CAT provides free service to and from Mt. Hood Meadows

Getting to and from the mountain this winter just got a lot easier with the new Columbia Area Transit (CAT) Gorge-to-Mountain Express bus route. CAT has teamed with Mt. Hood Meadows to provide public transit service to Mt. Hood seven days a week — and it's free.

The new service will take riders along Highway 35 to and from Hood River and Mt. Hood Meadows and runs through March 29.

Weekday runs starting at the CAT headquarters are at 6 a.m., 8:30 a.m., 12:15 p.m. and 3 p.m.; Weekend runs embark from CAT at 6:15 a.m., 7:30 a.m., 8:30 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 12:15 p.m., 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Travel time each way is 75 minutes.

Stops include:

- CAT Administrative Office at 224 Wasco Loop (free Park-n-Ride)

- Port Stop at Event Site and CGE Transfer Site (free Park-n-Ride at Event Site lot)

- Odell at Foxtail Cider & Distillery at 2965 Ehrck Hill Drive (no formal Park-n-Ride)

- Parkdale/Mt. Hood at Wake & Bake (no formal Park-n-Ride)

There is no charge to ride the Gorge-to-Mountain Express.

"Our goal is to make it easy and safe for folks to get to the mountain to enjoy skiing, snowboarding, cross-county skiing, and all the fun winter activities, without having to drive or park," says Patty Fink, executive director of CAT.

"We hope to bring this service each year to help give locals and tourists a simple and affordable way to get to the mountain in the winter months. It's all part of CAT's accessibility and sustainability goals," she said.

Farmers Market Jan. 4

The Hood River Farmers Market has moved to the May Street Elementary cafeteria from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the first and third Saturday of the month through April.

The next market will be held on Saturday, Jan. 4.

The indoor market features fresh, locally grown fruits and vegetables. Customers can find a wide variety of locally made and raised goods: Meats, eggs, cheese, baked goods, honey, jams, preserves, dried herbs and more.

The market also features art and handmade goods from local artisans.

Hood River Farmers Market, operated by local nonprofit organization Gorge Growth Food Network, accepts credit, debit, Veggie Rx and SNAP EBT. SNAP shoppers can receive a free $10 bonus when they use their benefits at the market.

May Street Elementary is located at 1001 10th St. and free parking is available for market shoppers. Stop by the information table at the market or contact Market Manager, Hannah Ladwig for more information on the market, Hannah@gorgegrown.com or 541-490-6420.

Native plants now available to order

Hood River Soil and Water Conservation District is again hosting its native plant sale and is currently taking orders.

"Winter is the perfect time to plan additions to your garden and landscaping," said a HRSWCD press release. "We are happy to announce that we are now taking orders for our 2020 native plant sale. Native plant species can sometimes be hard to find in typical nurseries. We provide a low-cost option to obtain locally sourced plants."

This year, HRSWCD has added pollinator plants to its sale, "including showy milkweed and red-stemmed ceanothus. And back by popular request is the giant sequoia, paper birch, and Pacific dogwood," said the press release.

Native plants are adapted to the unique climate and soils of this region and provide the benefits of wildlife and pollinator habitat, soil stabilization, and water conservation, said the press release.

Native plants also provide shade, privacy, and showy blooms throughout the growing season. Visit www.hoodriverswcd.org to download an order form and gather information on plant species and site suitability.

Plants are 1-2 year, bare root seedlings around 12-18 inches tall and are ready to be planted. Conifers are for sale for $1.75 each and deciduous trees and shrubs are for sale for $2.75 each.

Purchases will be available for pick up on Friday and Saturday, April 3-4.

For more information or guidance when making your selection, call Kris at 541-386-4588 or stop by the Hood River office, located at 3007 Experiment Station Road.
