WHY BOYS AND GIRLS GO WRONG

Pine Grove, April 21, 1913.
Editor News: Much is being written in our newspapers and periodicals regarding the social evil and it is surely time for the people to wake up on this most important subject.

There are probably as many reasons why the boys go wrong as there are why the girls do. In the estimation of the writer one should receive as much attention and protection as the other. It is a poor rule that does not equally apply in both cases. If boys were treated differently there would be better girls and vice versa. There is a great work to perform in the world. Every society ought to spend a good share of its time working on problems to save the men and women of the future. All can do good in this direction.

The first to think about is helping to prevent evils from getting a stronghold. The home, the church and the school should be alert to every opportunity in this trying age. Upon these quarters the most dependence is placed—but many failures occur here, where we may naturally expect so much help, omission of duties, not commission of wrongs, being the leading cause. It is much easier to keep evil out than to get it out when once firmly established. If fathers and mothers, teachers and officers of the law would do their duty better there would not be so much to fear.

When, in our cities especially, young people are allowed to run the streets at night, go to places of amusement, dance halls, card parties and banquets where beer and wine form the principal beverages, where cigarettes figure conspicuously as a part of the menu, where will be found low jests and laughter—it is not surprising our boys and girls are so imperfect.

Blessed are the children who are brought up on the farm until the critical age of their lives have passed, and who are taught to love the farm, where intoxicants are never allowed in the home, where from the first they are taught total abstinence as one of the strongest safeguards in after years; where pure literature and good associates are theirs to enjoy, where they are taught responsibility and courage, generosity and justice. Then when they do leave the home nest they will be better prepared to fight against the wrongs of society.

Finally, if more attention is given to good characters and firm principles we will have better boys and girls and the future will take care of itself.

JULIA A. HUNT.

Unitarian Church

Next Sunday morning at the Unitarian church, Mr. MacDonald will try to answer some of the questions people are asking about the authenticity of the records of Jesus' life. The theme will be "The Synoptic Gospels." How were they written? Are they infallible? At the evening service at 6:30 the musical program will be of the same high order as during the last two months. Edward Hill will give a reading. All are invited to these services.

True-to-Name Nursery has opened an office in town on corner opposite from Oregon Hotel and samples of trees can be seen in tree yard adjoining office. Mr. Galligan will be at the office Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

PASMORE TRIO IS COMING TOMORROW

A musical attraction which is said to be of exceptional merit is coming to Hood River tomorrow (Thursday) when the Pasmore Trio will appear at the opera house in the final number on the U. B. ladies' lyceum course. An appreciation of the trio is copied as follows:

The Pasmore Trio is composed of American girls, and is America's finest trio. The critics of Europe have placed it in the foremost rank of the world's greatest chamber-music organizations. The violinist of the trio is a pupil of the great French virtuoso, Emile Sauret; the pianist received her training under the guidance of Xaver Scharwenka; the violinist pursued her studies with Anton Hekking, while the trio has done much ensemble work under the last named master.

For 12 years, without interruption and without change in the personnel of their organization, the Pasmoreos have studied and played together. These years of constant association have resulted in ensemble which is as nearly perfect as it is possible for ensemble playing to be. Because of this, the Pasmore Trio measures head and shoulders above any similar organization in this country.

FEDERATION IS COMMENDED

United Churches of Mosier and Odell Much Pleased with the Result

Federated churches of Mosier and Odell met Sunday afternoon and evening at Odell and congratulated each other upon the success that has been attained under the new regime. The delegation from Mosier included Dr. Robinson, Mr. Ross, the banker, Dr. Johnson and Mr. Husbands. Dr. Johnson is a missionary to Korea and gave an interesting talk on that work. Several persons gave short talks and all were favorably impressed with the work of the federated churches. Leslie Butler also spoke briefly commending the movement and wishing it success. The three churches now included in the federation are the Immanuel church of this city, the Union church at Odell and the Federated church at Mosier. The federation has been effected under the guidance of Rev. J. R. Hargreaves of this city.
