OBITUARY

CHARLES L. CLAPP Charles L. Clapp died Wednesday after a week's illness. An operation was performed but the disease from which he suffered had progressed too far to be checked. The funeral was held Friday from the Bartness Undertaking parlors. A large number of friends attended. Interment was made in Idlewild Cemetery.

Mr. Clapp moved to Hood River with his family four years ago from Casper, Wyoming. He is survived, besides his wife, by three daughters, Misses Viva, Edna and Dwella, and one son, Harry. Mr. Clapp had been a member of the Workmen of Nebraska and local members of that organization acted as pallbearers at the funeral.

MRS. MARGARET REBECCA SWICK Mrs. Margaret Rebecca Swick of Wasco, who had been visiting her son, William Swick of this place, died in this city at an early hour Monday morning. She had been in failing health for several months, but had not been seriously ill until about a week ago. Among those who survive are Mrs. Mary E. Mitchell of this city, a sister. Mrs. Swick was 69 years old. Interment will be made at Wasco.

If you have trouble in getting rid of your cold you may know that you are not treating it properly. There is no reason why a cold should hang on for weeks and it will not if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by all dealers.

RECITAL BY MRS. BOYDEN'S PUPILS GREATLY ENJOYED

That the recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Louise Boyden at the Baptist church Monday evening was thoroughly appreciated was evidenced by the hearty encores which followed the selections. All acquitted themselves most creditably. Mrs. Boyden depicted a scene from Les Miserables which was enjoyed, and also rendered the "Volunteer Organist," with a musical accompaniment by Miss Cooper. The singing by Mrs. Charles H. Henney and J. A. Epping was exceptionally good.
