NEMO CORSETS

A NEW LINE of these celebrated Nemo Corsets just in. We carry a full line in all sizes. No. 321, for tall and medium stout figures, high bust, very long hip; broad bands of Lastikops webbing firmly hold in the hips and upper limbs, yet are elastic enough to give perfect ease when seated. Nemo self-reducing devices reduce and support the abdomen. White coutil, sizes 19 to 36, $3.50

ANOTHER novelty of the greatest value—Nos. 406 and 408. Broad bands of Lastikops Webbing reshape and reduce the flesh of the upper limbs, producing a perfectly smooth effect. Especially appreciated by women who don't want the fat to bulge below the corset edge. An absolutely new effect. $4.00 No. 406, low bust; No. 408, high bust.

THE PARIS FAIR, The Store That Saves You Money

LIVE NEWS FROM THE UPPER VALLEY

A story was circulated, but without any foundation in fact that Mr. Gunn was arrested for being loaded, was taken before the county judge and discharged. The report in the News the next day branded it as a mere fabrication.

Work is being delayed upon the horse sheds which have been in course of erection the past winter owing to the architect's delay in furnishing the detail drawings promptly. These sheds are a reproduction of those at the famous race track at Epsom, Salts, England, and are being erected under the personal supervision of Mr. Mason.

By damming and other methods, Chester Walton has greatly enlarged the swimming pool in Trout creek, and arrangements by the entertainment committee are well under way for a series of aquatic sports the coming summer. There are quite a few who will give exhibitions of remaining under water while the hat is being passed for the new horse sheds.

The report that Samuel Beard, of this place, was dead is false. He wishes to deny the allegation, and announces that he is very much alive. The report found credence from the fact that upon Johnny Cooper's recent visit to Hood River he happened into one of the tonorial parlors and there hanging upon the wall was a sign which read, "Whiskers Dyed."

Mr. Bagley, who has conducted a meat and provision store for the past year, has retired from business and will hereafter confine his energy to furthering the interests of the Republican party. He turned down a tempting offer of the Oregon Lumber Company for his services, and is out for the nomination of county judge next fall. Mr. Tweives, his competitor for the same nomination, says he has it cinched, as he wasn't all winter "pulling wires" for nothing.

Master Laurin Cooper can give some of the anglers a few pointers on angling trout. Last Saturday he caught thirteen in about half an hour, none of which weighed less than three pounds, and as he is a regular attendant at Sunday school and has read the life of George Washington, his veracity cannot be impeached. He says he can fish them out as fast as the committee of the Progressive Association, who are stocking the streams, can deposit them.

MOSIER

Mr. and Mrs. Craton went to Hood River Sunday to visit relatives.

Mrs. W. A. Stark came up Sunday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Akers.

J. M. Carroll is able to be down town again, after a serious illness with appendicitis.

Mrs. Wheeler, of The Dalles, preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Agnes Phillips and sister, Irma, came up from Portland Tuesday evening to spend the summer with their father.

A force of men has been busy unloading poles to be used on the electric line that is to be put in between The Dalles and Hood River.

J. T. Davenport went to Hood River Saturday to be present at the wedding anniversary of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Kemp.

Mr. and Mrs. Berryman, of The Dalles, were down the latter part of the week trying to revive the Artisan lodge. A meeting was held Saturday evening to make further arrangements.

The Hotel Pine has changed proprietors, Mrs. McDonald, of Spokane, having rented the dining room and kitchen. Mr. Welberg and family have moved into their tent and will take charge of the rooms.

Mrs. Gove entertained her pupils and ex-graduates Thursday evening, at her home. After several contest games, all joined in having a good time. Refreshments were served, after which all departed for their homes.

Arbor Day was a busy day with the school children, and the way they rolled rocks, raked rubbish and cleaned up was amazing. Then several flower beds were made and filled with seeds and plants. At 2 p. m., at the tap of the bell, all assembled in Miss Booth's room to listen to a program by the little folks, which consisted of songs, recitations and dialogues. Quite a number of visitors were present, and all enjoyed the day's exercises.

