

ARROGANT EDINBURGH.

And Its Old Holyrood Castle, Famous in Scotch History.

Built over a series of ridges and valleys, it would be impossible to imagine anything more grandly arrogant than Edinburgh. Originally the place consisted only of the huge fortress on the castle rock, built there by Edwin of Northumbria, and hence known as Edwin's Burgh. But gradually there grew up a long, straggling town, a mile or so in length, that wended along the rocky saddle backed ridge which was the only approach to the castle entrance.

In the twelfth century Holyrood palace was built at the foot of this long street, which has been variously known in history as "the Royal Mile" and "the Cockpit of Scotland." In the vernacular of the town during the middle ages, though, it was always referred to as "the Causeway."

Traditions of Mary, the ill fated queen; of Rizzio, whose blood, legend says, still stains the wooden floor of the tiny chamber in Holyrood where he sank beneath the daggers of his assassins; of the stern, proud Douglas, whose ambition led them to hope to usurp the Scottish crown; of John Knox and Jenny Geddes, who threw her stool at Dean Hanna (one is sure Jenny would be a suffragette today, and a militant at that) of the great Montrose, of Bonny Prince Charlie and of all the other principal figures in Scotch history rise up before the visitor.—Argonaut.

FLEET FOOTED CARIBOU.

They Can Trot Faster Than a Greyhound Can Run.

In Maine it is contended that the caribou can outrun any other animal. According to the testimony of one woodsman, caribou left behind a greyhound that had been matched against them.

A guide succeeded in starting the dog after some caribou—a herd of four standing like statues on the ice of one of the big ponds in the region along the west branch of the Penobscot.

Now, the caribou trots, instead of running, like most other wild animals. In the present case there had been a plentiful fall of snow, a rain which had formed a thick crust and then another fall of snow, all of which constituted the very finest surface whereon to hold a race of this description. When the greyhound was loosed its owner confidently expected that it would outrun the caribou.

When the caribou woke up and hit their pace it was a sight to see them. They did not appear to be proceeding with much speed, but as the hound drew up on them they increased their pace. The hound was doing his very best, but made no headway against the caribou at all. The dog stuck to it with courage, but before it was half-way across the pond the caribou had reached the other side and disappeared in the woods.—New York Press.

The Sensitive Razor.

"There is no sensation in matter," remarked a man over the luncheon table to the man of science, who thought it was a suggestive saying. "But what about my razors?" he asked. And then he described the razor which had been with him round the world faithfully and wanted only stopping day by day—a wonderful razor. But when it came back to a London flat it refused its office. The razor wouldn't work more than one day without going to the hospital. "Do you mean to tell me that that razor doesn't feel," said its owner—"doesn't feel the difference of climate, temperature? Why, if you know anything about razors you know they are the keenest and most sensitive things in the world."—London Chronicle.

One Line of Reasoning.

A promoter from some indefinite section out west was trying to sell a Penn avenue clerk a few shares of stock, but the clerk was not anxious to invest.

"Why should I buy stock in your mine?"

"My dear man, we're right next to the Skinned Cat, which is producing fabulous wealth."

"Yes, and I live in a boarding house which is right next to the mansion of a steel millionaire, but that doesn't make me worth anything."—Pittsburgh Post.

Reminiscent.

The author had written one successful story, and he never grew tired talking of it.

"Don't you know," said one of his friends to another one day, "literary reminders me of a pleased dog?"

"That's odd. How does he?"

"He's always wagging his tale."

No Friend of His.

Mrs. Mulcahey—What frind helped ye home, ye drunken baste? Mulcahey—Faith, it's no frind he was, knowin' the reception O'd receive.—Boston Transcript.

Out of Fashion.

Physician—What is your trouble, madam? Patient—I hate to tell you, doctor; it is something which was popular over a year ago.—New York Press.

Making a Record.

Ellie—You say she has driven two men insane? Bella—Yes. She fitted one. Ellie—What about the other? Bella—She married him!—Club Fellow.

Distant Relatives.

"I have only the most distant relatives."

"Has the family died out?"

"No; they have all become rich."

