

CITY TO ADVERTISE BONDS FOR $37,250

In compliance with a resolution passed at the meeting of the city council Monday night bids will be asked for $37,250 in bonds to be issued by the city to pay the verdict and legal expenses of the recent water condemnation suit. The amount of the verdict was $32,444. Added to this is the fee of Stearns & Derby, the attorneys who represented the city, which is $2,000 and another fee for the same firm of $250 in the injunction suit brought by J. F. Batheider. The remaining amount of the total sum for which the bonds are to be advertised is for other legal expenses. The recorder was instructed to draw a warrant to Stearns & Derby for $2,250, the amount covering their services.

A number of resolutions were passed accepting street and sidewalk work done by E. O. Hall & Co. on the heights, and the committee on printing and police was instructed to bring in an ordinance providing for polling places and clerks and judges of election for the coming city election, Tuesday, Dec. 5th.

COLLEGE MEN TO FEAST SATURDAY

The annual banquet and election of officers of the Hood River University Club, the big yearly event of the organization, will be held this year as usual, on the closing day of the fruit fair. The election of officers will precede the feast by a short time, and it is requested that all members of the organization be present on this important occasion. The club's membership committee would also like to have any university or college men in the valley who are not members to make themselves known to the secretary.

The banquet will be held at the Hotel Oregon. V. C. Brock is chairman of the entertainment committee, and, in addition to the feast, there will be musical stunts by members of the club, beside the regular music for the occasion, which is furnished by the Mandolin Club, and after dinner speeches. Distinguished speakers have been invited to address the guests, in the persons of P. L. Campbell, president of the University of Oregon, and W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural College. It is expected that at least one of the gentlemen will be present, and perhaps both.

PORTLAND WAY NEW NAME FOR LOCAL ROAD

The county court has been petitioned to change the name of the highway leading from the main west side road, just this side of Tucker's bridge, to Jericho lane, to Portland Way. The petition, which is signed by all the residents along the road, will be allowed by the court. Most of the property owners along the road are former Portlanders, or now living there, and they want their highway named after Oregon's metropolis. The idea originated with J. C. Diamond, who circulated the petition and presented it to the county court.

The names of the petitioners are as follows: J. C. Diamond, W. A. Thornbury, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Balis, Mrs. B. J. King, Wm. M. Post, Clara Cornell, H. C. Coleman, Caroline Coleman, Mrs. C. W. Hooker, C. W. Hooker, Mrs. Fred L. Lisco, F. L. Lisco, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Farris, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. I. Vanharacon, Roy W. Kelly.

PALMER BUCKET TAKES FIRST PRIZE

The Palmer Bucket Company, a Hood River industry, and whose product is a Hood River man's invention, received a letter last week enclosing a blue ribbon as first prize for its apple picking bucket, exhibited in competition with many others at the California Apple Show at Watsonville. The Watsonville show was a big affair, over 3,000 boxes of apples having been placed on exhibition, and it attracted attention all over the coast. Among other signatures of the fair officials to the premium certificate was that of Chris. Grelsen, formerly of Hood River, who superintendent of exhibits.

The Palmer Bucket Company naturally feels elated over the fact that its product was judged the best, particularly in California, which is a keen rival of Oregon in everything pertaining to the fruit industry.

FRUIT FAIR TO OPEN PROMPTLY THURSDAY

The fruit fair managers are still working hard to make this big event a success, and no stone is being left unturned to secure a fine exhibit. It is expected to have the exhibit, which takes place Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, open promptly on the first day, with all displays in place if possible, Thursday morning.

The basement of the new Bell building, where the show will be held, will be made as attractive as possible, and Hood River residents, both city and valley, are asked by the management to turn out loyally and make the event a success from every standpoint. It is stated that the fair this year should be even better than any preceding it. The ladies are especially asked to contribute their efforts in making the show a big success.

C. D. Thompson, secretary of the fair association, commenced receiving entries this morning and will be at the exhibit room all day, as will also G. R. Castner, president of the organization. If you have anything of interest in the fruit or vegetable line, bring it in and space will be found for it. Owing to the shortage of apples, growers are asked to make an extra effort to exhibit.

FUNERAL OF B. R. TUCKER TO BE HELD TOMORROW

The body of B. R. Tucker, who died at San Diego, Calif., Oct. 22, from injuries received by being hit by a street car, arrived here Monday, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. J. H. Frary, and will be buried tomorrow in Idlewild cemetery. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock p. m., in Bartness chapel, conducted by Rev. J. L. Hershner and Canby Post, G. A. R.

Mr. Tucker, who was an Oregon pioneer of 1877, came to Hood River in 1887. His first place of residence in the state was Astoria, to which city he went from Kansas, where he emigrated shortly after the Civil war. He served four years in the Union army, in the 6th regular Kentucky cavalry. He was born at Elkin, N. C., April 11, 1849, and there he spent his boyhood days. In 1861 Mr. Tucker was married to Miss Martha Walls, who survives him, together with a son and two daughters—Chas. Tucker, of Hood River, Mrs. J. H. Frary, of Portland, and Mrs. Dora Strong, of Kingsley, Ore.

Mr. Tucker, who for many years resided in the valley, moved to the city in 1908, taking up his residence on the heights. In 1909 he went to California, and at Riverside sustained a stroke of paralysis. After that occurrence his health was much impaired, and later he went to San Diego to live. He became slightly deaf, and in crossing a car track failed to hear the approach of a car and was struck and so seriously injured that he died.
