Hood River Saturday Market opens for 2015 season

HOOD RIVER Saturday Market celebrates its 25th anniversary this summer with a new location: Oak Street Pub, located on the corner of Fourth and Oak streets. The market will run from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays through September.

"We're thrilled to try a new, more central location this year with live music and a wide selection of rotating vendors every week," says Zak Lance, Market Manager. Gorge Grown polled vendors and shoppers to determine when and where to hold the market this year in hopes of increasing attendance. Holding the Saturday Market in the heart of downtown will add a new burst of energy and increase the appeal for shoppers to enjoy all of the great businesses downtown. The market will also host a community table, where home gardeners can sell extra fruit and veggies from their backyards with no long-term commitment. Contact zak@gorge-grown.com for more information. The market accepts Farm Direct Nutrition Program checks as well as EBT and debit cards.

BLM issues fireworks ban, urges caution

Effective June 1, the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) prohibits the use of fireworks and exploding targets on all BLM-managed public lands throughout Oregon and Washington. The ban will be in effect from June 1 to Oct. 15.

This year's low snowpack combined with warmer than normal weather patterns over much of Oregon and lower elevations in eastern Washington may boost the potential for possible wildfires. In recent years we've had longer fire seasons. Fires are burning hotter and longer fueling the costs of fire suppression.

"Summer is the time for families and friends to get outside and enjoy our public lands. Please do so carefully. Help protect our wildlife habitats, watersheds, rangelands, and forests — the lands that work for you," said Jerry Perez, State Director for BLM Oregon/Washington.

Those who ignite fireworks or exploding targets on BLM-managed lands can be fined up to $1,000, receive a prison term of up to one year, or both. In addition, individuals responsible for starting wildland fires on federal lands can be billed for the cost of fire suppression.

"While lightning can cause wildfires, most wildfires are caused by people, including the use of exploding targets. And with more of us living near areas that border public lands, the risk of fire to homes and communities has increased in recent years," explained Perez.

The BLM cooperates with the Pacific Northwest Wildfire Coordination Group to fight wildland fires in the Pacific Northwest. The Geographic Area Coordination Center offers updates on the fire potential regionally and nationally and the NW Coordination Center provides updates in the Pacific Northwest.

The BLM manages more than 245 million acres of public land, the most of any Federal agency. This land, known as the National System of Public Lands, is primarily located in 12 Western states, including Alaska. The BLM also administers 700 million acres of sub-surface mineral estate throughout the nation. The BLM's mission is to manage and conserve the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations under our mandate of multiple-use and sustained yield.

Parking system changes at city-owned Cascade lot

Public Works crews have installed new signs and parking pay kiosk at the City of Hood River's Cascade Avenue parking lot at Fifth and Cascade.

Effective June 1, the lot moved to a mixed permit and pay-as-you-go system. The new design will be pay to park on the north half, meaning users purchase a ticket at the blue pay kiosk in the center of the lot. Meanwhile, monthly parking permit only will be allowed on the south half. You may purchase a permit at City Administration; for details call the Parking Department at 541-386-1488, option 2.
