COUNCIL ORDERS STREET PAVING

Supported by the other members of the council, Councilman Brosius took the street paving bill by the horns at the weekly meeting of the city solons Monday night, and placed the machinery in motion to have the rest of the streets in the fire limits paved.

In the motion Councilman Brosius put before the council he specified that the streets be paved with concrete the same as that on First street. The streets included in the ordinance, which was ordered prepared by the Judiciary Committee, are Oak from Front to Fifth; Cascade from First to Fifth; Second from depot to State; Third and Fourth from Columbia to State. The order met with the unanimous approval of the council and ordinances will be presented at the next meeting.

An ordinance was also passed to oil 12th street from Mays street to the city limits.

Other important action was taken by the council in regard to opening First street from the railroad track to the Columbia river. In answer to a widely signed petition City Engineer Morse was instructed by the council to survey out the street and present a plat for acceptance at the next meeting. The opening of the street will insure a high water landing to the city at all times. As it now stands there is no approach to the landing except over private property.

On the recommendation of the Finance Committee the salary of Henry Hickox, the night watchman, was raised to $70 per month commencing June 1st. An application from Leroy Armstrong for the improvement of 13th and Adams streets was reported back by the street committee with the recommendation that the work be done as soon as the city is in position to do it. Application for a light at State and 13th was referred to the fire and water committee.

Councilman Brosius spoke on the disposal of garbage stating that if it could not be disposed of in any other way that it be burned by a system of incinerators such as are now in use in the large camps of the U. S. army.

An ordinance providing for a sewer in the Columbia street district passed the first reading and several other ordinances relating to street work were also disposed of. The City Recorder was instructed to communicate with Ulen & Co., to whom the water bonds were awarded and have them inform the council as to their acceptance or rejection of the bonds by May 27th.

At the request of Councilman Wright the resignation of Councilman H. C. Smith was accepted. The name of J. E. Robertson was then offered as a candidate to fill the vacancy and Mr. Robertson was unanimously elected.

The ordinance providing for the collection of license fees for hauling was discussed. Recorder Langille stating that transfer men were claiming that a new law exempted them. According to the interpretation of the law made by Mayor Hartwig the licenses will be collected.

The Hatcher suit with the city over the roadway along the former's property was brought up. Attorney

Derby stated that he had been ready to try the case for several months, and was awaiting the action of A. A. Jayne, the Hatcher's attorney, to bring it to trial, which he now expects would be in a few days.

PAVING AND GRADING GREATEST IN ITS HISTORY

Hood River, says the Portland Telegram, is doing a greater amount of street improvement work than ever in its history. Many blocks are being graded and concrete sidewalks laid. The endeavor of the city authorities is receiving the co-operation of property owners, who in some instances, because of their eagerness to see the work under way, have secured permits similar to those in the case of building construction, and have had the work conducted privately.

As an example of this, abutting property owners have had First street paved with concrete. This work is nearing completion. The owners along Third street have also let the contract for the grading of that street.

In order that this thoroughfare, which is mainly traveled during strawberry season, may be ready for use by the berry farmers, the contract calls for completion in seven days.

HIGH WATER EXPECTED AT HOOD RIVER JUNE 1

The Columbia is rising rapidly at The Dalles and Friday stood at 21.8 feet above low water mark. Rockland Ferry to the Washington side of the river now makes its landing in the mouth of Mill Creek at The Dalles and the Open River wharfboat, which in the ordinary stage of water is tied to the dolphins at the foot of Washington street, has been forced to move up several rods along the Portage road bulkhead to be able to unload freight.

When the Portage road was built provision was made for high water by setting a line of dolphins next the road bed for a quarter of a mile or more. The water at this point is rapidly rising and a high water stage is expected June 1st.

NEW SCALE WEIGHS MEAT BY ELECTRICITY

An innovation in the retail meat business was placed in use Monday by P. C. Young, in the way of a new scale. The scale, to which there are no springs or weights, is operated by electricity. It will weigh anything from a sheet of paper up, and also computes the amount of the purchase. The weight can be seen by both the customer and the clerk. The new contrivance is said to be the most accurate in use. It is manufactured by the Toledo Electric Scale Company.
