COLORADO APPLES TO GO IN STORAGE

A dispatch to the Chicago Packer from Grand Junction, Colo., says: Apple shipments have been held up the past week because of a car shortage. At this time there are between 150 and 200 cars of apples in the valley waiting to be sent out. Box cars are hard to get as well as refrigerators. The refrigerators are in the east with the early part of the crop, and since the associations stopped being the refrigerator companies are apparently not anxious to furnish cars to the railroads, as there is not sufficient profit in lending cars which are simply ventilated.

It is probable that the bulk of the apple crop remaining in the valley will go out in box cars, which Manager Moore of the Grand Junction Association says will carry the fruit safely, except to far eastern points. The crop is larger than has been anticipated and as a result there was a shortage of apple boxes for about a week, which has now been supplied. Practically all the apples are off the trees now, although a few growers are still picking.

Probably a hundred cars went out the past week, and also two or three cars of Winter Nellis pears, the wind-up of the pear crop. There has been somewhat of an increase in the demand for Grand Valley apples, but the supply so far has exceeded the demand at the prices asked by the shippers. As a result, a number of cars will go into storage, and quite a few of the late shipments will take advantage of the storage-in-transit privilege. Winesaps are also being stored in cellars.

The mixup between the fruit associations still continues and there will probably be a show-down the coming winter. The center of disturbance at present seems to be at Clifton, where both the Grand Valley Fruit & Produce Assn. of Grand Junction and the Western Slope Fruit Growers of Parkdale are getting into the apple deal. Crosby & Myers, eastern representatives for the latter association, now have a man in there, who says he expects to handle 25 or 30 cars of apples from Clifton yet this season.

START CAMPAIGN TO CONSUME APPLES

New York apple growers have started an agitation which, it is claimed, will result in each man, woman and child in the Empire state eating not fewer than five apples a day. Two reasons are given for the appeal. One is that it will promote the health of the community; the other that it will create a steady demand for fruit that will promote the wealth of the fruit growers. Nor is the apple propaganda to be confined to New York state. It is to be extended to the entire country. The fruit growers figure that if each of the 90,000,000 persons in the United States will eat five apples a day it will result in a daily consumption of 450,000,000 apples. When the fruit growers are asked if they could meet such a demand they assert they could, and say the crop this year will be 20,000,000 bushels for market purposes, and that does not include those sent to canneries and dryers. Attention is brought to the fact that hundreds of thousands of trees are being set out in all sections of the country, and that if fruit growers get the chance they will make the supply at all times equal to the demand on the five-apples-a-day basis.

"If everyone will eat five apples a day it will be useless to organize a national board of health," one fruit-growing propagandist said. "Half the doctors would be put out of business, too. One apple before breakfast, one after breakfast, and one after dinner, one after supper and one before retiring is the prescription, and it is a good one. We are the conservators of the health of the nation, and we favor five apples a day and closer relations between the producers and the consumers."

SOLDIERS RETURN TO VANCOUVER BARRACKS

Batteries F and D of the Second Field Artillery of Vancouver Barracks, who have for several weeks been holding target practice on the Warm Springs Indian reservation, marched to The Dalles last week and camped over Sunday on the river bottom north of town. There were 300 men and officers and 350 horses and mules. The three steamers, the Bailey Gatzert, Dalles City and J. N. Teal, were loaded with the outfits Sunday night and Monday morning they steamed past Hood River. A small part of the encampment was delayed for lack of room on the boats, and went later.

Editor Putnam Marries

At Sound Beach, Conn., the home of the bride, G. P. Putnam and Miss Dorothy Binney were married Thursday, October 26th, says the Bend Bulletin, of which Mr. Putnam is editor and owner. Mr. and Mrs. Putnam will start upon their return journey to Bend early in November, coming to the Pacific coast by way of Panama, Mr. Putnam being commissioned to prepare articles regarding the Panama canal for the Portland Oregonian and other publications, both on the coast and in the east.

Mr. Putnam has visited Hood River several times and is well known here. He is the son of G. P. Putnam, the well known New York publisher, and a Harvard graduate, who forsook a luxurious home to start in life for himself. His efforts, aided by those of N. W. Hoffman, have resulted in giving Central and the rest of Oregon one of the best country newspapers in the state.

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting

WASHINGTON'S BIG APPLE TREE ACREAGE

According to the report of F. A. Huntley, horticultural commissioner of Washington, seven counties in eastern Washington have under cultivation 6,390,280 apple, 1,251,735 peach, 743,963 pear, 297,018 cherry, 182,931 prune and plum, and 94,873 apricot trees. Walla Walla, Stevens and Benton counties, it is estimated, will bring the number of apple trees to fully 10,000,000, a full crop from which would mean about 70,000,000 boxes, or more than the total apple production in the United States in 1910, as estimated by August Wolf.

Commissioner Huntley reports this acreage: Apples, 126,116; peaches, 11,590; pears, 6,888; cherries, 1,916; prunes and plums, 1,663; apricots, 878.

Early Christmas Shopping

It is all very well to talk about early Christmas shopping, but nine out of ten of us have not the early Christmas shopping wherewithal. What with shoes for Johnnie, and a coat for Susan, and gentle reminders from the coal man and other trusting ones, most of us come bump up against the week before Christmas before we can spare a cent for Christmas doings. Then the question is, What? The stores are jammed and there are heaps of foolish notions to catch the belated shopper.

And yet how easy it is to get just the right thing at a modest cost, namely, a year's subscription to The Youth's Companion!

It costs $1.75, and how can you invest $1.75 to better advantage if you wish to make a gift that will benefit as well as gratify the friend or family to whom you send it? And if you can subscribe early, you get just so much more for the money—all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1911 free.

Then, too, your present will be as fresh and pleasing a year from now as on Christmas morning, and of how many presents can that be said?

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free The Companion calendar for 1912, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and you, too, as a giver of the subscription, will receive a copy of the calendar.

Only $1.75 now for the 52 weekly issues, but on January 1, 1912, the subscription price will be advanced to $2.00. The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. *
