SENIOR CLASS PLAY A DECIDED SUCCESS

The Senior Class play given at the Monroe Opera House Monday evening achieved a well-merited success. It abounded in amusing situations and all the parts were admirably taken.

The play deals with a young college fellow, who, staying with his sister-in-law, masquerades as the old negro butler in order to help the sister out while the butler is away. The guests at dinner happen to include the young man's sweetheart who unexpectedly "comes along." During the progress of the dinner the old servant returns and a general mix-up ensues.

At two o'clock in the morning the man of the house returns bringing with him the father of the young lady whose presence has caused so much embarrassment. The father, who has been opposed to the match, is taken for a burglar, forced to acquiesce to the young people's plans, and all turns out well.

Miss Elsie McLucas as the lady of the house, Miss Lempi Hukari as the dignified wife of a fussy old man, Miss Viola Nickelsen as the sweetheart, acquitted themselves with honors. Walter Shay as the old negro and John Coshov as his double took their parts like regular old minstrels. Glen Corey as the hypochondriac made a distinct hit. Orland Morse and Emmet Thomas also took part. The cast as a whole deserves much credit.

The costumes and stage settings were fashionable and in good taste. The young people will probably repeat their performance elsewhere.

The play was staged and the cast drilled under the direction of Rev. A. E. Harris. Among the pleasing specialties which were on the program were an instrumental solo by Mrs. Vida Bennett, a duet by Miss Aldine Bartmess and Miss Eva Brock and a reading by Miss Adrienne Epping.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF THE SUN HERE ON JUNE 8TH

Weather observers hereabout have received notice from the Amherst observatory of Amherst, Mass., asking that observations be made of the total eclipse of the sun which will take place June 8 at 3 o'clock. The eclipse will be observed from a strip of territory about 30 miles wide extending through the states of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. The Amherst observatory people ask that the observations in this district be taken from the top of Mount Adams and Mount St. Helens, which are both situated in the center of the coming shadow.

NEWS NOTES FROM ALL AROUND OREGON

A. H. Smock of Eugene has gooseberry bushes that produce at the rate of $1000 per acre.

Plans are on foot for the holding of a horse show in McMinnville, Saturday, May 25, at which time 50 of the best horses in Yamhill and adjoining counties will parade the streets. The Commercial Club has endorsed the proposition and will do all in its power to make the affair a success.

Eben McIntire, aged 84, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore, 70 years old, both of Medford were married a day or two ago. The couple were sweethearts in olden days back East. The groom now hails from McMinnville and the bride from Gold Hill. They will live at the former place. "I feel as young as ever," was the comment of Mr. McIntire when he applied for the license.

Declaration by Governor West in Roseburg that he intends to inject a political earthquake shock into the affairs of state is taken as following out the line which he predicted just before leaving for Southern Oregon—that he would issue statements as to expenditures and salaries for all offices, commissions and institutions and call upon those officers, commissions and institutions to justify their existence.

That the irrigation possibilities of Oregon have as yet been but slightly developed, is shown by statistics gathered by the Census Bureau in 1910 and now made public for the first time in a special bulletin entitled "Irrigation in Oregon." While this report is practically two years behind time, it is the latest official compilation on this subject and is being issued simultaneously with similar reports on other Western states.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alderman has addressed a letter to the boys and girls of Oregon who have decided to grow some garden produce, raise some chickens, or pigs, or sew, cook, or carpenter for their local fairs or the State Fair, in connection with the great state-wide series of agricultural and industrial contests this year. The young people are reminded that their schools are closing, a tempting summer is approaching and that the rewards, both in prizes and good habit cultivation, will continue as big as they are now, although the number of contestants to claim them may grow smaller.

A Patriotic Creed

"We believe in our country—the United States of America. We believe in her constitution, her laws, her institutions and the principles for which she stands. We believe in her future—the past is secure. We believe in her vast resources, her great possibilities—yes, more, her wonderful certainties.

"We believe in the American people, their genius, their brains and their brawn. We believe in their honesty, their integrity and dependability. We believe that nothing can stand in the way of their commercial advancement and prosperity.

"We believe that what we term "Times of business depression" are but periods of preparation for greater and more pronounced commercial successes.

"And we believe that in our country are being worked out great problems, the solution of which will be for the benefit of all mankind."

A copy of the above creed was received by us this week from the Chase National Bank of New York and the sentiment of it appealed to us strongly enough that we wished our customers and friends of Hood River to read it.
