

POPE PIUS X.

Pope Pius X, whose condition was reported improved, suffered a relapse, due to reluctance to submit to strict medical regime.

ONE IN EVERY EIGHT IS HURT

Of 145,000 Engaged in Hazardous Work 19,226 Injured.

Olympia.—In the state of Washington one man in every eight who are engaged in hazardous or extra hazardous occupations, as defined by the industrial insurance law, is injured, and one in every 50 who are injured is injured fatally. These astounding figures are discovered in the report of the state commission for the first 17 months of its work.

During that period 145,000 persons were engaged in hazardous work. The accidents brought before the commission totaled 19,226, and the deaths resulting 406.

An average of $2000 per day is paid by the industries of the state to injured workers or their heirs.

I. W. W. Take Train.

Colorado Springs.—Commandeering a Rock Island freight train that left Pueblo Sunday night, 102 Industrial Workers of the World recently ordered out of Grand Junction, Colo., obtained transportation to this city, where they were met by the entire police department. They were herded to the police station for the night and, after being supplied with breakfast, were escorted from the city.

STATE TROOPS CAPTURE NAGO

Naco, Ariz.—General Pedro Ojeda, commanding the remnants of his federal garrison of 300 troopers at Naco, Sonora, surrendered to the United States troops on border patrol here, after having withstood a siege of state troops which lasted for five days, and in which more than half his troopers were killed.

The surrender was hastened by the attack on the federal garrison by the band of Yaqui Indians under General Alvaro Obregon, commanding state troops. The dead on both sides has been estimated at 200, and the fortifications are strewn more than 100 bodies, shot, cut and horribly mutilated.

General Ojeda, true to his promise, refused to surrender. While the fighting was at its height he attempted to march across the border with his small band. The fire from the enemy was demoralizing, and Ojeda and his men ran and became scattered.

Captain H. A. Stewart, Company A, Ninth United States cavalry, ran alone to Ojeda's assistance.

The American officer grasped the Mexican general by the arm. Together they ran in a hall of lead to where an automobile was awaiting.

Freight and His Four Associates Free.

Chicago.—Albert C. Frost, former president and promoter of the Alaska Central railroad, and his four co-defendants, George M. Seward, Pierre G. Beach, Frank Watson and George C. Ball, all interested in the development of the road, were found not guilty in the federal court here of conspiracy to obtain illegally millions of dollars' worth of coal lands in the Matanuska Valley, Alaska.

John Deere Ironclad Wagons
"Ironclad Where There's Wear"

Careful consideration, when buying a wagon, must be given to material, workmanship and special features. Material and workmanship determine durability and special features serviceability.

Material
Because good hickory is scarce and hard to get, many attempts have been made to substitute some other wood for hickory in wagon axles. Nothing has been found, as yet, that will compare with hickory for strength and resiliency.

While oak, which is conceded best for hubs, hounds and spokes, is more plentiful than hickory, there is a tendency to put woods of inferior grades into wagons, on account of high prices of both hickory and oak.

Only selected air-seasoned hickory and oak are used in the gears of John Deere Ironclad Wagons. The supply comes from thousands of acres of hardwoods, maintained by scientific and conservative cutting.

Long leaf yellow pine bottoms reinforced with five oak staves or cleats are used in the boxes. Hard and tough wood—carefully selected and tested for the purpose—forms the box sides.

Workmanship
Good workmanship is absolutely necessary. Material alone will not make a wagon durable. Parts must be constructed correctly as well as proportioned right to stand the wear and strain put upon them. Only after a feature has been thoroughly tried out and proven advantageous, is it put on John Deere Ironclad Wagons. There is a practical reason for every part being made as it is.

Patterns and templates are used everywhere in our shops. A close must have the right amount of pitch and gather in relation to the dish of the wheels. This insures light draft.

Felloes are connected with dowel pins at the joints. Before any iron is placed on the wheels they are immersed in boiled linseed oil. This fills pores and penetrates joints, making wheel moisture proof.

Painting is done by experienced painters with paint ground and mixed especially for the purpose.

Special Features
Ten Clips on axle (four on the front gear and six on the rear gear) distribute the load evenly. This means strength.

Extra long, heavy and wide wrought iron Bolster Plates cannot come loose or break. Not furnished on other wagons.

Wrought Steel Skins, receiving practically full size of axles, are set perfectly tight. Skins cannot come loose.

Patented King Bolt Bushing acts as a pivot for the gear and prevents wear. A great improvement over the old style.

Solid Beach Box, the Beach that will never wear out. Special Ironing on the Box and the Reinforced Tongue, are more of the superior John Deere Ironclad Features.

Remember, it's quality that gives you satisfaction after years of use.

Mrs. Charles G. Lemmon left last week for a visit of a week or ten days with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Snow, in Portland.

Arthur L. Cuning of Coos, Wash., spent a few days last week at the home of his brother, H. Cuning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dyer are here to spend the summer on their ranch, having lived in Portland for the past year and a half.

Work is commencing around the logging camps at Green Point, the Stanley-Smith teams and several men having made the trip there within the past few weeks though the snow is still too deep to begin active work in the mill.

