THE UNITED STATES REPLIES

Tells Earl Li We are Not Ready to Begin Negotiations.

CREDENTIALS NOT QUESTIONED

Probable That State Department Is Waiting to Hear From Minister Ching Before Taking Final Action.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The state department this afternoon issued the following:

The following communication was handed to Acting Secretary of State Hill this afternoon from the Chinese minister:

"Cablegram from Earl Li Hung Chang, dated the 7th of September, 1900, transmitted by the Chinese minister at St. Petersburg, under date of September 9, and received by Minister Wu on the last-named date:

"I am in receipt of an imperial edict of the 30th day of the seventh moon, August 24, 1900, transmitted from Pao Ting Fu. It is as follows:

"Li Hung Chang, envoy plenipotentiary, is hereby vested with full discretionary powers, and he shall promptly deal with whatever questions may require attendance. At this distance we will not control his actions. Let this edict be forwarded with extra expedition at the rate of 600 li per day (to Earl Li) for his information and guidance. Respect this."

To the above communication Acting Secretary Hill has handed Mr. Wu the following reply:

"The United States does not feel called upon to express any opinion at this time as to the sufficiency of Li Hung Chang's authority, but hopes it will transpire that his credentials are full and authoritative, not only for negotiations, but to enable him, without further delay, to give assurance that the life and property of Americans will henceforth be respected throughout the Chinese empire."

From this formal statement it appears that the state department is not yet ready to begin direct negotiations with Li Hung Chang. It does not question his credentials as a plenipotentiary, but simply leaves the matter in abeyance. Probably this is because all of the powers have not returned their responses to the Russian note, as it is desired to avoid placing the United States first among the powers to abandon the hope of harmonious action and strike for itself toward the settlement directly with China. Also, it may be deemed well to wait to hear from Mr. Conger, who, several days ago, was invited to express his opinion about quitting Pekin.

IT GROWS WORSE.

List of Dead at Galveston Is Steadily Increasing.

Galveston, Texas, Sept. 13.—Mayor Walter C. Jones estimates the number of dead at 5,000, and he is conservative. Over 2,300 bodies have been taken out to sea or buried in trenches. Other hundreds are yet to be taken from the ruins. These bodies are all now badly decomposed, and they are being buried in trenches where they are found. Others are being burned in the debris where it can be done safely. There is little attempt at identification, and it is safe to say that there will never be a complete list of the dead.

Chief of Police Ketchum is in charge of the work of burying the dead. There are large bodies of men engaged in this work, tearing up the ruins and getting out the corpses. Some of those whose bodies are being taken out were probably only injured when they were first struck down, but there was no getting relief to them, and they perished miserably.

The remnant of the force of regular soldiers who were stationed here, and it is a very small remnant, have joined the police in patrolling the city.

Several persons have already been shot. A soldier of Rafferty's battery, while patrolling the beach this morning, ordered a man to desist from looting. The fellow drew a weapon, and the soldier shot him dead. The soldier was attacked by three other men, and he killed all of them. He had five cartridges in his rifle, and each of them found a victim.

Other men have also been shot, but the details are not known, nor can the exact number be ascertained. It is probable that 25 were killed. Some of these were shot for failing to halt when ordered to do so. Others were shot for vandalism.

The ruins of the heavier brick buildings have not yet been searched for the dead, and there is a large number in them. In the mass of rubbish which marks the site of the Lucas Terrace Bridge House, 40 or 50 people were killed outright, and their bodies are still in the ruins.

The Orphans' home is totally demolished. Ninety-two children and 11 nuns were killed. It is rumored that one sister escaped, but if she did, no trace of her can be found.

The fact that money does not make the man seldom worries the man who is trying to make the money.

BURYING THE DEAD.

Three Thousand Bodies Have Been Disposed of at Galveston.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 14.—Based on reports believed to be accurate the number of lives lost at Galveston will reach 5,000; the property loss, $15,000,000. Outside of Galveston the number of dead are 100.

Damage to railroads outside of Galveston, $200,000.

Damage to telegraph and telephone wires outside of Galveston, $80,000.

Damage to cotton crop, estimated on average crop of counties affected, 50,000 bales, at $60 per bale, $3,000,000.

The losses of livestock cannot be estimated, but thousands of head of horses and cattle have been killed all over the storm district.

Three Thousand Buried.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—The following statement was received at 11 o'clock to night:

"Galveston, Texas, Sept. 14.—To Charles S. Diehl, General Manager The Associated Press, Chicago: A summary of the conditions prevailing at Galveston is more than human intellect can master. Briefly stated, the damage to property is anywhere between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. The loss of life cannot be computed. All is simple guess work. Those buried in the sea and ground will foot up a horrible total of at least 3,000. Many estimate the loss on the island, in the city of Galveston and the immediate surrounding districts between 4,000 and 5,000 deaths. I do not make this statement in fright or excitement. The whole story will never be told. The necessities of this living are pressing. Not a single individual escaped property loss. The property on the island is half swept out of existence. What our needs are can be computed by the world at large by the statement herewith submitted much better than I could possibly summarize them. The help must be immediate.

"Manager Galveston News."

NOTHING IN RUMORS.

No Change Regarding Stock Grazing on the Forest Reservation.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 13.—Not since last spring have any orders been issued from Washington affecting the grazing of stock on any of the forest reservations. At that time permits for the current season were issued. It is not the present intention of the interior department, which has jurisdiction in such matters, to make any changes in the present system. Secretary Hitchcock and the general land office both declare that there is no foundation for the rumors to the effect that grazing is to be restricted any more than at present, and particularly in the district of Mount Rainier forest reservation. Under the permits issued last spring 250,000 sheep have been allowed on this reservation, but this privilege expires on September 25, when the department concludes the season closes. This fact may have given rise to the rumor, but as the permits were each one issued for the period of July 1 to September 25, there should be no misconception placed on this specification. Grazing will be allowed on Rainier next year the same as this, unless it should develop that the sheep-grazing of the present summer has proven disastrous to the forests. There has been no intimation of this so far received.

Cattle and horses will be allowed to graze on all reserves next year, as this year, without unreasoning restraint. In the matter of sheep-grazing, the agricultural department has no authority to permit or restrict, but merely offers its opinion when asked. Secretary Wilson is personally very strongly in favor of grazing in an intelligent way, and has so expressed himself to the interior department and public.

Bad Fire at a Summer Resort.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Sept. 14.—The season at this watering place came to a sudden and disastrous end this afternoon through the complete destruction by fire of the great Rockingham hotel, Sherry's Casino, the Hazard block, the Knights of Pythias hall and a score of smaller buildings, which in summer are alive with trade. The fire started in the upper part of the Rockingham shortly after noon, and within a few hours nearly all the adjacent buildings, including the Casino, had been destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $350,000, half of which is covered by insurance. The big hotel was practically vacant, having closed six days ago. The Rockingham was owned by J. G. Burns & Son, and was six stories high, built entirely of wood, and valued at $200,000. The Casino building was valued at $100,000. The Hazard block was valued at $25,000. The losses range from $500 to $10,000 among about three score of merchants.

Held Up by Lone Robber.

Denver, Sept. 14.—Burlington train No. 1, known as the Overland Flyer, was held up by a lone highwayman at 2 o'clock this morning, five miles east of Haight, Neb., near the Colorado line. The robber secured about $500 in cash and probably twice that much in diamonds and watches, and then made his escape by bringing the train to a stop. He went through both sleepers, but did not molest chair cars. The railroad officials offer $1,000 for his capture, and presses have started out in all directions.