SHIVELY WINS FROM CIRCUS AGGREGATION

When it was announced that Pete Shively's baseball aggregation was to play the Kit Carson nine on circus day in Hood River, the betting went up to 16 to 1 on Pete. This immediate high temperature of the betting thermometer was largely due to the fact that a great crowd of sports witnessed Pete's feet-footedness on the Fourth of July, when he won the fat man's race against Portland's sporting blood. Kit Carson never had a look-in at the ball game and Pete gave them a goose egg as a souvenir to carry away with them. Nobody knows what the score might have been if Pete had desired to go the limit with the actors.

NEW CHURCH RUSHED TO COMPLETION

A large crew of men is at work on the new Methodist church building and the edifice will be rushed to completion. The frame work of the structure is of wood, which will be veneered with red brick trimmed with cement brick. The architectural plans indicate that the new building will have a very handsome appearance when completed. It is calculated that the church when finished and connected with the old structure will have the largest auditorium in the city.

First Christian Church.

Just to remind you that if you are not attending the services at the Christian church both Sunday mornings and evenings you are missing an intellectual feast and the association of a kind and generous people. You will receive the glad hand by all present and a treat that is worth while. The Sunday School is continuing to do good work and every member is registered to bring one with them. Won't you be one that will be brought?

The singing is fine and I feel sure that you will enjoy a treat along that line. Come and see.

The ladies of the church will feed you to the full on Thursday evening, July 5, on the church grounds. Come and bring your big appetite and get satisfaction at that time. Believe me there will be something doing at that time.

Miss Meda Carter left last Thursday to spend about two months' vacation at her home in Mt. Pleasant, Utah.

FOUNDATION LAID FOR TELEPHONE BUILDING

E. O. Hall, who has the contract for the erection of the new telephone building at the corner of State and Sixth streets, is busy laying the concrete foundation of the new brick structure. The building will be of handsome design and an ornament to the city. Chas. Hall, president of the company, who has been in the East for several weeks, has returned home. It is understood that a new auto-manual system will be installed that will make phoning a delight and a pleasure. The new plant will be one of the most up-to-date on the coast.

MANAGER SIEG PLANS WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN

On Thursday of this week Wilmer Sieg, manager of the Hood River Apple Growers' Union, leaves for the east to perfect certain arrangements pertaining to the marketing of the crop. Mr. Sieg has planned an itinerary that would do credit to a globe trotter in point of the number of cities to be visited in a brief trip of three weeks.

The more important distributing points will be visited and a large number of the leading apple buyers called upon.

Postmaster Lucas is putting in long hours these days but has registered no complaint about the volume of correspondence emanating from Mr. Sieg's office.

A speaking acquaintance with over a thousand apple dealers of the country places Mr. Sieg in the ranks as a "Hello Bill" who knows everyone who is anyone.

"Will you be with us?" is the inquiry of many of the trade who will assemble at Chicago on August 7 to attend the convention of the International Apple Shippers' Association. Needless to say, the Union's manager will be there to meet the representative apple people of the country and it is blithely that Hood River's leading enthusiast will be called upon to make one of his justly famous speeches, which we are told have helped make Milwaukee famous.

The Union is anxious to have the growers sign up for their apples before Mr. Sieg goes east. Early apples and pears will soon be ripe. Call up 117, the Union has something important to tell you about this matter. Do it now.

APPLE UNION BEGINS BUILDING

The Hood River Apple Growers' Union has begun work on the erection of the large cold storage plant to be built adjoining the present plant on the east. The new annex will be 180 feet in length and 40 feet in width and will have a capacity of about 140,000 boxes of apples. The work on the new brick structure will be rushed to completion and will be finished in time for the fall rush of apples. The union will increase the refrigeration power to twice the present capacity. A new engine will be installed to replace the smaller machine now in use.

Unitarian Church

Last Sunday at the Unitarian church service the congregation was greatly pleased with the special music, including a solo by Mrs. Sletton with violin obligato, and a violin solo by Miss. Blanche Rosset. Next Sunday the subject of the service will be "The Roomier Universe." All are cordially invited.

Van Allen Home Destroyed.

The home of H. C. Van Allen in the Pine Grove district was destroyed by fire Sunday night at 10 o'clock and all of the household effects were lost. There was no one home at the time the fire started and the origin of the blaze is a mystery. Before the fire was discovered it was completely beyond control. The loss is estimated at $2000.

