HORSES WINTERED

DON'T send your team to eastern Oregon to winter and get a skeleton back that isn't fit to handle your spring work. Keep it here in the valley where you can see it at any time and see what good shape it is in. It will not cost you much more.

We have just put up some of the finest grain, timothy and alfalfa hay in the Upper Valley. We have a big stock barn and are prepared to care for a number of teams during the winter. We are making up our list now. If you want your team well cared for this winter, you had better write or phone for terms at once.

REAL BARGAINSW. S. NICHOL*INLAND EMPIRE
HIGHWAY PLANNED

Organization of "The Inland Empire Highway Association" has been undertaken by Peter Kuehnling of The Dalles, who secured over 100 members the last of the week and intends to perfect the organization soon. Mr. Kuehnling is cooperating with Samuel Hill in this big project. He recently made a missionary trip to this city, interviewing a number of road enthusiasts at the Commercial Club. Of the project he has now undertaken he says:

"The Inland Empire Highway Association will be born in this city within a few days. Its excuse for coming into existence is to aid the building of a highway system, which will make accessible to our own, as well as to those living to the south and north of us, the vast country known as Central Oregon. The first unit to be taken up will be the road from Portland up the Columbia valley through Central Oregon, touching Cascade Locks, Hood River, Mosier, The Dalles, Wasco, Moro, Grass Valley, Kent, Shaniko, Antelope, Prineville, Fort Rock, Paisley, Silver Lake and Lakeview, on to Alturas, California. At Prineville a branch will be run via Redmond, Bend, Crescent, on to Klamath Falls. Later on laterals will run to Crater Lake, Ice Caves and the Lava mountain, and other points of interest can be visited along the Cascade mountain range.

"In order to avoid any misunderstanding it might be well to state that the organization is not building any roads or highways; it will advocate them, aid in every way possible, solicit from the counties, state or nation, or from private individuals, and see to it that they are properly expended. It will watch the roads or any defects in them and report them to the proper authorities so as to have them looked after; will, at its own expense, build and place (if counties or communities refuse to do so) signs and information boards. It will advertise the existence of the highway by pamphlet and every other legitimate way; will help to get the traveler, the tourist, the homeseeker, the man looking for sport, to find the way; will try to make easier the way for the farmer, the rancher and the tiller of the soil."

WHITE SALMON

(From the Enterprise)

C. W. J. Reckers and family contemplate spending the winter in California.

Alfred Pascal of Appleton offers five acres of ground for a court house in the event that county division is accomplished and that point is voted the county seat.

The Northwestern Electric Co. recently filed a mortgage at Goldendale for $10,000,000, given to the Anglo American Banking Co. of San Francisco. The filing fee amounted to $42.

Mrs. Watrous, her sister and a friend from St. Paul were visitors in White Salmon this week. On Monday Messrs. Dean and Douglas, through whom the Watrous orchard on the hill was purchased from C. E. Blackwell, took them for an automobile tour of the Hood River valley.

The Ackley auto truck took a dozen cans containing several thousand trout fry to the Spring Creek ranch of Captain Spencer Friday night where they were dumped into the artificial lake which the Captain made by damming the creek. The artificial lake is part of a ranch home plan which has already called for the expenditure of a good many thousand dollars.

Ellis Stockton, White Salmon's base ball pitcher, lies in a Portland hospital badly injured. While at work with a logging truck near Wrights, on the Klakittat, he got under the rig to oil it. The horses were frightened and suddenly started up over turning the trucks. They fell across young Stockton's back and seriously injured him.

Fred Ripley and family and two other families from Colorado bought several hundred acres northeast of town a few months ago. They recently arrived from Colorado with the intention of living here, but not being able to find any vacant modern houses went to Hood River for the winter. In the spring they will move out and occupy their land. They are people of means and will begin active developments next year.

BOAT SERVICE TO CLOSE FOR SEASON

Steamer service between Portland and points on the Upper Columbia and Snake rivers will be discontinued by the Open River Transportation Company for the season on the return of the J. N. Teal to Portland October 30, according to a circular issued Saturday morning by A. B. Wastell, manager of the line. He urges shippers to move their freight without delay in order that they may obtain the benefit of water rates while the line is in operation. The circular follows:

"The last through sailing dates of the Open River Line for this season making connections to landings beyond Celilo are Thursday, October 17 and 24, leaving Portland 7 a. m. Freight delivery should be made on Wednesday previous at Oak street dock for Columbus, Arlington, Roosevelt, Alderdale, Irrigon, Umatilla, Kennewick, Pasco, Richland, Hanford, and White Bluffs.

"Get the benefit of water rates by crowding your shipments of Fall apples now. 'Route, open-river line.'

"Special attention given to rail distribution out of The Dalles, Arlington, Umatilla, Kennewick and Pasco.

"Steamer J. N. Teal will make local landings with passengers and freight out of Portland 7 a. m. every Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday up to and including October 29, for Mount Pleasant, Cape Horn, McGowan, Butlers, Cascade Locks, Stevenson, Carson, Collins, Cooke, Underwood, White Salmon, Bingen, Hood River, Mosier, Lyle and The Dalles. "Operations will be discontinued for this season October 30 upon return of Steamer J. N. Teal to Portland."

OLDEST REPUBLICAN PAPER FOR WILSON

More than a year ago—September 21, 1911, to be exact—the Sacramento Union declared editorially that it would support Woodrow Wilson for nomination for the Presidency. The Union has never been a Democratic organ, nor has it ever before supported a Democrat for the Presidency. Yet it is the oldest daily newspaper on the Pacific Coast, the oldest west of the Missouri river, and older than the Republican Party itself. In a recent editorial the paper commented upon its stand in part as follows:

"We feel that in this the Union is typical of an element of former Republicanism that must now be rated as independent in politics, and which will be found this year ranged with practically the whole of the La Follette Republicans and many who opposed La Follette's radicalism, under the Wilson banner. We preferred Wilson to La Follette, we preferred him to Taft, to Roosevelt, to any other Democrat, or to any other man in public life today.

"The pennant of political independence flies at the Union's masthead, and we are not to be rated among those who are temporarily out of sympathy with the 'Grand Old Party,' ready to return if given a good excuse. But the process of selection which brought us to Wilson is the plain path of logic along which hundreds of thousands of life-long Republicans are travelling with us.

"There are gray-haired Republicans in every section of the land who have been waiting all their lives for the Republican party to make good its promises of an honest application of the protective tariff policy. They have waited in vain. Lincoln declared the danger of tariff-fed trusts. Garfield, Blaine, McKinley, all sounded the note of alarm. A tariff where none was needed has never been good Republican doctrine, but it has always been Republican practice. Then came Roosevelt, who never so much as mentioned the tariff during his seven years' incumbency except to give out a statement from the White House once that 'after conferring with Messrs. Cannon and Aldrich, the President had decided that there would be no tariff revision.' Taft promised a tariff measured by the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, but we did not get it. Taft and Roosevelt both repeat the same idle promise this year. Only a sedulously cultivated fear of free trade if the Democrats got into power, has kept millions or more of honest tariff Republicans in line for two generations."
