College Boys On Co-Operation
"Co-operation Among Farmers" is the title of an interesting article by D. S. Young of Sherwood, Clackamas County, a junior agricultural student at O. A. C., manager of the "Oregon Countryman". In the Northwest Farmerstead for May 13.
Mr. Young sums up the gains of co-operation as follows: 1. Elimination to a great extent of forced sales; 2. Elimination of the expense of bringing the produce together for sale; 3. Better insurance against loss; 4. "Good will" of business arising from assurance of honesty; 5. Associated credit; 6. Business education.

A Friendly Suggestion.
Baron (to creditors)—I see no hopes of being able to pay what I owe you. Why not organize a suicide club?—Meggendorfer Blatter.

In honor of Mrs. Miller, sister of Bishop Paddock, Mrs. E. T. Simpson entertained very enjoyably at ten, at the rectory, Saturday afternoon.

B. J. Rodaman, accompanied by his wife and daughter, is here visiting his sons, who own a place in the Odell district. The Rodamans are from Iowa, and are friends of M. M. Hill and Wilson Fike.

A silver tea, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Mark's Guild, will be given Friday afternoon, at the rectory, from 3 to 5. The aprons and curios left over from the May Basket fete will be disposed of at that time.

Malcolm James, a wealthy architect, whose former home was in Minneapolis, was here Monday looking the valley over. With his father, Mr. James is now the owner of 15,000 acres of fruit land near Albany, Oregon, which is being colonized largely by Austrians.

Lawrence Kelly, a resident of Hood River for something more than a year, left Monday for his home in New York. Mr. Kelly was one of the most popular of the younger men who have come to Hood River in the last year or two, and his many friends regret to see him leave here.

FRANKTON

Miss Fern Mauers is very ill with the measles.

Prof. Stubbs and family have gone to Gresham for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott, of Wyth, were over-Sunday visitors with Mr. Elliott's parents, J. M. Elliott.

The Columbia school closed Friday afternoon with a program. Miss Baker has been retained for the ensuing year.

Another change has been made in property the past week. John Radloff has sold his home north of the Belmont planer and will move into the house just vacated by Prof. Stubbs.

Mrs. B. W. LaMar will give a farewell party to Miss Baker Monday evening. Miss Baker leaves for her home at Warren, Oregon, Tuesday morning.

Frankton will retain their present corps of teachers for the ensuing year with the exception of Miss Noble. At the board meeting Tuesday night the board will fill that vacancy.

Last Tuesday afternoon the primary room of Frankton rendered a very interesting program. A large number of the friends and patrons were present. Miss Merchant, the very efficient teacher, has promised to take up the work again in September.

Friday evening a large number of the friends and pupils of Miss Baker surprised her. Miss Baker has been staying at the home of F. R. Abstens and Miss Alma had the house prettily decorated and a nice lunch for the crowd. The evening was merrily spent in playing games and enjoying music. All departed at a late hour wishing Miss Baker a pleasant vacation.