MT. HOOD HOTEL COMPLETES LOBBY

After several weeks of labor by carpenters, painters and paper hangers, the spacious lobby in the Mt. Hood hotel has been completed and in its brand new dress of paint and paper presents a most metropolitan appearance. The stairs leading to the first floor have been changed to the south section of the lobby and the clerk's desk has been moved from the east to the west side of the waiting room. By the removal of a partition, the lobby has been increased to double its former size which gives ample room for the accommodation of the traveling public. The progressive spirit of the proprietor is worthily wrought in the improvement.

BATTLE GROUND YIELDS CURIOS

That the entire river front opposite Hood River was at one time the battle ground of contending Indian forces is being verified from time to time by the discovery of tangible evidences to prove the fact. Matt Fluckler came into the News office Saturday with a pocket full of Indian arrow heads that he had found just west of the city. The specimens of flint points picked up in different places are mute testimony of the flying arrows exchanged between hostile tribes. One of the spear points was fully four inches in length and of perfect construction.

Congregational Church

The new church organ was given a try-out by Prof. F. W. Goodrich of Portland, Ore., Monday night, before its acceptance by the committee and was found to be all that was hoped for.

The church and Sunday school hold their annual picnic at the old country inn site Thursday. The start is to be made at ten o'clock. A good program is arranged. Everybody come.

Sunday morning we have a special service in recognition of our choir. A request program of four numbers will be sung and the pastor will speak on "The Ministry of Music." Let your attendance be a token of esteem and appreciation.

Wednesday evening, July 24, we will hold an old fashioned experience meeting at the church at 8 p. m. Get ready for this and plan to come.

EDW. A. HARRIS, pastor.

WENATCHEE WILL INVADE CALIFORNIA

The apple growers of the Wenatchee valley will invade California this year and make an attempt to have the Washington big red apples crowd some of the golden-skinned California fruit off the market. This invasion of territory has been made possible by the great reduction of freight rates on fresh fruit. The fruit rate a few days ago from Wenatchee to San Francisco was $1.03 per hundred and the cut has reduced it to 40 cents per hundred pounds. Hood River has long had an open market in Southern California, where large quantities of Oregon Reds and Baldwins are sold every year.

CHURCH NEWS IN GENERAL

The World's second Christian Citizenship conference is to be held in Portland next summer. Dr. Henry Collin Minton, president of the association, stated:

"I am delighted with Portland as the gathering place for the leaders of the best and most advanced thought of the world. We shall have the world's big men here and many nations will be represented, but we shall also find that the Americans are the world's best speakers. This was a discovery at the great meeting in Glasgow some time ago."

The Pacific Coast Convention of Baptist Young People's Societies began its annual session Friday morning in Portland at the White Temple.

"The American Baptist Year Book," recently issued, gives the following Baptist statistics for Oregon: Number of associations, 12; churches, 155; ordained ministers, 126; total membership, 14,150; Sunday schools, 116; officers and teachers, 1,186; scholars, 10,502.

Christian Science Services

Christian Science services are held in the Commercial Club rooms Sundays at 11 a. m. Subject, "Life." Sunday school at same hour in Room 2, Davidson building. Wednesday meetings in same room 8 p. m. Reading room open daily, 2 to 5 p. m.

Baptist Church

Rev. Hargreaves announces that the subject given out for last Sunday evening at the church on the Heights namely, "The Patriot in Politics" will be discussed next Sunday evening.

WRESTLING MATCH RESULTS IN DRAW

According to a number of uninvited friends who appeared upon the scene of battle before the close of the contest, Fred Bell and Harold Ingalls had engaged in a wrestling match of the intense kind last Friday night about 10:30 on the beautiful young clover lawn in the rear of the city jail. In addition to the spectators a few hoot owls were present to witness the lovefest. It is evident that the prize fight rules of the Baltimore and Chicago conventions were quite closely followed. Fred has a few scratches on his face between his whiskers while Harold is in about the same fix with a pants leg minus.

MARRIED

Orle McMeans and Daisy Reigel of Hood River were married at the home of John Walters on Cascade ave., Monday evening, July 15, 1912. Rev. J. B. Parsons, pastor of the United Brethren church officiated.

