RAILROADS TO BE DIVORCED

Kruttschnitt Says S. P. Will Treat U. P. as Eastern Road
San Francisco.—Julius Kruttschnitt of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific company, succeeding Robert Lovett, who resigned to take the chairmanship of the Union Pacific board, has written a letter to executives of the Southern Pacific in this city advising that on February 1 the Southern Pacific will operate independently of the Union Pacific in every way.

On that date, Mr. Kruttschnitt says, the complete divorce of the Southern from the Union Pacific will be established. In all such matters as routing or shipping contracts, the Southern Pacific will be expected to consider the Union Pacific, if an eastern line must be considered therein, on an equality with such roads as the Denver & Rio Grande. Preferential clauses in contracts or agreements favoring the Union Pacific will be under the Southern Pacific ban, it is understood.

Mackinaw Strikes Going Out of Port

Los Angeles.—The steel freight steamer Mackinaw, en route from Balboa, Panama, to San Francisco, via Los Angeles, struck the breakwater at the entrance to San Pedro harbor in a heavy fog and came into the harbor after several of the crew had been taken in the boats in the belief that the vessel was sinking.

SICKLES' ARREST ORDERED

Albany, N. Y.—Upon application of the state authorities, the supreme court issued an order for the arrest of General Daniel Sickles, of New York, who as chairman of the New York Monuments commission is alleged to have failed to account for $28,476 of the commission's funds.

The total amount of the alleged shortage was $33,476, but on December 20 last Stanton Sickles, a son of the general, paid the state $5000 and promised to make good the remainder as soon as certain property in Spain, owned by Mrs. Sickles, could be sold. The order for General Sickles' arrest comes as a climax of a distinguished and picturesque career. Born in New York in 1825, of a wealthy family, General Sickles served as a soldier, legislator and diplomat. At the outbreak of the civil war General Sickles raised and equipped at his own expense, five regiments of volunteers, and as colonel of one of them went to the front. He participated in most of the great battles of the war, including Gettysburg, where he lost a leg, and achieved distinction for bravery, being rewarded by promotion to the rank of major-general.

Miss Ruth Cooper of Underwood was here Friday to attend the Guild dance.

PRESS AGENT SHOW WRITE-UP DELAYED

Right on the job and keen after all the essential details, the press agent for the big musical comedy "Jane," presented here by local talent a few days ago, "fell down" in one respect only. He neglected to inform the newspapers of the big doings and as a consequence this production—one of the greatest local dramatic successes of the year—failed to receive the recognition last week which it so amply deserved.

The three-act comedy, the principal characters in which were taken by talented local comedians, scored a distinct hit when given before a crowded house. The leading characters were taken by such local stars as R. E. Scott, C. F. Gilbert, Arthur Clarke, J. P. Lucas, Herbert Phillips, Harriett Hansen, Florence Schmelzler, Ethel Kier and Mrs. J. P. Lucas.

The comedy was full of action and abounded in laughable situations of which the caste made the most. Gilbert and Clarke rivaled Weber and Fields as laugh-provoking comedians. It transpired after the show that Clarke had let slip the remark before the performance that he was going to spring something new on his side partner and "get his goat" before the audience. Wind of this scheme reached Gilbert, it is said, and upon his first opportunity, while Clarke was still a little frustrated, demanded "what his name was, anyway." For the life of him Clarke couldn't remember that his euphonious stage label was "Kershaw" and for half a minute you could have knocked him over with a feather, so his fellow comedians declare. However, he recovered sufficiently to carry through his part in an effective manner.

The program was interspersed with pleasing musical numbers rendered by a chorus which was composed of the following:
Marie Bartmess, Lillian Brock, Ethel McDonald, Elizabeth King, Dorothy Baker, Jessie Howes, Elizabeth Carson, Myrtle Husbands, Marion Howe, Ella McDonald, Jewel Taylor, Gertrude Nickelsen, Ruth Harris, Hilma Imholz, Wilma Thompson, Ruth Barrett, Clara Rand, Katherine Baker, Mary Whitehead, May Klinger, Lena Bartlett, Frances Castner, Florence Castner, Beatrice Shreve. These performed their part extraordinarily well. The entire performance, which was produced under the direction of W. E. Graham, was most creditable. It was presented under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church.

He was out of town while the inquisitorial body was in session and was taken into custody upon his return. Mr. Goodrich has dedicated pipe organs and given organ recitals in numerous towns in this state, arranged and carried out the successful visit of the Portland Festival Chorus to the A.-Y.-P. Exposition at Seattle, '09; has been organist and choir director of St. Mary's Cathedral since 1907, is a composer of church music published by Eastern firms, and has also arranged music for voice and organ. Monte Hawthorne was seriously injured and might easily have been killed on Saturday. He was driving in a small cutter when his horse fell in an ice hole on a Hood River street, throwing Mr. Hawthorne out. He held to the lines and was thrown against another rig. His head was seriously hurt and Dr. Watt said his neck came near being broken. He was taken to Mrs. Stewart's unconscious and was in a semi-unconscious state until near midnight. Roscoe Miller brought him home. At this writing he is around again and everyone will congratulate him on his narrow escape.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Masiker are at home at C. C. Masiker's place.

Miss Hope Shelley is at St. Mary's Hospital, Albany, as a nurse there. The snow still persists from Neal Creek out, but one needs two rigs to go to town. A heavy Chinook took off half the snow but it froze up again.

Sunday School will be at 10:30 next Sunday morning at the Union church. Rev. Troy Shelley will not hold any services next Sunday.

Mr. Fox and Peter Lenz, and a cousin of Mrs. Rose Odell, are here from the East to see the country. Mr. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shelley and daughter dined on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Walter. Principal Rushe was ill a day last week. The lagrippe has been quite prevalent at Odell.
