The closing of the Hotel Pines has worked a hardship on the regular boarders as well as the traveling public. Those who could not prevail on their friends for meals were obliged to eat cheese and crackers. Rumor has it the hotel will open Monday noon under new management.

The teachers of the two lower grades of the town public school had a Thanksgiving program and a number of parents and friends visited. The high school dismissed to give the pupils a chance to hear the program.

The Rickett Concert Company gave the second of the series of entertainments to a fairly well filled house on Wednesday evening in Lamb's hall. The entertainers were handicapped by no stage room nor musical instrument to play the accompaniments on, but for all everyone was well pleased and felt well repaid for coming out.

Mr. Winegar had the misfortune Monday to lose his driving horse, and a few days before a valuable dog was poisoned, then on Wednesday morning his house with its contents was burned to the ground. But few things were saved, among other things a check for $25 was burned. Mr. Winegar started a fire and had gone out to do some chores, so just how the fire started is unknown.

The Thanksgiving ball was a decided success. Many young people from Mosier, Hood River and surrounding neighborhoods were in attendance.

The Ladies' Aid society is to have a rag sewing bee Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 12, at the home of Mrs. Lee Boles. All ladies interested in the church work of the community are requested to be present and to each bring enough light colored rags to make a ball. A silver offering will be taken. This will also be a farewell for the president, Mrs. G. L. Davis, who expects to soon leave Pine Grove.

Dame Nature need trouble herself no more about giving us light by night, for though the night be ever so dark Pine Grove can be seen for miles around. The many lights on Van Horn Butte, lighted up for the first time last week give the impression to one in the distance of a town. We feel that the lighting up of such a driveway as that of Van Horn's is a great help to the neighborhood and makes us look forward to the time when the good roads movement will have light all along our public highways.

The Four Leaf Clover Club will hold their regular semi-monthly meeting at Mrs. John Hinch's Thursday at 2:30 p. m.

One day last week after crossing the Columbia river for his home on the Washington side, Wilbur Gallagan encountered a cougar. Neither one was injured in the encounter as near as we can learn.

Mrs. Thomas Calkins had a narrow escape from being seriously injured last week when her term became unmanageable on the Platner hill and ran away. She says she "saw a soft place to light," so she jumped out, sustaining a bruised arm. The rig was badly damaged.

At a special school meeting held at the Frankton school house Saturday, Dec. 2, a six-mill tax was levied. This will provide the school board enough
