HRVHS seeks employers for Community Work Day

Hood River Valley High School (HRVHS) is supporting the 18th annual Community Work Day (CWD) Wednesday, April 29.

CWD is an opportunity for students from HRVHS to partner with local business owners or individuals for five hours to do work for the business/individual. For five hours of a student's time, the business/individual pledges a $50 donation to HRVHS/CWD. All money raised by the students for CWD experience is donated to local non-profit organizations.

Local non-profit organizations are invited to present to a student panel on April 9 at 2:10 p.m. The purpose is to familiarize the students with the organization. Students will vote to decide which and how much money the organization(s) receives. Past Community Work Day events have generated upwards of $20,000; this money is donated to local non-profit organizations.

If your organization is interested in presenting or if you are interested in sponsoring a student (or multiple students,) contact Wendy Herman by April 7 at 541-387-5034 ext.1 or wendy.herman@hoodriver.k12.or.us.
