BILL GEROE PAYS EULOGY TO APPLE

Bill Geroe, a leading fruit distributor at Toledo, Ohio, has something to say on "The Apple" in the most recent issue of the Spy, the periodical published by the International Apple Shippers' Association. Hearken to Bill:

"The original apple was a 'Touch-Me-Not.' Had this first apple been relegated to a storage, until it was unfit to eat, much of history might have remained unchronicled.

"As it was, a smooth, insinuating reptile handed it to the First Lady of the Land, who, being minus children, poodle dogs and automobiles, straightway thought of her husband, Adam, and gave him the core to eat, and we have had moving days, mumps, measles and Reno, Nev., ever since. Adam fool that he was, paid an awful long price for that core.

"It is remarkable how many 'Touch-Me-Not' apples that one specimen has produced. There have been years when all the reserved seats in the cold storages of this country were occupied by 'Touch-Me-Nots.'

"In its wild state the apple is an innocent, inoffensive inhabitant of many countries. While in its youth, and green with experience, it has many enemies—worms, moths, caterpillars and boys. In this condition it increases the practice of the country doctor many fold.

"When the apple arrives at the age of discretion—physically it is perfectly harmless; financially it becomes a serious question.

"Apples are great sticklers for caste. You never find a poor, little, deformed, half-witted apple in the company of the 400. The big, fresh-complexioned, robust apple crowds the little fellow down the ladder and teaches him to keep his place—in the middle of the barrel—along with others of his class.

"The uses of the apple are many. As a foundation for pie it has really no substitute. The boarding-house apple pie, with its concrete covering, has been known to last for ages. The old-fashioned mince pie is largely apple and mystery. Dried apples, especially on strings, like pearls, are not only highly ornamental, but are especially handy when unexpected company arrives. Apple sauce is known in all languages. Baked apples are recognized in song and story and are the real aristocrats of the chef's product."

WILL LECTURE ON SCALING THE ALPS

An entertainment de luxe is promised by the Progressive Association as its next number in the lecture course, to be held at McLean's hall, Parkdale, on Friday evening, January 19th, a stereopticon lecture by Homer A. Rogers, assisted by Rev. Mr. Harris, on "Mountain Climbing in the Swiss Alps."

This discourse promises to be especially interesting to the people of the valley, as they have had the experience of scaling that majestic peak, Mt. Hood. The lecture will be illustrated by over one hundred lantern slides depicting the beautiful scenery of Switzerland and vividly portraying the adventures of the speaker. Mr. Rogers has reached the pinnacle of success as a lecturer and is gifted with lofty ideals. He has possessed Alpine tendencies from his infancy, being born in Harlem, the highest point on Manhattan Island, at an early age developed a tendency for climbing the rocks and hunting the goats of the neighborhood.

Graduating from college with high honors, he decided, before embarking in business, to visit Switzerland and climb the principal peaks of the Alps. Upon returning to his native country, his inclination still unabated for things higher up, he decided to embark in what Judge Stephen A. Lowell described in his recent lecture as "That most lofty occupation a man could follow—farming." Mr. Rogers owns an apple orchard located on China hill at an altitude of 3,000 feet and only three miles from the snow line of Mt. Hood.

COMMITTEE WILL DECIDE AS TO BIG APPLE SHOW

A Portland dispatch says: A committee of five will be named by Chairman G. F. Johnson soon to survey the local field thoroughly for 1912, to determine if an attempt shall be made to hold a great apple show here this year. At a meeting of the general committee, representing the Commercial Club, Horticultural Society and other interests, held in the Commercial Club rooms, this decision was reached. Some believed there would be so many conventions and other big things here in 1912 as to make it impractical to have a great apple show then. Others felt that now is the time to do everything. To get the situation better in hand, the chairman was authorized to name a survey committee, which will canvass the situation exhaustively.

Have courage, everyone, to do the right!
Life's battles must be fought,
And those who strive will win the fight,
Success may not be bought;
For cowards rarely win the day,
Nor men who idly pace;
'Tis those who bravely work away
That gain the foremost place.

Have courage, everyone, to do the right!
In every little thing,
No sin is small in heaven's sight,
But trouble sure 'twill bring,
The wise and good can safely stand
Where others surely fall,
For goodness strengthens every hand,
And makes strong men of all.

Have courage, everyone, to do the right!
Be bold, be brave, be strong!
By doing right, we get the might
To overthrow the wrong.
'T is only those who evil do
That need a coward fear;
So let your lives be good and true,
And keep your conscience clear.

Have courage, everyone, to do the right!
Like heroes of renown;
For only those who bear the fight
Can hope to wear a crown.
Let manliness your standard be,
Nor hear the scoff and jeer;
Seek after truth and purity,
And holy filial fear.

Have courage, everyone, to go and win;
Walk in the good old way;
Strive day by day to conquer sin,
And ever watch and pray,
Success will come—still persevere,
And keep the prize in sight;
Help from on high your heart will cheer
While fighting for the right.

—Evening's Monthly, Vol. 1, p. 84.

Nothing to do with the life God gives you,
Nothing to do in the race that you run,
Nothing to do with the precious talents,
Nothing that may answer thy soul, "Well done?"

Nothing to do? O you who are careless!
Nothing to do but to while life away?
No use to make of the priceless fragments?
Think of the time you are wasting each day!

Be not deceived. Think, live and be earnest.
Your life was not meant just for you alone,
But ere long there cometh God's great harvest
When everyone must reap what they have sown.

God wants us to use his golden moments,
He would that not one should drop from the loom,
Behold e'en the stars how they impress us
With life's earnestness from cradle to tomb.

Build for yourself and those you are touching
A character spotless and pure and deep;
Then when the sheaves of life's purpose are garnered
A rich and blessed harvest thou shalt reap.

Beyond our gaze is a beautiful palace,
Fashioned by God for his home in the soul,
And a still small voice from this secret temple
Murmureth as the peaceful waters roll;

And it tells of an influence immortal,
Breathes of the coming best eternity,
And whispers in a low, sweet cadence
Of something to do and something to be.

The flowers teach in sublimest lessons
That man should be noble and good and true
And oft to the eager soul their fragrance
Beareth the message, "There's something to do."

Something to do in the bright, pure morning,
Something to do when the noontide is high,
Something to do in the restful evening,
Something as the swift, splendid years go by.

Something to do in thought and in action,
Something to do with ten talents or one,
Something to do worth while and eternal,
Something that may answer thy soul, "Well done."

FRUIT SECTIONS MAY ALL COMBINE

A project for controlling the apple output of the northwest by combining the four big fruit producing sections in a selling agency will be considered by local fruitgrowers at a meeting which will be called for the twenty-seventh of this month. The proposition was informally presented by R. S. Miller, manager of the Rogue River Fruit and Produce Association at an informal meeting of the directors and stockholders of the local Apple Growers' Union held here the last of the week.

Mr. Miller's proposition is that the four districts—Rogue River, Hood River, Wenatchee and Yakima—combine for the purpose of marketing their fruit in common and at a smaller cost. The plan is that the four sections should together buy a controlling interest in the already established Northwestern Fruit Exchange of Portland. This exchange was stated by Mr. Miller to be in excellent standing as a selling organization, and in shape to be used at once for the purpose of comprehensive fruit distribution.

A committee of five was appointed to investigate the proposition and report their findings at the meeting to be held on the twenty-seventh. They are: H. E. Ferguson, P. S. Davidson, A. I. Manson, C. H. Sprout and O. L. Walter. The meeting will be open to all interested parties in Hood River or adjacent communities.
