PORTLAND SKI CLUB SLIDES ON MT. HOOD

A delegation from the Portland Ski Club returned Wednesday evening from Mt. Hood, where they spent several days skiing down the mountain side and in other outdoor enjoyments. The party was taken as near the Inn as possible by teams from the Fashion livery stable, and then proceeded on foot the rest of the distance. Ed Jorgensen, the leader of the party, said on its return:

"We enjoyed splendid weather and were able to go as high on the mountain as we ever did in the five years we have repeated this trip. Leaving Portland Saturday morning we reached Camp Rhododendron late that night and made the journey up the mountain to the ice line by Sunday noon. The weather was clear and fair on Sunday and Monday and we enjoyed skiing over the snow, which was from five to eight feet deep at various points. The air was keen and brisk and not very much wind was stirring, which helped make the outing the most pleasant of any of the annual events I have attended."

"Old Man Youkum, custodian of Cloud Cap Inn, treated us royally, and we were made to feel at home all the time. Each day we climbed the mountain side and sailed down on our skis. It is the most exhilarating sport I know of, and all of us heartily enjoyed the outing."

"We left the mountain early Wednesday morning and the return trip to Portland consumed that entire day, which was the hardest part of the journey. When the Mt. Hood Railway is completed, this excursion can be made without any inconvenience whatever."

Thomas Monks, Oliver Jeffery, Ed Jeffery, Joe Cronin and Ralph Knight, the other Ski Club members who made the trip, voiced the same sentiments.

Stevenson Jubilant

A surprise struck the city when we struck Hood River with a score of 32 to 13. We will strike them still harder at Hood River on February 10th. If you want to do justice to the pennant we have captured just help us when we make our next trip to their heart broken city. There will be no game here Friday because too many victories so close together will be monotonous.—Stevenson Pioneer.

FRA ELBERTUS SAYS OUR APPLES BEST

Elbert Hubbard, who is coming to Hood River on the 20th of this month to deliver his lecture, "The March of the Centuries," has already surrendered to the charms of this valley and its fruit, according to a letter which was received yesterday from Allee Hubbard, his wife.

The letter from the Roycroft Shop in East Aurora said: "I am sure that Mr. Hubbard will receive great delight from his visit here. He knows that your apples are the best in the world and that you have a country unparalleled."

Fra Elbertus, philosopher and author, believes without seeing that Hood River is a wonderful place and he will come here and leave with a strengthened faith. The valley and its people should greatly profit by the visit of Mr. Hubbard as his lecture will be the most important literary opportunity ever offered in Hood River. The lecture which he will give here is one of his best expressions, and while it will be of a philosophical nature it will be given in his familiar heart to heart style which have made the "Philistine" and "Fra" so popular.

SNOWSHOE CLUB TAKES ANNUAL MIDWINTER OUTING

The Portland Snowshoe club arrived here Thursday night for its annual outing on Mount Hood. The members occupied their new club house which was built last summer for the first time and spent several days climbing about the mountain. They returned to Hood River last night. In the party were J. Wesley Ladd, Jordan Zare, R. L. Gilsan, H. L. Corbett, David Honeyman, E. C. Bronaugh, Horace Mecklin, W. B. Honeyman, Herbert G. Nichols and a colored cook. The trip is stated by some of the members to have been the most enjoyable the club has ever taken, the weather having been ideal. The snow on the mountain is reported as not being so deep as in former years, but plentiful enough to suit the most enthusiastic snow-reveller.

For Rent—Eight room house, partly furnished, free spring water, electric lights, special rate to good party for the winter. J. F. Batchelder, 'phone 56.