Good weather, a large turn-out of people, a delicious lunch served by the ladies of Oak Grove, an excellent program by the school children and interesting and inspiring addresses by prominent men all helped to make the meeting in the new school house Saturday the success that it was.

Sunday School will convene hereafter at 10:15 in the morning every Sunday instead of in the afternoon. Church services will be held every other Sunday at 11 o'clock. As there was church last Sunday there will be none next week.

ODELL

Miss Vida Smith visited her aunt, Mrs. E. E. Gould last week on her way from Alberta to California.

Mrs. M. J. Lundy, mother of Mrs. E. E. Gould, celebrated her 81st birthday last Tuesday. The day was made delightful by gifts and remembrances from many friends who appreciate a lovable old age. Mrs. Lundy's ancestors, coming from Pennsylvania and New York, settled at Niagara Falls on the Canadian side. Her husband's people are from the stock of those who fought at "Lundy's Lane." They moved to North Dakota over thirty years ago and about 12 years ago to the Pacific Coast. Mrs. Lundy attended the Chautauqua at Gladstone Park last summer and no one seeing her could believe her age to be 81.

Will Sherman's big apple house is the scene of much activity. He is having his apples, which have been in cold storage through the winter, packed for the Portland market. J. M. Shelley is also packing his Newtowns that are stored there.

Dane Kemp is in Santa Barbara and is much better but is waiting until spring has come to stay. He and Mrs. Kemp and daughter will then return for the summer.

The ladies of the Federated church will give a hot supper Friday evening beginning at six o'clock and continuing as long as supper is desired at Odd Fellows' Hall. Supper for adults 25 cents; for children, 10 cents. After supper a social time will be enjoyed and Mr. Hargreaves will give a short talk. He will preach next Sunday night.

Last week, Louis Baldwin, well known throughout this country, received word of the serious illness of his wife, who with her mother, was wintering in California. Before he could start another telegram informed him of her death. He met the remains at Portland. Mrs. Baldwin, before her marriage, was Miss Koontz, granddaughter of Peter Ruefner, a pioneer of Mill Creek. Her funeral was held from the Hood River Imperial Church Monday afternoon. The death of so young a wife and mother appeals powerfully to our sympathy.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson was very ill last Thursday but is happily recovered.

The Sunday School Institute held at the M. E. church last Thursday was well attended and very successful. Mr. Phipps does much to increase interest in Sunday School work and had a good meeting.

OREGON RAISING LIVESTOCK

Since last August not a hog has been imported into this state. This is the encouraging news made public the past week by C. C. Colt, head of the Union Meat Company, Portland, who says Oregon farmers are going extensively into the business of stock raising.

During 1911, more than half the total number of hogs received at the Portland market came from Nebraska. Last year, this number decreased to a remarkable extent and now it appears that Oregon will not need to import any more pork in order to feed its own people. On the other hand, we may soon be in a position to make substantial shipments outside the state.

Mr. Colt submitted figures showing that the livestock industry in Oregon is five times greater than fruit growing and greater than wheat, wool and dairy products combined.

A soft answer may not turn away wrath, but it saves a lot of useless talk.

St. Mark's Church Notes

Word has been received that the new minister, Rev. Mr. MacNamara, will not be able to be here for next Sunday, but he will arrive from Glendive, Montana, the last of the month. Bishop Paddock will arrive tomorrow (Thursday.) He will conduct a baptismal service for infants at five o'clock that afternoon. There will be evening services with address Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Both of these services have changed from Friday.

Confirmation services will be held Sunday with Bishop Paddock in charge. These services will begin at 10:30 o'clock instead of 11 as usual.

Unitarian Church

Next Sunday morning at the Unitarian church the subject will be "Unitarianism and the Poets." The sermon will show a close analogy between the spirit of the great poets and liberal Christianity. Since Milton, the orthodox system of theology has never been embodied in any great poem. The poets are concerned with both practical and spiritual religion. The greatest poets are the deepest thinkers and deep thinking leads to permanent reform. This sermon also will deal with doubt and progress.

Evening service at 6:30 with musical program.

Christian Science

Christian Science services are held in the Reading Room, Room 2, Davidson Building, Sunday at 11 a. m. Subject, "Doctrine of Atonement." Sunday School will be held as usual at 10 a. m. Wednesday meeting at 8 p. m. The reading room is open daily from 2 to 5 p. m.

COLLEGE COW PRODUCTIVE

Nine Hundred Pounds Milk and 47 of Butter Yielded in Month

Students of dairy husbandry at O. A. C. who have been keeping records of the milk and butter fat production of a number of the younger cows in the college herd have just closed a month's test on Amy's Euybria Daughter (260822), a 3-year-old Jersey, and the report showing that she produced 46.77 pounds of butter fat per month plainly indicates that she may easily establish a record making her eligible for the Jersey register of merit.

The requirement of butter fat from a Jersey of this age is 29.28 pounds during the year, an average of 24.4 pounds per month. Amy's Euybria Daughter has given 22.37 pounds above the standard. Her total production during the month was 975 pounds.
