

NEW SCHOOL MURALS

Students might be gone from the halls for a few months, but images of community and nature are permanently in place. Artists Shelley Toon Lindberg and Allison Fox worked this spring with students at Mid Valley Elementary (above) and Parkdale Elementary to create large murals involving painting and tile mosaic. The Parkdale mural is in the north entryway next to the library, and uses words and images to depict the lifecycle of the salmon, with fish maturing from eggs, to alevin, fry, parr, smolt, adult, and spawning adult (the last panel worn somewhat by young hands coming off the stairway railing). The nature-based Mid Valley mural, done by afternoon Excel students, wraps over and around doorways and connects to a 10-year-old mosaic tucked to the left of the entry. Both projects were sponsored by Arts in Education of the Gorge.

Memaloose & Idiot's Grace

Highway 14 (34 State St.), Lyle, WA., at Klickitat River Bridge

At Memaloose we have a simple Family philosophy – "produce wines from well-farmed grapes that express 'our place,' the grape variety and that particular vintage." These are honest, approachable wines that reflect the beauty of our magnificent Columbia Gorge appellation.

Our wines are reminiscent of the "Old World," and our respect for the great European winemaking traditions is evident in the finesse that our wines display. Winemaker Brian McCormick produces structured wines that are well balanced and bright with the acidity of our Mosier and Lyle estate grapes. These are wines that will complement the food at your table.

Come taste "Memaloose" and "Idiot's Grace" wines in our stunning tasting room in Lyle, WA (Highway 14 at the Klickitat bridge). Our spacious deck overlooks the most scenic part of the Gorge, at the confluence of the Klickitat and Columbia Rivers. Antipasto plates (weekends), gift shopping, and warm Family hospitality await.
