The Apple Growers' Union

The paramount interest to Hood River's local fruit raising citizens will center this week in the annual meeting of the Apple Growers' Union, which will be held Saturday. In many respects this is the most important event in the year's cycle of local happenings, although it has frequently been necessary to scour the country in order to get a quorum to transact the year's business. This will probably not be the case this year, but growers should remember that if they have objections to raise or suggestions to offer the annual meeting is the time and place to air them. If it is desired to adopt a new policy in the management of the union let the stockholders come to a decision at the meeting, and not on the street corners afterward.

That there is dissatisfaction with the management of the union's affairs this year is no secret. Whether it is justified will be best decided when the management makes its financial statement. However, the stockholders are the ones best qualified to judge on this point and it is for them to inaugurate ways and means for new departures.

There is a cardinal point that should be borne in mind—that no matter how much contention may arise over the management of the organization, it should be loyally supported among the members at large. An opinion seems to prevail among a few that influences are at work to disorganize the union. This opinion we believe to be without foundation, and nobody who is interested in the welfare of the community will entertain such an opinion. The strong organization which has been maintained by the growers of Hood River has been its greatest asset, and will continue to be with proper management. It should be remembered that the primary business of the union is marketing fruit to the best advantage for all its members; that it is for the purpose of maintaining quality and pack; and that to the stockholders the conduct of its affairs should be an open book. A policy that seeks to play politics in the control of its affairs; that seeks to put it into competition in lines of trade; or attempts an unwarranted monopoly in fruit handling will not in the main be successful.

The marketing of the apple crop has reached that stage where its management is a subject of deep consideration. The matter of salary where the desired result can be accomplished is of secondary importance. The main point is a healthy organization supported by its members in face of petty differences. If the management is at fault it should give way to a better one, and if it isn't it should be upheld. Men who have to be kept in positions of control in order to retain them in the ranks of the organization can as well be eliminated first as last. The time has come for a broadening of the work of the union and those who are for its best interests will work to this end, regardless of personal preference.

Electric Railway Enterprise
Subscriptions totaling $100,000 were raised in Chehalis last week to bond the Chehalis & Cowlitz Railway Company. Despairing of getting an outside company to improve their transportation facilities the people of Chehalis are going to build their own outlet. Similar propositions are going forward in other parts of the Northwest. Several Oregon communities expect to provide from their own purses what the big financial interests say cannot be furnished from Wall street. Delegates from all parts of Chehalis, Okanogan and Douglas counties will assemble in Wenatchee soon to consider what steps can be taken to get a road built up the Columbia river to tap that rich section, and the people of Methow Valley are already at work on their own electric line.

An electric railway at Hood River, constructed and equipped by local capital is far from impossible and its execution is not too remote to have consideration of it called to the attention of the community. To insure the best success of the undertaking, whether financed by home capital or otherwise, it will be desirable for local capitalists to have an interest in it.

When the time arrives to grant a franchise for this purpose it should be the duty of residents of both valley and city to see that it is not juggled with, and to get a contract in exchange for this valuable right that will inure to the benefit of the people as well as the company. The franchise should not be given away, no matter who gets it, without assurances of the completion of the work and the maintenance of an efficient service.

NORTHWEST NOTES

Cove, the beautiful and thrifty fruit growing city of the Grande Ronde Valley, has taken steps to organize a commercial club. One of the first projects in view is the holding of a cherry fair the first week in July.

North Plains is one of Oregon's newest towns and one of the first things it did was to organize a commercial club and line up with the progressive spirit now so noticeable throughout the state. Portland Commercial Club officials, railroad men and others made an excursion to North Plains during the week and attended the "christening" of the new town.

Oregon postmasters will hold the annual convention in Portland June 7, 8 and 9. Selection of the place of meeting and the dates were made during the past week. Postmasters of California, Washington and Idaho will be invited. Matters for the betterment of the service will be discussed and many suggestions made that will very likely be adopted by the department.

Business men who exclude men from their places for wearing the uniform of the United States army, navy and marine corps, will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of $50 hereafter. This is a new federal law for which officers in the government service have been working for some time. Only recently several sailors were barred from a skating rink in Seattle. Despite vigorous protests nothing could be done. Now, Uncle Sam will protect the men wearing his uniform.

Instead of the usual foolishness that attends April 1st, one Oregon town will accomplish something useful. Gaston, under the direction of the women's auxiliary of the commercial club, will clean house that day. Everybody will help, and it will be known as the clean-up day.

Oregon's Naval Militia will get the cruiser Boston for use in training the members in the ways of the navy. The vessel will be available May 15 and will be stationed at Portland. Cruises will be made to sea and to coast points to give the membership practical instruction in handling a fighting ship. The reserve is an active organization that promises to become more important as time passes.

Oregon is getting its full share of the colonists who are crowding the westbound trains. A telegram from Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern, to Manager Chapman of the Commercial Club bore the information that over one-third of the passengers on the Oriental Limited one day out of the Twin Cities were bound for Oregon. This ratio is probably true of practically all of the colonist trains coming to the Northwest.

As soon as weather conditions permit the Great Northern will resume work on the million dollars' worth of snow sheds it is building in the Cascade mountains. Some 1,500 feet of sheds were finished last fall, in the vicinity of Wellington, where the fatal disaster happened a year ago. This season the snow did not inconvenience the operating department of the road, to speak of. Although some snow fell it went off in such a way as not to disturb schedules. The roadway will also be made secure against premature thaws.
