SAM CAMPBELL GIVES SPICY INTERVIEW

Samuel G. Campbell, one of the managers of the Hood River Apple Growers' Union, and an apple grower, was a visitor in New York this week. He expresses himself as well satisfied with the results of the apple deal this season. He said, while the crop was excellent, there were more large-sized apples than expected. Mr. Campbell says the acreage in apples in the Hood River Valley is increasing continuously, but he has no fear of over-production. He says there are still at least 10,000 acres in the Hood River Valley fit for orchards, which will soon be used for the purpose.

"One of the great draws back to the apple game in the Hood River Valley," says Mr. Campbell, "is the independent shipper, whose fruit comes in competition with that of original f. o. b. purchasers. My private opinion is that after this year this will not be so much in evidence, as the poor results on consigned shipments by independents to some New York concerns will drive these independents into the Union, where their interests will be better regarded, and where they naturally belong. The Union now has about 300 members and controls practically 90 per cent of the output of the Valley. It will probably control more next season. The Union has had a great deal to contend with, especially in the last three seasons, owing to the jealousy of one New York concern, which seems to think it has a mortgage on the entire Valley, and whose slogan has been rule or ruin. It looks now as if they had ruined themselves. This concern has been consistently knocking the Union, and has done everything in its power to cast discredit on the Union and the entire Hood River Valley."—Produce News.

LIFE'S COURSE CHANGED BY HOOD RIVER APPLE

The following is an excerpt from a letter received last week by Rev. J. H. Hargreaves:

"I am taking the liberty of writing to you for a little disinterested information in regard to the fruit raising business for which your valley is so famous. I came west to go into apple raising in British Columbia but we have eaten the fruit and have no desire to raise the quality of apples that are grown there. I have eaten the apples of Hood River in Boston at a dollar a dozen and I care for nothing below the standard which they have set. We have decided to come to Hood River.

American Fruit in Norway

United States Council Johnson, writing to the Department of Commerce and Labor, says:

"During my residence in Europe it often occurred to me that American fruiters could develop large markets in that part of the world if proper steps were taken toward that end.

"Norway where little or no fruit is grown, would be a country where a splendid market could be secured for our fruits. Apples retail there at 11 cents, pears 15 cents and peaches 20 cents per pound, every grocer carrying a line of fruit as well as the regular fruit dealers. The only American fruit imported into Norway is apples, which are purchased mostly through English commission houses. The Norwegian market is only one of the many which holds out bright prospects for American fruit. In England the prices paid for fruit are still high, and with the many lines of steamers crossing the Atlantic there is no reason why special vessels cannot be chartered to carry American fruit to England as such vessels are now employed in carrying bananas thereto—it is only recently that a banana trade has been built up in England—from the West Indies and Central America.

Nursery Stock

Fred L. Post, of Chelan, according to the Wenatchee Republic, is a firm believer in pedigree apple trees. In discussing the subject he says:

"We have been familiar with pedigree live stock all our lives. We have recognized a great natural law that 'like begets like'.

"We have seen two calves of the same breed side by side. One is sold for $5 and it is all it is worth.

"The other is sold for $500 and it is well worth it. This natural law is just as absolute in the vegetable as the animal kingdom. It has been recognized and acted upon in nearly every branch of horticulture except tree growing, the most important of all, where it has until lately attracted but little notice. Pedigree trees, is simply applying this law in its fullness. We not only seek to propagate from a certain variety of trees, but from the very choicest tree possible of that variety.

There is just as much difference in the quality of different apple trees of the same variety as in the quality of different horses, cattle or pigs of the same breed. These qualities extend to their progeny. How careful then ought we to be in selecting the trees from which we cut the scions.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh, being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. EASTERN MARKET CONTINUES STEADY

New York, Feb. 10—Barreled apples continue steady at about the same prices as last week.

Considering the light supply of boxed apples it looks as if prices should advance, but they have not. This fruit continues dull and dealers have found it impossible to advance the price. The slightly better feeling of two weeks ago seems to have disappeared. Receipts at the pier are only only two or three cars daily and offerings from the local warehouses are not heavy, but the demand is tame and dealers find it impossible to get more than $2.25 for the finest varieties and qualities except in a limited way. Staymen Winesaps, Spitz, the best Rome Beauties, Missouri Pippins and Newtown Pippins sell at $2.25 outside, while Ganos do not go over $2 and Ben Davis $1.50 @ 1.80. No regular Winesaps are offered. On Monday a car of California Newtons sold at auction at $1.80 @ $1.70, four tier. As heretofore most of the offerings on the pier consist of fruit in weak condition. Such stocks worth $1.50 @ 1.90.

The English markets are easier, consequently this week's exports have fallen off.

Stevenson Claims Game

Our basket ball team returned from Hood River with the victory gone. On account of floor disadvantages the H. R. H. S. boys won the game with a score of 19 to 18. At first there was some doubt as to whether the score was a tie or not and finally the Hood River score keeper agreed to take the game. Our boys outlasted their opponents in every respect, even in wrestling, so blame the floor, not us.—Stevenson Pioneer.

SOME young chaps claim it's easy to find smart clothes. Other chaps claim it's very difficult. It's not so hard.

If you were in the clothing business, you'd know it's not so hard nor yet so easy.

It's simple enough for us to find good, ordinary styles--styles that cannot be criticised.

But, it is often hard to locate styles which have the keenness, the excellence of fabric and the exceptional tailoring that the most particular chaps want in their clothes.

We had a hard time finding them, but we've made it easy for you to find them.

You'll like them.

No, they're not high priced. Just high enough to insure perfect satisfaction—$15.00, $17.50 and $20.00.
