'RHYTHM' AT CCA

For 2020 at Columbia Center for the Arts, artists in each exhibition are given a one-word prompt to serve as a challenge. In February, the word is rhythm. "Rhythm can be auditory, but also visual. It moves us — drawing the eye around a composition and our bodies around a room," said Executive Director Leith Gaines. The gallery is open Wednesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The CCA Lobby hosts a show of Hood River High School Gold Key award winners. Students receiving awards were celebrated on First Friday, Feb. 7. Shown is an updated "Rhythm" poster image provided by CCA, featuring work by Stephen Kekule.

Memory Café challenge grant on now

Aging in the Gorge Alliance has issued a challenge grant to support The Hood River County History Museum's new Memory Café. During the months of February and March, donations made to the program will be matched 1:1, up to the total of $1,500.

A Memory Café is a memory stimulation program for people with dementia. Museum objects, photos and music are used to spark memories for people experiencing dementia. Trained volunteers take artifacts from the collection to people with dementia, presenting and passing around the objects to share.

The program is managed by the museum's Jesuit Northwest AmeriCorps member Addison Arnold. Donations can be made to the Hood River County Heritage Council, PO Box 781, Hood River, OR 97031 or brought to The History Museum at 300 E. Port Marina Drive. Write "dementia program" on your check. Credit card payment can be made at the Museum or by calling 541-386-6772.