Methodist Church

Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. Preaching services at 11:00 a. m. and 8 p. m. Rev. R. E. Spaulding will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. Theme for evening service, "Face to Face" or "Come and See." Epworth League at 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend these services. Strangers made welcome. W. B. Young, Pastor.

LOGGER KILLED AT DEE PLANT

John Beck, of South Moorehead, Minn., was struck by a log while at work in a logging camp at Dee Monday and instantly killed. Beck was an experienced logger and while working at the railway a log that was passing down the chute rode a smaller log on the way and the end of the large log skidded around and struck the deceased in the breast and before he could be taken to camp life expired. Those who witnessed the accident state that the company was in no way to blame. The deceased was 26 years of age. The body will be taken to Moorehead where his parents reside and interred in his home city.

PORTLAND BOOMS LAND SHOW

Preliminary plans are going forward for making the Pacific Northwest Land Products Show, to be held in Portland November 18-23, the biggest and most successful land show ever given west of the Rocky Mountains. The management is getting in touch with commercial bodies and individual exhibitors of the territory to be represented and promises of liberal support are being received. Every district of the Northwest states has an opportunity in this "dirt show" for valuable exploitation.

The News tells it all.

CHURCH FEDERATION SPIRIT DELIGHTS

The Rev. W. A. Pratt, pastor of the Heppner M. E. church, made a trip down the Columbia last Saturday, preaching for the Federated church at Mosier Sunday morning and for the Baptist church of Hood River Sunday night, in exchange with Rev. Hargreaves, who preached here. He expresses himself as much taken with the operation of the Federated church at Mosier.

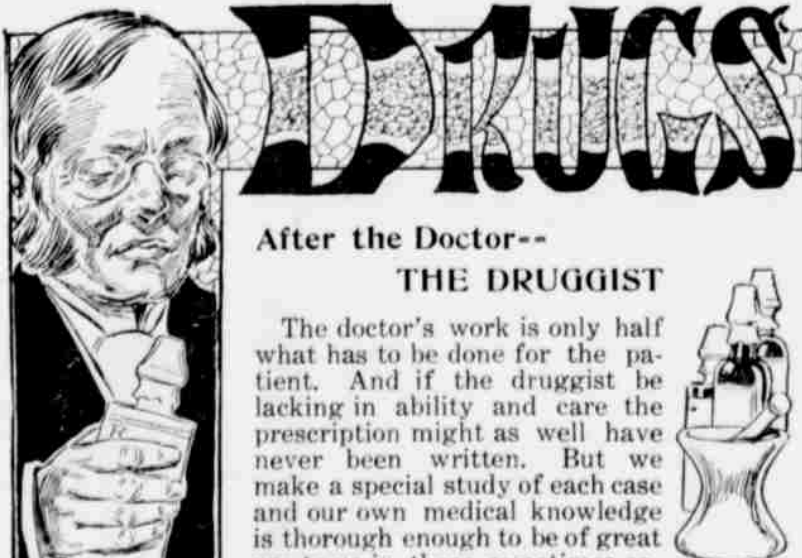

Rev. Hargreaves of Hood River addressed a mass meeting of the churches in Heppner on Sunday afternoon in the interests of federation. He is pastor of the Federated church at Mosier, is an intelligent speaker, and his address was well received.—Gazette-Times.

Ed Lage, while driving home, upset his wagon on the rock pile opposite the National Apple company's plant. Mrs. Lage was thrown to the ground and badly injured.

Walter McDougal, member of the grain shipping firm of Knight & McDougal, of Chicago, arrived in Hood River Monday and will remain for a few weeks to look after his fine apple orchard. The News acknowledges a pleasant call.

Mrs. Koberg, her daughter, Lena, and the baby had a narrow escape the latter part of the week while driving down the Koberg hill. The team became frightened and plunged down the grade throwing the occupants to the ground with a violence which caused them to sustain severe injuries.

After the Doctor—
THE DRUGGIST

The doctor's work is only half what has to be done for the patient. And if the druggist be lacking in ability and care the prescription might as well have never been written. But we make a special study of each case and our own medical knowledge is thorough enough to be of great use to us in those sometimes occurring cases when the doctor, in his haste, makes a slight error.
