THE CONTEST AT SALEM.

The fight among the factions at Salem is becoming intensely interesting, from the politician's point of view.

The votes already taken in the legislature show that members of other parties are waiting for the Republicans to settle their own household affairs of party and then they will step in and help to elect a United States senator.

McBride's friends have been making desperate effort to prevent this, but information comes from the McBride ranks that it is conceded therein that his case is hopeless.

Fulton's chances are not considered especially damaging to Corbett, although, in the event of his own failure, which will surely come, he will throw what strength he has to any one but Corbett.

Hermann cannot be said to be in it. His friends are simply making a play of the exhibition type in the hope that "Our Binger" may be known in the contest when Senator Simon shall have completed his first term.

Judge M. C. George and Judge Frank A. Moore are named, but so far they have not entered into the controversy.

The contest so far, therefore, is quite unsettled. Those who have started out for Corbett have done so at the request of their constituents, the people, and there is little doubt that in a few days more they will have received into their ranks a number of valiant volunteers who have heard by wire and mail from their home people.

Corbett, in the most pessimistic view of the matter, is yet far in the lead and The New Age believes that those who are captaining his cause will yet achieve victory.

In the death of Queen Victoria of England the world has lost a personage of great character and Great Britain a ruler of great virtues. Her people loved her and those of other nations respected her for her profound kindness of heart toward all human kind.

The proposed fair in Portland in 1905 appears to have all the elements of a substantial business proposition. Many men of much means are urging it and its promoters are receiving much encouragement.

Many bills are being introduced at Salem; but, in a manner, legislation is being retarded and confused by the senatorial fight.

ENGLISH COMPANY WRITES ALL SORTS OF INSURANCE.

Lloyd's is the Most Comprehensive of Insurance Companies - Guarantees Against Accident or Theft or Insures the Lives of Monarchs.

In reading the daily and weekly papers one often runs across the term "according to Lloyd's," but it is probable that very few know the extent of Lloyd's functions in the insurance world.

There were in 1771 only twenty-five subscribers to Lloyd's. There are now nearly 1,000. The subscribers in the olden time, as now, did not confine themselves to marine insurance.

Lloyd's insures the Prince of Wales jubilee stamps, guaranteeing that the issue would be successful. The voice of a prima donna has been insured. A tradesman in a London street who has an impression that a monument may fall on his shop has taken out a policy at the nominal premium of 2 shillings 6 pence per cent.

Lloyd's issues insurance against burglary. Elephants are insured regularly. The life of the great Jumbo, who came to New York on a Monarch line steamship, was insured in Lloyd's for the voyage to New York.

EXACT DATE OF THE FLOOD.

Bible Facts on Which the Southern Bishop Based His Question.

Some people have had fun lately over the reported rejection of eight candidates for the African Methodist ministry in the South by the examining bishop because they could not tell the date of the flood.

The date of the flood was 1,656 years after the birth of Adam, in the second month and the seventeenth day. It began then and continued for forty days and nights.

In the seventh chapter of Genesis the eleventh verse reads as follows: "In the six hundredth year of Noah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the fountains of the great deep broken up and all the windows of heaven were opened."

THE CRYDER TRIPLETS.

Three Famous Girls Who Recently Made Their Debut in Society.

New York's famous Cryder triplets made their social debut the other day, and their coming out revived the stories of how they have been enabled to confuse even their best friends by the remarkable similarity of their appearance.

The sisters are as alike in physique as in face and dress. Above the average height of their sex, willowy and graceful, with eyes of the same color, and mannerisms the same, robed always in perfect harmony with the others, they quickly attract attention.
