

'GOOD PEOPLE' TO OPEN MAY 8

Bingo is the setting as the trying lives of South Boston residents intertwine in oft-surprising ways, in David Lindsay Abaire's "Good People". The drama with some very realistic humor is the newest CAST production, opening May 8 at Columbia Center for the Arts. Kim Robichaud (Jean), center, reacts to news from Stevie (Angel Reyes) while Dottie (Rona Klein) checks her cards. This is the first CAST appearance for Reyes and Klein, while Robichaud has appeared in numerous shows since the mid-1990s. Judie Hanel directs, in her last full production since helping found CAST in 1977, See Happenings, page A9 for tickets and times.

A taste of HRVHS cinema May 8

The first ever Hood River Independent Film Festival is coming to Hood River Valley High School on Friday, May 8. Catch the action at the high school's Bowe Theater at 7 p.m.

Audiences of all ages will witness 11 student-made films, as well as a professional surfing action film, "The Cradle of Storms," by Second Wind Sports. The student films will be three minutes or less and range from sports action to animation.

The event, hosted by the Hood River Education Foundation, offers a high stakes grand prize for the winning director: a $500 college scholarship for creative visual arts. There will also be a people's choice award, said Hood River Education Foundation board member Mike Schend.

Admission to the film festival is free, but donations to the Education Foundation will be encouraged.

To catch some impressive student-filmed videos from the HRVHS media program, follow the links below:

"Eagle Nation," by Myles Cameron, Owen Kozec and Noah Tauscher. This school spirit anthem took first at the Oregon School Activities Association's "#1 Student Section" contest last fall, as well as "What Makes your School Rock," a national music video contest hosted in April by Jostens and the Grammy Foundation.

www.youtube.com/watch?v=VaTYFBYiNK "A Day at the Timber-

vimeo.com/89421450 "Blue and Yellow," by Brendan Kerr and Eric Nance. This parody of rapper Wiz Khalifa's "Black and Yellow" puts an HRVHS spin on the lyrics and features a wide cast of students showing their Eagle pride.
