley Progressive Association against the Mount Hood Railroad was given a hearing before the State Railroad Commission Monday afternoon. The contention is for better passenger service for the upper valley. Owing to the lack of room at the Mount Hood depot the meeting was held at the Commercial Club rooms. Commissioners C. B. Aitchison and T. J. Miller were in attendance. John Gaylin, of The Dalles, appeared as counsel for the plaintiff and A. A. Jayne for the defendant. Witnesses for the plaintiff were C. I. Moody, secretary of the Upper Hood River Valley Progressive Association, O. M. Bailey, R. J. McNamee, G. W. Dimmick and John Goldsberry. B. Smith and Chas. T. Early, manager of the Mount Hood Railroad Co., were the witnesses called for the defendant.

The grievance was presented to the commission and at 3 o'clock the meeting was dismissed. The commission will render a recommendation in the near future.

ANOTHER SCALP FOR LOCAL GIANTS

In a slow and uninteresting game of football played on the new grounds west of the depot Sunday afternoon, the Hood River Giants defeated a picked-up team from the Heights to the tune of 16 to 0. The regulars "played horse" with the Heights team from start to finish, and about the only sensational feature of the game was the continuous smoking of some of the regular men during the game. The first quarter resulted in no score, but in the last three the regulars sent the ball over the forward pass route for three touchdowns, with two failures and one successful try at goal.

An effort is being made to arrange a game with The Dalles, but up to date the outcome has not been made known. The neighboring city boasts a strong aggregation, and a match between the two teams would be well worth seeing.

The improved apple box press patented by A. I. Mason was on exhibition at the State Horticultural Society exhibit at Portland last week. The press is one of the best we have seen and there will undoubtedly be a large demand for them when they are ready for the market.

CAPT. G. P. McCAN PURCHASES RACERS

Capt. G. P. McCAN's friends here have received word from the captain, who is spending several weeks in the east, that he has purchased some fancy racing horses for the race track which he contemplates at Hood River in the spring. Among the racers is the famous "Bondsman," for which he paid $11,000. This will be good news to sportsmen who are interested in a local turf. Not alone will Hood River be noted for fine horses, but the captain will also bring along with him, as a result of his eastern trip, a Farman Biplane flying machine. The captain is an enthusiastic sportsman in all healthful outdoor recreations, and already his ranch east of town is noted as the most attractive and interesting in the valley. We can only imagine what a beautiful place it will be in the near future.

James E. Montgomery, former acting editor of the Glacier, returned home Thursday from a three weeks' trip to Seattle and Salem, where he had been on business connected with the American Central Life Insurance Company, of which he is now a state agent. His return is hailed with enthusiasm by his many friends, who assure him the best of success in his new vocation.

LEAGUE PROMISES CLEAN ATHLETICS

Hood River citizens are promised some of the fastest and cleanest athletics ever seen here, by the mid-Columbia River League. This consists of teams representing the high schools of The Dalles, Goldendale, Stevenson, White Salmon and Hood River. Competition for the championship will be very keen, as each high school will endeavor to win the fine pennant offered to the victorious high school. Stacy, captain of the Hood River team, claims his men are in excellent shape. The boys hope to have a hearty support from every one, the support being needed to finance the expenses incurred.

Fifty new books, the latest and best that could be obtained, were added to the already large list of the local circulating library the first of the week. The list is now one of the largest and best of its kind in the state, and that the advantages offered through it are appreciated is evidenced by the fact that since it was established, about two months ago, the list of readers has reached the 200 mark.
