LOCAL MEN BUY BIG JOHN DAY RANCH

According to Portland advices Sheriff L. E. Morse and J. R. Numamaker have just purchased the big Spray ranch in Eastern Oregon for $50,000, several hundred acres of which will be set to pens. Messrs. Morse and Numamaker went to the property last week and made thorough inspection of it. It is reported that the property has been purchased by a syndicate of which Morse and Numamaker are members.

The Spray ranch is located on the John Day river at a point about 50 miles equidistant from Condon and Heppner, and the fact that the new owners have, after an exhaustive investigation, decided to plant 200 acres to pear trees is considered to add force to the claims of Eastern Oregon as the scene of diversified soil interests. There are 3000 acres in the ranch, all but 400 acres being bench land. Alfalfa will be grown on 200 acres and the remaining 2600 acres will be used for the establishment of a high class stock farm for the breeding of cattle, horses and hogs.

The Spray brothers located and acquired their property on the John Day many years ago, they being pioneers of that district. They have operated the property as headquarters for a sheep growing business which they are gradually closing out.

The new owners will build irrigation ditches for watering their fruit and alfalfa lands, and are planning an automobile road from Heppner through the John Day valley, ending at Condon.

S. W. Heppner left Tuesday for a several months' stay in Southern Oregon, where he will represent the Washington Nursery Company.

COUNTY COURT ALLOWS $1,349.50 FOR INJURIES

On account of injuries received by being thrown over the embankment near Ruthon several months ago, the county court has allowed Dr. Malcolm Bronson a claim for damages to the amount of $1,014.50. For some time it was feared that Dr. Bronson would be an invalid for life, and he is still in a delicate condition from the injuries he received.

Mrs. C. Dethman, who was badly hurt on the east side grade, was also allowed $335 due to injuries she sustained a few weeks ago.

WILL START NEW YEAR WITH DANCE AND SUPPER

A New Year dance will be held at Pine Grove Grange hall Monday, January 2nd. The dance is expected to be the most enjoyable of the season. Music will be furnished by Newman's full four-piece orchestra and supper will also be served. Everybody who dances is invited to be present.

Church Will Banquet

The Congregational church will hold its annual meeting in the Odd Fellows' hall Wednesday evening, Jan. 4th, after a banquet which will be served by the ladies of the church. Music and oratory will go with the feast and important issues now before the church for action will make this meeting one of great interest.

Mrs. Kellison, of Rawlins, Wyo., who has been the guest of the Misses Hawley for some time, left Tuesday morning for Southern California.

Arch Adams went to Seattle for Christmas, which he spent with friends in that city.

HOOD RIVER SPENDS CHRISTMAS QUIETLY

Notwithstanding the ideal weather Christmas at Hood River was one of the quietest in several years. Very few people were on the streets either Sunday or Monday, and with the exception of the churches, public places were deserted. At the hotels the life and bustle ordinarily so apparent was absent and arrivals and departures on the trails were few.

Many of the younger element went to Portland while others were invited to spend the holiday with friends in the valley. Residents of the city evidently remained quietly at home. The postoffice was the only place that showed much life, crowds gathering there during the noon hour each day when the delivery window was open for the dispensing of letters and Christmas packages.

The services at all the churches Sunday were well attended. At most of them special music was provided for the day, several of them having arranged elaborate musical programs. The Sunday school children were made additionally happy by the distribution of gifts which were accompanied by appropriate exercises.

The wind up of the holiday trade showed largely increased sales and business is reported by the merchants to have been satisfactory.

FORMAL OPENING HOTEL OREGON DINING ROOM

The formal opening of the dining room of the Hotel Oregon under the management of E. A. Baker and C. P. Ross, will be given Sunday evening, January 1st.

The new management has recently improved the culinary department and service of the dining room, and is taking this method of bringing it to the attention of the public. A musical program will be given and one of the most elaborate menus ever provided in the city will be served. It is expected that the event will be well patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Brock, of Portland, are here for the holidays as guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Brock, the former's parents.

At the Baptist church next Sunday morning the sermon subject will be, "Looking Backward and Looking Forward." In the evening Mr. Har-greaves will open a series of sermons on some simple questions of the every-day life. The first question will be, "What does it mean to become a Christian, and some of the simple duties involved." A cordial invitation is extended to the evening meditations.

Associates of Mrs. Eddy Will Direct Church

NEARLY every day brings out new developments and new stories in connection with the future of the Christian Science church. One day it is the statement that a New York woman is planning to become the head of the church; another day it is a statement by a man in Connecticut that he was duly selected by Mrs. Eddy as her successor many years ago; a third day brings the theory that each individual church will proceed along independent lines and without regard to the Boston contingent.

As a matter of fact, no one knows what the future holds for the tremendous organization that Mrs. Eddy built up, and its course will be watched with interest all over the world. At present the men who have been closest to Mrs. Eddy in recent years and who have been directing the policy of the church are still in charge.

LEADING CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS.

1. Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson, member of Mrs. Eddy's household. 2. Archibald McLellan, member of board of trustees. 3. Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's coachman and companion on all drives. 4. General H. M. Baker, cousin of Mrs. Eddy and executor of her will. 5. William R. Rathbone, member of the household.

and they declare that there will be no change—that matters will move along exactly as they have been doing.

There are legal troubles ahead for the board of directors, however, as the rules under which they work, and which were prepared, or at least suggested, by Mrs. Eddy, did not take into consideration the possibility of her death. For instance, one rule gives the board of trustees power to fill a vacancy in the board "after the candidate is approved by the pastor emeritus." Mrs. Eddy was the pastor emeritus, and since her death it is not possible to obtain her approval; hence it is claimed that the board of trustees must become extinct in time.

This phase of the matter will probably cause litigation regarding Mrs. Eddy's will, which practically leaves her estate to the Christian Science church. Should a flaw be found in the legal aspect of the will the courts will be called upon to divide her property among her surviving relatives. In all probability the courts will have to settle many of the knotty points involved, no matter whether or not Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover, makes an effort to break her will.
