

DRUGS

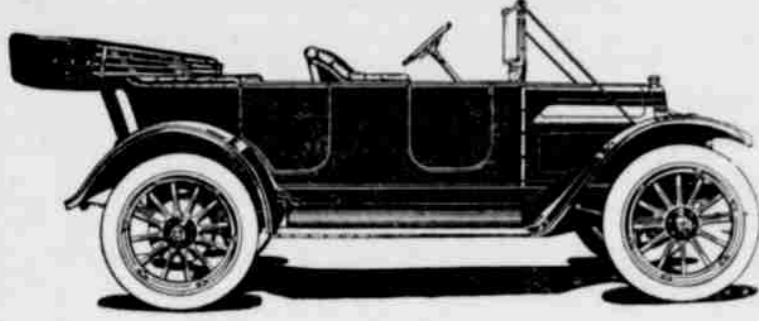

After the Doctor--
THE DRUGGIST

The doctor's work is only half what has to be done for the patient. And if the druggist be lacking in ability and care the prescription might as well have never been written. But we make a special study of each case and our own medical knowledge is thorough enough to be of great use to us in those sometimes occurring cases when the doctor, in his haste, makes a slight error.

WASCO ORCHARDISTS FAVOR NEW LAW

At a recent meeting of the Wasco County Fruit Growers' Association resolutions were adopted favoring the new horticultural bill framed by a committee of 19 at a meeting of the State Horticultural Society and now before the Legislature. These resolutions were in part as follows:

There has been much fault found with those whose duty it was to look after and prevent or destroy horticultural pests and diseases and nearly all attempts on the part of those in authority have met with opposition.

A great many old and worthless orchards continue to spread infectious diseases to other orchards. We believe that under an individual head, who would be solely responsible to the people, the owners of these infected trees could be convinced that it is for the good of all that such diseased orchards should be treated and destroyed. In this manner a policy could be carried out that would convince the owner that the work of the commissioner of horticulture is constructive and not destructive.

The faults of the present laws are not, we believe, in the individual members, whose duty it is to enforce them, but in the system at present in vogue. We believe that power should be vested in an individual head and that the head be held responsible to his constituency and that if the life of his office depend upon his succeeding it would prove more effectual than when vested in so many heads.

Under the present law the members of the board are not expected to make their living off the office they are appointed to but from some other business. This fact, of itself, puts the sting of disappointment in the enforcement of the law for to insist on its enforcement might touch the economic interest of the member of the board and to protect his own monetary welfare he becomes slack in the enforcement of the law. The services necessary are of enough importance to employ the entire time and attention of a well-drilled corps of efficient experts.

Appointive power under the new law would be vested in the Governor of Oregon, the president of the state horticultural society, and the horticulturalist of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, instead of the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer.

We believe that this change is of the greatest concern to fruit growers of our state and we ask you to support this bill in behalf of your own constituency. The said bill is that drawn up by the committee of nineteen members chosen by the state horticultural society of Oregon in convention assembled at Portland, November 22, 1912.

The Viewers' Report on the proposed road petitioned for by A. O. Adams and others was read the first and second time in open court and ordered passed such readings.

It appeared to the court that there are not sufficient funds on hand to cash warrants, the clerk is instructed to draw warrants in denominations of $1,000 and deliver same to the treasurer when he shall call for them. Such warrants shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of $8,000, and these warrants are to be registered for the purpose of obtaining funds to cash smaller warrant issued to meet current expenses.

The following tax levies were made and the clerk ordered to apply same on the 1912 Assessment Roll:
State—1.2 mills.
General County—2.1 mills.
General County School—1.5 mills.
General Road—5 mills.
County Library—2 mills.

and it was further ordered that the clerk also apply the following special levies on said Roll:

School District No. 14—3 mills.
School District No. 15—3 mills.
School District No. 16—5 mills.
Road District No. 7—7 mills.
City of Hood River—8 mills.

It appearing from the report of the grand jury that said body recommended to this court the present fruit inspector be not paid the salary of $2500 previously fixed by the court, but that only the per diem fixed by statute be allowed as compensation for fruit inspector. And from this date the inspector will be paid such per diem allowance, and that the office occupied by the fruit inspector be closed February 1, 1913.

In the matter of the petition of J. E. Ferguson and others for the organization of an irrigation district, it appearing to the court that in pursuance to an order previously made by this court ordering an election to be held on the 14th of January, 1913, for the purpose of determining whether an irrigation district should be created, and that this 20th day of January 1913, is the day provided by law for the county court to canvass the vote at said election. And from the canvass of such vote it appears that more than the required three-fifths vote are "Irrigation District—Yes," namely, 156 votes in favor of creating said district and 36 votes against it. It is therefore ordered that said district has been duly organized, and that it shall be known under the style and name of "East Fork Irrigation District."

And it further appearing from the canvass of the votes cast for the various officers for said district that the following named person received the highest number of votes for the offices named below, and are hereby declared elected:
Assessor—R. H. Waugh.

Director Division No. 5—E. Hawkes.

Please remember to post the dates of proposed public gatherings in the directory of entertainments at the public library.

BLOOM AS YET RATHER IRREGULAR

According to its annual custom, the Davidson Fruit Company has been nursing along for the past few weeks a number of twigs taken from trees of different varieties throughout the valley, the object being to predict the number of fruit spurs on the different varieties.

As yet not all have put forth these shoots. The older Spitz trees, however, already show an average number of buds. The Jonathans are full of buds, as is usually the case with this prolific bloomer. The Winter Bananas show a goodly number of fruit spurs, but not as many as the Jonathans. The Winter Banana twigs, however, were taken from young trees. New-towns are not yet along far enough to predict their probable yield. Black Twigs show a full bloom. Baldwin and Ben Davis buds are not all developed, but the Ben Davis twigs show the least fruit buds of any of the varieties.

CONFER ON RIVER ROAD

Railroad Officials and Multnomah Co. Court Adjust Differences

Officials of the O. W. R. & N. and the Multnomah county court conferred yesterday in regard to a proposition of constructing a portion of the proposed Hood River scenic road on the railway company's right of way along the Columbia river.

If possible arrangements will be made with the company to allow this, as the old survey indicates that the roadway, if constructed as originally planned, would be unusually steep in places, where an easy grade could be obtained by encroaching on the railroad right of way.

The proposition was broached to the company's officials recently by the county commissioners, and they afterwards received a letter informing them that the railroad's representatives were ready to confer with them at any time.
