Madame Carroll, of Portland, was the guest, Sunday, of her son, Phillip Carroll, at his country home.

Mrs. D. B. Rees, of Centralia, Wash., was the guest of her sister, Miss Ida Chaney, of the News office, over Sunday.

The High School graduates who will number 13 this year were given a reception in Odd Fellows Hall Saturday evening, April 29th, by the Juniors. School will close this year Wednesday, May 17th.

Dr. French, educational director, of the Portland Y. M. C. A., made a short stop at Hood River, Saturday on his way to Mosier to examine the big tract of land owned there by Devlin & Firebaugh.

Harry Weber, of The Dalles, was here Thursday. Mr. Weber is preparing for the fruit shipping season at The Dalles where he has handled a large percentage of the cherries and peaches in that district.

M. M. Hill, who had been in Portland for some time undergoing an operation, returned to his home here Wednesday. Mr. Hill has fully recovered from the trouble which was an affection of the ear.

The name of the Hood River Light and Power Co. was changed to the Pacific Power & Light Co., Friday, when the same order went into effect with all the holdings of the company along the Columbia river.

The White Salmon Enterprise remarks: Lyle is advertised as the town opposite Hood River. It is good to be so famous that a distance of twenty to thirty miles up and down the river is "opposite Hood River."

J. F. Gibson, of Pittsburg, Pa., a brother of Prof. L. B. Gibson, formerly principal of the High School, is here again after having made a visit in surrounding cities. Mr. Gibson says he prefers Hood River to any place he has seen in the west.

Frank Carlisle, of Lake Benton, Minn., residing temporarily in Portland, spent several days here last week looking for an investment in land. Mr. Carlisle is an acquaintance of C. P. Sonnichsen of the News, and was much impressed with Hood River.

Chris Grelsen, of Better Fruit left Sunday morning for the most extensive trip that he has ever taken as the representative of this publication. He expects to be away two months and will visit 53 large cities during his journey, which will extend to the Atlantic coast and back covering different routes coming and going.

David Eccles, of Ogden, Utah, arrived here Saturday and visited Dee and Parkdale by special train. From Parkdale, the Upper Valley was covered by automobile. Mr. Eccles, who had never before been over the Upper Valley, was very favorably impressed with the present and prospective development. He was accompanied by W. H. and D. C. Eccles and Chas. T. Early.

E. A. Baker, of the Hotel Oregon, who has been confined to his room with an injured leg for several weeks, is again able to be about, and attend the regular meetings of the Bench Committee held at Vogt's store. During Mr. Baker's absence Burnette Duncan has been serving as chairman of the committee and has reversed several of the former's rulings. Mr. Baker will now thoroughly reorganize the committee and resume his former despotic sway.

Chas. Hall and Burnette Duncan returned Friday from a two days' trip in the Camas Prairie country.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wallace and Mrs. Johnson were week end visitors in Portland as the guests of friends in that city.