WHITE SALMON

(From the Enterprise)

Spitzenburg trees for planting are at a premium, that is, trees that are known to be good. There has been such a big demand for them that none can be had at Hood River, except from speculators at fancy prices. While many Spitz have been planted on this side this spring, about 70 per cent of the apple trees have been Newtowns.

M. Witte, of Lyle, was in White Salmon one day last week. He has begun a suit against the North Bank

DR. BROSIUS ORDERED TO MEXICAN BORDER

Dr. F. C. Brosius of Hood River has received orders from government headquarters to report for duty at once with the United States Army on the Mexican border.

The doctor holds the rank of major in the medical corps and will report to Gen. Bliss at San Diego. Dr. Brosius served 16 months in the Philippines and will leave Saturday for the field of duty.

road for damages, his story being that that he had a round trip ticket from White Salmon to Portland, but the conductor held that it was not his ticket and put him off in the vicinity of Underwood. Mr. Witte went to The Dalles, and has had a lawyer of that city bring suit.

Dick Hutchins, 12 years old, is the big hen man of this place. The record of his twelve pullets for the month of March is 229 eggs, or 19 eggs per pullet. This beats Harry Caden's record at Klamath Falls, where his fifteen hens laid an average of 17 eggs per hen; also the Tarrytown, N. Y., man, who won $5,000 because his sixty hens laid 1,000 eggs in February, or 17 eggs per hen.

Captain Cook, who recently returned from northwestern Mexico, just below San Diego, is interested in Mexico to the extent of 5,000 acres. He bought at $5 per acre, but the ink was hardly dry on the papers before he was offered double that, and could now sell it for much more. He is having a lemon grove set out on part of it. With this property, buildings in Frisco, and White Salmon holdings, the Captain is in no danger of having to go around to back doors for hand outs.

Hood River and Portland Commercial Clubs are working for an automobile road between the two places. It is a fine idea. If Glenwood gets busy and opens up an auto road, connecting the White Salmon road with the road to North Yakima, one of the finest auto roads in the United States, so far as scenery is concerned, will be from North Yakima, through Glenwood, down the White Salmon valley, through the town, crossing the Columbia by ferry to Hood River, and then to Portland. Why not?

Underwood Society Notes

Dean Ballard, of Hood River, spent the week end at Underwood as the guest of Harry Steckney and sister, Miss Molly Steckney, at their ranch home, The Highlands. Others who enjoyed the house-party were Miss Florence Holmes, Miss Hazel Holmes, Roy Meliggs, Bob Luthausen and Frank Hoag.

The Woman's Club of Nobility Hill, Underwood, met last Thursday with Miss Molly Steckney at The Highlands for an informal musicale. The rooms were attractive in Oregon grape, ferns and spring flowers. Those who attended were Mrs. Hugh Hamlin, Mrs. H. M. Greiner, Mrs. G. W. Detwiller, Mrs. G. E. Griffith, Mrs. E. M. Cummins, Mrs. E. J. Cummins, Mrs. C. W. Vinton, Mrs. Henry Hussey, Mrs. P. J. Packard, Mrs. Bert Adams, Mrs. S. E. Clarke, Mrs. W. J. Cash, the Misses Florence Holmes, Hazel Holmes and Fannie Haynes.

Ragged wounds are painful and cause much annoyance. If not kept clean they fester and become running sores. Ballard's Snow Lintment is an antiseptic, healing remedy for such cases. Apply it at night before going to bed and cover with a cotton cloth bandage. It heals in a few days. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Chas. N. Clarke.

Congregational Church Services

The service at the Congregational church next Sunday morning will be in commemoration of the three-hundredth anniversary of the translation of the Bible, in keeping with the observation of the churches throughout the world on that day.

In the evening Pastor Harris will close the series of Pictures of Womanhood, the theme being "Two Sisters in Modern Society." It will be especially addressed to those who are or hope to be leaders in society.
