CASCADE LOCKS W. V. Hutchinson is spending the week at Underwood, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anders have moved to the Graham place. Our postmaster made a hurried business trip to Underwood, Wash., the early part of the week. Miss Ella Buss entertained ten of her little friends Saturday afternoon, it being the occasion of her birthday. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Coke and daughter are spending a couple of weeks at the home of H. S. Adams, Underwood, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coke have moved into their new home, known as the Harry Gray place, which has been much improved. The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church is busy with plans and preparations for an Easter sale which will be held on Saturday, April 6th. The scholars of the public school united in contributing to a fund in memory of their companion, Clarence Peterson, who died several weeks ago. A. R. Graham, who formerly resided here, has returned from The Dalles, where he has been living for some time, and will make his home here for the summer. Arthur Rasmussen, of Kaukauna, Wis., recently spent a few days with his sister, Miss Marie Rasmussen, one of our teachers. Mr. Rasmussen is lock master at that place. C. D. Thompson of Hood River, county superintendent of schools, visited the public schools here Friday in the interests of the school exhibits at the county fair this fall. Clark W. Thompson, vice president and manager of the Wind River Lumber Co., has returned from La Crosse, Wis., where he attended the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company. A large and attentive audience heard the address of Billy Eastman, "convict evangelist," at the Methodist church last Friday evening. He told the story of his life in a very entertaining and forcible manner.

FRANKTON

Mrs. Edgar Lock has been having a serious time with blood poisoning in her ear. The Four Leaf Clover Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Nickelson. J. I. Morland was here the latter part of the week looking after his ranch on Phelps creek. Homer Absten was kicked in the face by a horse Sunday, cutting a large gash under the eye. Mrs. Dan Malaaer is somewhat improved in health, sufficiently so as to be up and around the house. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Noble of Hood River spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Noble. The Four Leaf Clover Club will meet with Mrs. J. R. Nickelson Thursday afternoon at 2:30. A full attendance is requested. Mrs. L. R. Rash of Husum, Wash., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Russel Rash of Elk, Wash., visited friends in our neighborhood last week. The stork has again visited our neighborhood. This time he stopped at the home of W. C. Trigg and left a nine and a half pound boy. The little stranger has been named Burrow Alves Trigg. The thirty-sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott was celebrated Saturday night a week ago. A number of neighbors and the families of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott's children came with well filled baskets to spend the evening with them. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

For State Representative

To the Republican voters of Hood River and Wasco counties. I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of State Representative from the Sixteenth Senatorial District of Oregon, subject to the will of the Republican voters of said district, to be expressed at the primary election to be held on April 19, 1912. See further announcement later. adv J. M. SCHMELTZER.

Taft would develop ALASKA RESOURCES

President Urges This For the Good of the Pacific Coast. To open Alaska and develop its resources, is the recommendation of President Taft in a recent message. This is a step the people of the coast have worked for for years. Oregon people have not been able to see any justification for going to middle Western coal mines for fuel and hauling it by train half way across the country, when enormous coal mines in Alaska, easily accessible from tide-water, can be opened and coal brought by ship-load at a remarkably cheap rate for use here. President Taft favors the leasing of coal and phosphate lands in Alaska as well as in the United States, so that these sources of wealth may contribute their part to the prosperity of the nation. The president also favors a commission form of government, at least half of which should be elective, for Alaska. In his desire to open Alaska and develop it, the president goes so far as to urge a government railway from Seward to the Matunaska coal fields and into the Tanana and Yukon valleys. That these steps are favored by the president, only because of their benefit to the people of the west, is his own statement. He said: "I think the United States owes it to Alaska and to the people who have gone there, to take an exceptional step and build a railroad that shall open the treasures of Alaska to the Pacific and to the people who live along that ocean on our Western Coast."

OREGON MAN LIKES TAFT

Bill Hanley Tells of Dinner With the President. Bill Hanley, who everybody in Oregon knows, either personally or by reputation, is a big man, but he believes he met a bigger one on his recent trip through the east, on board the Governor's special train. Like all good citizens who go to Washington, he visited the White House, and sat down to dine with President Taft. Press dispatches say that Mr. Hanley's quaint philosophy, so generally enjoyed here in Oregon, delighted the president, and the two Bills had a very pleasant visit. "President Taft is a mighty fine fellow," said Mr. Hanley afterward. "He was especially good at making the boys feel at home that evening when he entertained our party at the White House. Both he and Mrs. Taft were there to shake hands with us when we arrived. We went in and sat around and talked for awhile before dinner, and after dinner we just made ourselves at home and smoked. The president visited with everybody. He surely is a great mixer and it was not long before all of us were feeling just as comfortable as if we were sitting around our own fireside. President Taft is a delightfully pleasant natured, high class gentleman. People of the country can hardly realize what a great, good character at heart President Taft really is."

Nation Owe Debt of Gratitude. Money indebtedness is not the only obligation we incurred and assumed in the great Civil War. There was a still greater debt, an everlasting obligation that could never be paid in full. But in years that have followed, the Republican party has inaugurated and developed pension laws under which over three and a half billion dollars have been paid to disabled veterans, or to the survivors of those who gave their lives for their country and their flag. This pension system, a product of the policy of the Republican party, has no precedent in history and no equal in justice and generosity among the nations of the earth.—Hon. James S. Sherman.
