TRAILER HITCH

A runaway yard debris trailer damaged St. Mark's Episcopal Church entryway Wednesday just before 3 p.m. Kenton Chandler of Hood River Towing prepares to remove the trailer from where it struck the church's south entryway. Herman Lopez of Green Machine said he was towing the trailer eastbound when the tow chain snapped, sending the trailer into the side of the building. No one was injured. The trailer hitched knocked out some shingle siding and the handrail. There was no apparent damage to the foundation, though the full extent will be known once an inspection is done, according to Rev. Anna Carmichael, who was in her office and heard the trailer slam into the building. The trailer narrowly missed Carmichael's parked vehicle. No citation was issued.

Scholar of the Month program starts at HRV

In an effort to highlight and recognize outstanding students, Hood River Valley High School recently instituted a Scholar of the Month program.

Students are honored for their outstanding performance within the different departments at HRVHS. Teachers in the different department areas nominate students, whereupon the Department Chair makes a recommendation to the school administration for that month's outstanding student.

Students are recognized in the following department areas: English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, The Arts, Career Education, Leadership, World Languages, PE/Health and Principal's Choice. The Principal's Choice represents students who were nominated by a teacher, counselor or administrator that has been displaying excellence in a content area that may not "fit" into any of the aforementioned departments.

Students of the month receive a gift card to a local coffee shop, a certificate with their name and their picture displayed on a new Student of the Month board, prominently placed in the front entrance of HRVHS, near the main office. Additionally, each student will be recognized at the Evening of Excellence awards night in May.

HRVHS Principal Rich Polkinghorn said, "We are proud of the hard work these outstanding students have put into their academics. Being selected as student of the month is a formal acknowledgement of diligence and work ethic. One of our focal points for the year is to bring into focus the outstanding academic achievements of our students. This is one way in which we are doing that. These students are to be commended."
