Blues and Brews returns June 26-27

Stevenson's signature event returns for its 22nd year, June 26-27, when Gorge Blues and Brews Festival hits the Skamania County Fairgrounds, 650 SW Rock Creek Drive.

The festival blends music, craft brews and food. The Friday night segment features all things local from 6 to 10 p.m. Walking Man Brewery, Backwoods Brewing and Thunder Island Brewing will be pouring brews and there will be a selection of local wine. Bring your boogie shoes because some of the best of our home grown musicians, Johnny Lyle Dodds and Skamaniaxe, will have you on your feet all evening. Admission is free, and camping is available onsite if you want to come early and stay late. Campsites can be reserved in advance via www.tickettoma-to.com.

On Saturday, the festival runs from noon until 10 p.m. and features 16 regional craft breweries including the brand new Bearded Brothers of Vancouver, as well as five local wineries and cideries.

Continuous live blues music will fill the air with bands on two stages; this year's line-up includes headliner Patrick Lamb and the Funkified Band. The day will be filled with the sounds of Lloyd Jones and the Struggle, Jimmy Lloyd Rea and the Switch Masters, Bill Rhoades and the Party Kings/Queens featuring D.K. Stewart, The Bottle Neck Blues Band featuring Robbie Laws, Rae Gordon and Big Monti. Closing the night with true boogie music is J.R. Sims. In between the sets on Riverview Community Bank main stage, local musicians and bands will perform on the Big River Grill stage.

Admission is open to those 21 years and over only on both Friday and Saturday; no minors will be allowed on the festival grounds. The cost for admission on Saturday is $20 per person and includes a commemorative beer mug or wine glass.

Memoir workshop at Klindt's

Oregon Book Award Winner Jay Ponteri will be at Klindt's in The Dalles on Saturday, July 11, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. for a memoir writing workshop. $40. Limited seating. "For me the joy of memory-based writing arises from recalling a memory I could not have imagined and did not plan on recalling before that present moment of composition. I'm talking about working from inadvertent memory. This kind of memory rises to the surface of consciousness without intention or design on my part. I don't reach for memory—I let memory reach for me."

Acoustic House Concert July 2

Beautiful at times, and heart-breaking at times - their voices and instruments meet and give birth to some of the most delicate and elegant sounds I have heard in a long time." 401 Montello, Hood River, more information at 541-387-4011.

'Live Music on the Terrace' CD helps musicians in need

More than a dozen Northwest bands have contributed songs to Maryhill Winery's 2015 "Live Music on the Terrace Vol. 2," a CD that showcases artists scheduled to play at the venue this summer.

Featuring folk, jazz and blues bands the CD is a unique collaboration by the artists and the winery, and all proceeds benefit the non-profit Sweet Relief foundation, a national organization that provides financial assistance to musicians who are facing illness, disability or age-related problems.

Last year, the winery used the CD as a promotional tool for Wine Club members, but CD sales allowed the winery to donate $1,000 to the fund. This year, about 4,000 CDs were produced.

The idea behind the CD was to further promote and showcase a selection of artists performing during the year on Maryhill's terraced venue. The winery owners wanted to give back to the artists in a unique way, and create more exposure for the band's music, as well as support musicians in by donating a part of the proceeds to Sweet Relief.

The 2015 "Live Music on the Terrace" CD is $6 and is available for purchase in the Maryhill Winery Tasting Room.

Live music on the Terrace happens on weekends through September, from 1-5 p.m. at Maryhill Winery. There's no cover charge and the venue is family-friendly.
