A COMPARISON FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION

Analysis of four commercial brands of lime-sulphur spray by the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Oregon, Season 1910-11:

	TOTAL LIME	TOTAL SULPHUR
Sample No. 1.....	10.73	26.63
Sample No. 2.....	11.94	30.03
Sample No. 3.....	12.00	29.21
Sample No. 4.....	12.12	23.98
Sample No. 5.....	19.65	31.44

A comparison of the above analysis plainly shows that NIAGARA Brand carries much more lime and sulphur in solution than any of the rest, and this is decidedly the case when comparing the Beaume tests of the several samples. NIAGARA at 31 is far superior to all the others, several of which run as high as 32 and 33 Beaume test.

Bear in mind that we use neither salt nor caustic soda to raise our Beaume test.

LOCAL GLEANINGS

WHITE SALMON

(From the Enterprise)
Thousands of logs have been coming down the White Salmon the past week, the Wind River Lumber Co. having broken their roll ways on the upper waters to take advantage of the rising stream.

C. R. Grieson of Hood River was in town Tuesday. He says that several of the Hood River people favor the Greater Hood River idea. It's one of the biggest things that could happen to this section.

George Jennings made the first trip of the season to Trout Lake Monday, his machine making the thirty miles in two hours and ten minutes. Martin Thode, who had been to Golden-dale, and Paul H. Hamel and wife of Portland were passengers.

Rev. Hargreaves, of the Baptist church of Hood River, will exchange pulpits with Rev. Tate, of White Salmon Congregational church next Sunday. Rev. Tate says the Hood River Baptist is a strong preacher and preachers never lie.

F. M. Forbes, wife and two sons, arrived from Portland Wednesday to go out on their ranch in the Major Creek district. They came from Kansas last fall. They brought their household goods but could not get a team in this place nor in Hood River to take them out, everything being busy.

By taking an option on 40 acres of choice land at $6,000, John T. Moore, chief of detectives of Portland, has indicated that he may soon quit chasing criminals and pursue fruit culture. The land is on the Underwood side of the White Salmon river and was purchased through the Consolidated Realty Co. of this place.

J. Wassell says that while he was in charge of the power plant at Hunsun, something happened that gave him one of the worst scares of his life. A stranger who had been idling around the plant, picked up a piece of steel wire and undertook to have some fun with the plant by throwing it over two parallel live wires, thereby short-circuiting the system. Before the funmaker let go he received a shock which knocked him over and paralyzed his arm and side for some time.

Captain Cook returned to White Salmon Sunday night. He spent the winter in San Diego and northern Mexico and is feeling in the best of health. He returns to San Francisco in about a week to build additions to his three and four-story buildings. He joined parties of Americans into Mexico to see bull fights and insurrections. He says that if it were not for American capitalists on one hand and American anarchists and socialists on the other there would be no rebellion.
