AN AGRICULTURAL SURVEY ARRANGED

The first agricultural survey of the State of Oregon was begun in earnest Tuesday when nine men—faculty members, graduates, and upperclassmen of the Oregon Agricultural College—left Corvallis to canvass the counties of the state as representatives of the Oregon Statistical Bureau and collect field notes from which the report will be compiled and published for distribution.

The survey has for its object the securing of reliable data which will show to which of the agricultural pursuits the counties have been peculiarly adapted and, also, to what extent the possibilities have been developed and may be expected to develop under proper management.

Precaution will be taken to make the information collected as nearly accurate as possible. To this end the field agents will collect nothing but the plain truth regarding soils, crops, transportation and labor conditions, etc.—uncolored by the enthusiastic local advertisers. Each county will receive not less than 50 interviews nor more than 100, in proportion to the population.

H. C. Hatzel has been assigned to do the work in this county.

VISITS OLD HOME AFTER FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pratt, accompanied by his brother, S. S. Pratt, and wife of Tacoma, left the last of the week for a trip to their former home in Skowhegan, Me. This will be the first visit that C. G. Pratt has made to his former home in fifty years, he having left Skowhegan to enter in the army during the Civil war. While East they also expect to spend several weeks visiting along the St. Lawrence river, at Quebec and other Canadian cities.
