Art Center showcases 'Best Of The Gorge'

The Columbia Center for the Arts (CCA) will host a two-month art show celebrating the best artwork produced by Mid-Columbia River Gorge residents. The 2015 Best of the Gorge exhibition has become an annual event that brings visitors from around the world to experience some of the finest art in the region. The show runs June 5 through August 2 at the Columbia Center for the Arts, 215 Cascade Street, Hood River.

"We created Best of the Gorge to showcase the quality and diversity of artists who live and work in the Columbia Gorge. We hope to make it a tradition," said Christine Knowles, co-curator with artist Bill Sturman. "CCA's Best of the Gorge show is the premiere show featuring the fine art work created by residents of our mid-Columbia area — paintings, drawings, ceramics, glass, sculpture, fiber, photography, mixed media, and more," said Sturman.

The Columbia River Gorge is known as a thriving art scene and is home to a vast array of well-known and emerging artists. Works in both 2D and 3D will be on display, in a variety of media, including drawing, painting, photography, glass, ceramics, sculpture, and mixed media.

CCA has engaged Jennifer Zika, Curator of the Portland Art Museum Sales and Rental Gallery as the juror for the 2015 show for this premier exhibition. Zika is well-versed in numerous media, both 2D and 3D, and is highly qualified to evaluate the creativity and technique expressed therein and has juried numerous regional art exhibitions. She will be selecting individual works to be included in the show and also selecting the prize winners. This show is g underwritten by Celilo Restaurant & Bar, Copper West Properties, and the Gorge Magazine.

The opening of the show will be celebrated at an evening reception on June 5, the month's First Friday, from 6-8 pm. Singer/songwriter Kay Floria will be accompanying herself on the piano, with Randy Bell on bass. Juror Jennifer Zika will be in attendance and will share what she saw in the prize-winning pieces that made them stand out. The exhibition artists will be in attendance as well. This event is open to the public.

Pulitzer Prize author Megan Marshall at Klindts June 6

Klindt's Booksellers and Stationers, Oregon's oldest bookstore, will host author Megan Marshall June 6, for an evening featuring her Pulitzer Prize winning biography, "Margaret Fuller; A New American Life." Marshall will offer a reading and informal question-and-answer session followed by book signing. The Pines winery will be on site pouring wine by the glass and Klindt's will provide refreshments.

The event is free and open to the public. Klindt's is located at 315 East Second St.,

The Dalles.

In "Margaret Fuller; A New American Life," Marshall illuminates the life of an amazing American figure. Fuller was an editor of Thoreau, a friend to Emerson, and America's first female war correspondent. She lived a life of independence and complete originality in a time when women belonged, in the eye of the law, to their husbands.

Marshall teaches nonfiction writing and archival research in the MFA Creative Writing Program at Emerson College.

A member of the American Heritage Dictionary's Usage Panel, Marshall has published numerous essays and reviews in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, Slate Online, The New York Times Book Review, The London Review of Books, The New Republic, The Boston Review, and elsewhere. Her biography, "The Peabody Sisters," won the Francis Parkman Prize, the Mark Lynton History Prize, the Massachusetts Book Award in nonfiction, and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in biography and memoir in 2006. A recipient of fellowships from the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Dorothy and Lewis B. Cullman Center for Scholars and Writers at the New York Public Library, and the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard University, Marshall also received the first Outstanding Teacher Award presented by the Emerson College Graduate Student Association in 2012.
