ANOTHER MARKET COMBINE PLANNED

Washington Applegrowers Take Up the Proposition of Combination.

A recent dispatch from Spokane states that "Applegrowers of the Northwest will be organized into one of the biggest associations of its nature in the Northwest at a meeting to be held in this city within the next few weeks.

"At a meeting of the board of the trustees of the National Apple Show, plans were completed for the new organization. Applegrowers from all districts in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana will be asked to send delegates to a conference to be held here in April, in order that all sections will have a hand in forming the big organization.

"The main object of the Northwest organization will be to solve the question of marketing the apple crop."

The local committee which has in charge the matter of effecting a possible amalgamation of marketing interests has been making progress in its investigations. It is not intended to take any action, however, until after the annual meeting of the directors of the Union next Saturday, in order that the policy of the new board may be taken into consideration. The local committee is inclined to entertain any invitation which may be made by the Washington growers looking towards a favorable solution of the marketing problem.

The grading work on Columbia street was completed last week and all is now in readiness for the construction of the sidewalks. Ed. Mayes has also completed the grading of Cascade Avenue between Fourteenth and Sixteenth streets.

DICKERSON & PECK BUILD STOREHOUSE

Believe Private Warehouse Will Help to Solve the Storage Problem

W. B. Dickerson has employed Albert Sutton, the architect, to prepare plans for a capacious storehouse to be built this summer on the Dickerson and Peck ranch in order to accommodate the big crop this fall. Mr. Dickerson believes that those who have large orchard acreage will be taking time by the forelock in providing facilities for the better handling of their crops and thus preparing for any possible emergency.

The proposed building will be a story and a half structure and so constructed as to be frost proof. The storage room will occupy the lower portion of the building and will hold about 15,000 boxes. The upper portion will be for the storage of boxes and material. The building will be 50 by 100 feet in dimensions.

"In view of the large crop which is expected this fall and the constantly increasing production on most of the ranches in the valley each successive year," said Mr. Dickerson, "I believe that the orchard owners will be doing the wise thing in building storehouses wherever possible in order to enable them to better handle the crop at home and also to deliver the fruit to the Union warehouses in a more perfect condition. This would also go far towards relieving the congested condition at the Union warehouses early in the season."

H. G. Kauffman ex-secretary of the Commercial Club, left Thursday with Mrs. Kauffman for their former home in Oregon, Illinois. They went by way of California in order to visit their son, Harlan, at Stanford University while en route home.

PREPARE TO LOCATE CONVICT CAMP HERE

Adam Shortgen of Salem, who has charge of the convict work on roads and public works, was in the city the last of the week making arrangements to bring a number of convicts to Shell Rock this week in order to build the camp and make necessary arrangements before the larger gang is brought here to work on the road.

The lumber will probably be donated by the two lumber companies, and groceries and other supplies to support the camp will be secured here.

As yet the railroad has not approved the right of way for the road which has been mapped out by the county. This map, however, is under consideration by the proper officials and a favorable reply is expected.

While here Mr. Shortgen said: "We want to bring a half dozen convicts up to the Hood River country next week and establish the camp. As soon as this is completed a crew of about 30 men will begin the work of digging the roadway around Shell Rock.

"I inspected the scene of operation and I believe that we will have a difficult task. A steam shovel will have to be put into commission, I think, in removing the tons of loose stone of which the mountain side is composed."

HOMESTEAD BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

The Borah-Jones three-year homestead bill by a unanimous vote passed the House of Representatives in substantially the form in which it was left last Wednesday. The essential features of the original bill are retained, and what differences exist between the Senate and the House will be adjusted in committee which will consist of Senators Smoot, Jones and Newlands and Representatives Taylor, Farris and Mondell, all favorable to the measure. It may require several days to shape the bill in conference, but its ultimate passage is assured and

FIVE NOW OUT FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Wasco county aspirants have been drifting into the race for the nomination as representative in a desultory sort of fashion. Five candidates are now in the race for the nomination. John H. Moores, who resides five miles southeast of The Dalles, is the latest candidate to enter the political arena, having made his announcement the last of the week. He was in the city Friday circulating his petitions. Dr. J. E. Anderson of The Dalles has also announced his candidacy. The third contestant in Wasco county is George D. Brodie of Dufur.

J. M. Schmeltzer and C. H. Stranahan of this city were the first to enter the field and on account of their wide acquaintance in both counties and their eminent qualifications to serve the district acceptably are without doubt the strongest candidates now in the field for nomination. With three candidates from Wasco county it is assured that the vote in that section will be widely scattered.

Two of the five candidates will be chosen at the primaries, as two representatives are to be elected at the general election.

Plans Country Home
E. W. Spencer of Portland has started a crew of carpenters on the erection of a 90x40 log bungalow on his tract of orchard land in the Husum district. This will be made a unique country home. Already Mr. Spencer has a dam built on Spring creek for an artificial lake to be stocked with trout and other fish. Extensive clearing will also be done for an orchard.

AITCHISON GETS SUPPORT LOCALLY

Clyde B. Aitchison, the present head of the state railway commission, was in the city the last of the week in the interests of his campaign for re-election to the position. Mr. Aitchison has many friends in Hood River and has been a frequent visitor here. He is owner of a tract in Idlewild Addition and announced while here that he intends to retain a sufficient part of the tract so that he can build and eventually make his home here.

Mr. Aitchison has occupied his present position for the past five years, having been appointed for one year and being elected at the expiration of that time. Occupying as he does a position which requires a large amount of legal and technical training, he has acquitted himself with signal credit. Mr. Aitchison has conceived and carried into effect many of the innovations which have proven so satisfactory in his department and his friends are particularly anxious that he be returned in order to complete his work. He is running on his record.

West Prepares for Long Ride.
While in Pendleton, Governor West was tendered the present of a fine saddle, made by Hamley Company, local harness and saddlery men. The governor will use the saddle on a long horseback ride he intends to make from Salem to Boise this fall.

MIGHT LOCATE A FLOUR MILL HERE

A communication has been received by the Commercial Club from W. C. Applegate, western representative of the Anglo-American Mill Company, who suggests that his company may locate a small flour mill in this city. Mr. Applegate states that he is engaged in installing small capacity flour mills in Idaho and Utah and that he will be in Oregon this month for the purpose of doing the same. He is seeking information as to power, shipping facilities and availability of obtaining the necessary wheat supply.

SEASON FOR TROUT OPENS THIS WEEK

Many Local Nimrods Get Their Licenses and Prepare for Sport.

The trout season opened Monday and many apostles of Isaac Walton in this, the fisherman's paradise, have already been engaged in whipping the numerous trout streams hereabouts. Some fish stories are already in circulation and will no doubt be properly enlarged upon as the season progresses. County Clerk Hanson has been kept busy of late passing out licenses and among those who have already qualified in this respect are the following:

"BLOSSOM FESTIVAL SURE OF SUCCESS"—OPTIMIST

The Dalles Optimist says: "Hood River is making arrangements to celebrate 'Apple Blossom Week' with a blow-out of the biggest kind. There is no doubt but that the Hood River valley in apple blossom time will be a most wonderful sight with its acres on acres of the pink and white blooms massed in one immense sheet miles in extent and when our sister city starts out to have a celebration it is sure to be a success."
