HEARD FIRST SERMON IN FIFTEEN YEARS

One man in town who, it is said, had not heard a sermon for fifteen years, enjoyed the services at the Congregational church Sunday morning with a couple of companions almost equally hard of hearing. The event came about through the installation of an "Acousticon"—an electrical device which, it is said, is used successfully in 10,000 churches for those who cannot hear. The apparatus consists of a transmitter on the pulpit, which gathers the sound and carries it by wire to the pew, where a receiver is held to the ear and gives forth the sound multiplied many times by a strong battery. Accommodations for four persons have been provided and the apparatus will be given a thorough test the next three Sundays. If it is considered a success, it will probably be permanently installed. Anyone who would like to try it is cordially invited to do so.

MARRIED

BERRYMAN-NICKELSEN
"Happy is the bride the sun shines on." If there is anything in omens surely it was an auspicious moment when the bridal party of Josephine Nickelsen, who was wedded Wednesday at 11 a. m. to N. H. Berryman, arrived at the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church at The Dalles. Just as the bell was pealing its welcome the sun broke forth and shone gloriously during the entire ceremony.

The bridal party approached the altar to the strains of the bridal chorus in Lohengrin, rendered by Prof. Wm. Birgfeld. The ushers, Martin and Theodore Nickelsen, brothers of the bride, were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Nickelsen of Hood River and Mrs. T. Paulsen of The Dalles, dressed in cream colored gowns and carried pink speet pens. The matron of honor, Mrs. Ernest Cramer, was gowned in cream color and carried pink carnations. Mrs. Cramer was followed by the little ring bearers, Josine Grubb and Geneva Schoren, who wore frocks of white and carried calla lilies. Last came the bride escorted by her oldest brother, Carl Nickelsen, who gave her away. The bride was beautifully gowned in white point d'esprit over silk mull, with veil, and carried white carnations. The bridal party was met at the chancel by the groom, Neil H. Berryman, who was attended by his brother, H. S. Berryman, preceded by the officiating clergyman, Rev. M. E. Boulton.

During the marriage service music was softly played. The double ring ceremony was used and the bridal couple knelt for the benediction. The ceremony was attended by nearly three hundred relatives and friends of the contracting parties and the bridal party retired to the stratos of Mendelssohn's wedding march. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Wyse, immediately after the wedding, at which only relatives and most intimate friends were present. The young couple received many beautiful and costly gifts.

The bride grew to womanhood in The Dalles and is beloved by all who know her. While the groom has only resided in the city for a year he has gained the respect and good wishes of all.

The bride has many friends in Hood River who wish her much happiness during her wedded life. H.

EASTMAN EBY
A pretty home wedding took place Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eby in the Belmont district, when their daughter Elizabeth was married to Roy Eastman.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. J. Wood, pastor of the Belmont M. E. church, and took place in the presence of about forty intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

The bridesmaid was Miss Nina Noble and the best man was Marsh Isenberg. As the bride and groom approached the minister a wedding march was played by Miss Lena Isenberg. The service was with a ring.

After a wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Eastman were driven to this city where they took the train for Portland for a short wedding trip.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Eastman are well known and popular in the Belmont district and have the best wishes of many friends for a long and happy life. Mr. Eastman is employed in the Belmont yard of the Stanley-Smith Lumber Company and his wife has been teaching school.

GILLAM JACKSON
Dewitt P. Gilliam and Miss Alberta Jackson were quietly married Sunday afternoon at the parsonage of the Congregational church by Rev. F. A. Harris.

Mr. Gilliam is a resident of the Barrett district, where he owns a fruit farm, and formerly lived in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Gilliam is the daughter of D. G. Jackson and is well known and highly esteemed here, where she has grown to womanhood. As Alberta Jackson, Mrs. Gilliam showed such marked ability as a vocalist that she spent a year in Boston studying at the conservatory of music. She returned to Hood River last fall and has since been heard here frequently with pleasure.

GOVERNOR VETOES GOOD ROADS BILLS

Governor West, who is going on record apparently as Oregon's veto governor, and who has already vetoed 72 measures, has disapproved of the good roads bills.

All four of the roads bills fell under the governor's tabo, one after the other. In explaining his veto of the State Highway Commission bill he explains them all, referring in short messages to his veto for the Highway Commission bill in discussing the other measures. In killing the commission bill the governor says:

"The bills were not passed until the closing days of the session and in the hurried scramble for legislation at that time the whole subject was involved in apparently inextricable confusion. Question is raised by friends of the good roads movement as to the constitutionality of some of the provisions of this bill and as to the wisdom and practicability of others.

"Under all the circumstances, I am convinced that the best interests of the state require that this subject and the laws necessary for economical and effective operation under this section of the constitution should have further and much more deliberate consideration by the people, and especially by the legislative assembly."

MEETING MAKES PLANS FOR PUBLIC LIBRARY

Last Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. W. M. Stewart, an important meeting was held which will be of interest to all who desire a Public Library in Hood River. A committee of representative citizens convened, appointed by the Woman's Club, who formed plans for immediate action in making the preliminary inquiries as to the establishment of a library as soon as possible.

Communications were read from the secretary of the State Library Commission, who stands ready to assist. Many citizens can encourage this movement by suggestions of any kind, his assistance is solicited by Mrs. Stewart, chairman of the committee.

MIDDLE VALLEY RESIDENTS FORM ESPERANTO CLUB

Esperanto is soon to be the language of the Middle Valley, if we are correctly informed, an Esperanto Club having been organized there last week. The meeting to organize the club was attended by fourteen residents of the Middle Valley section and was held at the home of J. R. Steele. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. M. H. Craft; vice president, Jake Lentz; secretary, Walter Stanley; treasurer, Miss Hillstrom. Literature has been ordered and the study of the new language will be taken up at once. This is said to be the first movement to study Esperanto in the valley.

City Needed the Money

H. Irua, H. Kato, T. Katano, W. Satka and T. Kuga, arrested early Wednesday morning by Marshal Lewis, for gambling, were given a hearing before Recorder Langille Thursday afternoon and declared guilty. Kuga, who is the proprietor of the pool room where the card game was in progress, was fined $25 and the others $5 apiece. The Japs claimed they were not gambling, but just indulging in a friendly game and were allowed to plead to the charge of disturbing the peace and keeping a pool hall open after hours.

Reception to Valentine Villagers.

A very enjoyable reception was given Monday evening by Rev. and Mrs. E. Simpson at the Commercial Club rooms to those who took part in the Valentine Village Fete. The guests were asked to come in coats tunes worn at the fete and a large number were present. During the evening an impromptu program was given and the guests had an enjoyable dance to music furnished by several of the party. Refreshments were served.
