SHERIFF'S SALE. In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for the county of Multnomah L. L. Hawkins, plaintiff, vs. Carrie Jones, et al., defendants. By virtue of an execution duly issued out of and under the seal of the said circuit court, to me directed and dated the 3rd day of January, 1901, upon a judgment duly rendered and entered in said court and cause on the 22d day of January, 1892, in favor of J. C. Ainsworth and against Z. T. Wright, et al., therein, for the sum of $254.25 with interest thereon at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from the 22d day of January, 1892, and the further sum of $80.86 with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the 22d day of January, 1892, and the further sum of $10 costs and disbursements therein, I did on the 15th day of January, 1901, duly levy upon the following described real property situated in the county of Multnomah, state of Oregon, to-wit: Lots 1 and 2 in block 4 in Highland; also, lot 14 in block 13 in Paradise Spring Tract, and lot 8 in block 56 in Portland City Homestead, and will in compliance with its commands on Monday, the 18th day of February, 1901, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., at the front door of the county court house, in the city of Portland, said county and state, sell the said real property at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy said judgment with interest thereon as aforesaid and the costs of and upon said writ. Dated Portland, Oregon, January 14, 1901. WILLIAM FRAZIER, Sheriff of Multnomah County, Oregon.

Lincoln's Great Rival. Loss of the stakes for which they had played — presidential and vice-presidential nominations — naturally brought Abraham Lincoln and Judge Douglas into keener rivalry than ever. This time the prize was the senatorship. It is safe to say that had Lincoln won it the course of history and the map of these United States might both have been signally changed. He should certainly have won. Against anybody but Douglas he would certainly have done it. Not only was his party in a clear numerical majority, but Douglas had by this time broken entirely with the Buchanan administration and had the whole strength of federal patronage arrayed against him. I do not think it is wholly an elderly man's partiality for his own times which makes me think there were truly giants in those days, and the chiefest of them my own beloved "Little Giant." Reasonable familiarity with present day great men warrants my saying that they lose by contrast with the public men of the fifties. The morale of public life has also almost wholly changed. I fear there is but too much justice in the charge that nowadays morose spells millions. — Col. Chas. P. Button, in February "New" Lippincott.

"The Star Boarder" at Cordray's. "The Star Boarder," one of the best and brightest of modern farce-comedies, will be the attraction at Cordray's theater next week, beginning Sunday. The fun supplied by this amusing skit is infectious and is scattered so plentifully through the three acts that there is never a dull moment during the evening. The choruses are strong and effective, the music catchy, the jokes new and the dancing excellent. The company is headed by Chaires H. Boyd, a comedian of wide reputation, who in the name part sets a lively pace for the actors to follow. There is a real plot to the play, and the fun does not depend wholly upon specialties. It will come to Portland after a most successful Eastern tour, and promises to be one of the features of the theatrical season.

Kidnaped" at the Metropolitan. Commencing Sunday next, the patrons of the Metropolitan will have an opportunity of witnessing a real novelty in melodrama. The play will be "Kidnaped," by that versatile author, D. K. Higgins, author of "The Vendetta." A more elaborate production of its kind has never been offered to a Portland audience. It has an atmosphere of its own, and holds its audience intensely interested until the final drop of the curtain. The scenes of the play are laid in and around New York City, and the characters are all well drawn and consistent. The play is rather sensational in construction, but, like all successful dramas, the comedy element is largely in evidence, and is being some of the most original comedy situations conceivable. Special scenery is carried for the entire production, an extreme care is taken with details, which means so much to a successful presentation. Sea sale now open.

BARELY ESCAPED A BUNKO. Boston Woman's Suspicion Aroused in Time to Save a $500 Loss. "Beware of the 'hello' man," say the Boston and Newton police, "for the wily bunko man's latest scheme will get you if you don't watch out." It is a telephone "dodge" and one of the cleverest and most original confidence tricks now in use, say the police, and it came very nearly "getting" in all probability the wife of a prominent West Newton citizen who is also one of Boston's leading bankers to the extent of $500 worth of diamonds on Friday. Only her quick wit and readiness of mind saved her diamonds. Her name is closely held by the police on account of the lady's wish to avoid all undue notoriety.

It was about noontime when the telephone bell rang in her residence. "Hello!" called a strange voice. "Is that Mrs. —?" "Yes. Who is speaking?" "This is Mr. —, your husband's partner, you know. Yes, ha! ha! my voice is strange sounding to-day. I've got a cold. "We all have 'em this weather, you know. Oh, thank you, I expect it will be better to-morrow. But what I wanted to do is to deliver a message from your husband, who has gone out to attend a directors' meeting. "Close friend of his has imported a large number of diamonds of large size and extraordinary beauty and your husband wants you to bring to him or send a few of your best jewels, as he thinks he can manage to exchange them for some finer ones perhaps." Such was the message. For a moment the lady pondered it, a trifle doubtfully, and yet not altogether with suspicion as yet. "Hay many should I bring?" she asked. "About $500 worth, your husband says, and he thinks it would save you bother if you sent them in by a messenger." This did stir the lady's suspicion. "I really think I'd better bring them in myself," she said. "Oh, very well," said the other voice pleasantly, and both telephones rang off. Then the lady, after pondering the matter over, called up her husband's office and was answered by himself. The whole affair, the police think, who were notified at once, was the clever plan of an original crook, and the drag nets were spread for him.— Boston Post.

When peace folds her wings over some households, the wife shortly after appears in a new dress.

DOINGS OF THE RACE CITY NEWS

General Information Concerning the Afro-American. TAKEN FROM OUR VARIOUS EXCHANGES Showing the Progress of the Various Lines of Human Endeavor Being Accomplished by the Race.

The Negro press, although poorly supported, and but little appreciated by a large majority of the Negro race, is manfully doing its duty in the interest of the race. The American Negro not having reached that point of intelligence and actual experience in civilization and the business world, does not know the value of a race paper. He does not even know the real good or harm of a newspaper. To try to explain to him the usefulness of race newspapers is actually casting pearls before swine, or it is useless expenditure of breath. Hence the hard row for Negro journalists. All those who are supporting race newspapers are exceptions to the rule, and should not become offended at what we have said.

Rev. Hiram R. Revels, formerly United States senator from Mississippi, died January 16, at Aberdeen, Miss., being stricken with paralysis while addressing the Mississippi conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which he was a presiding elder. Mr. Revels was prominent during the days following the war, especially in Mississippi, where he did much good in his work among the freedmen. He was elected to the state senate in Mississippi in 1896, and the following year was sent to the United States senate, being the first Afro-American raised to that dignity.

Comptroller General Wright has just finished the work of consolidating the tax returns of the colored people of Georgia, and his report makes quite an interesting showing. As stated in the Journal, the aggregate of property owned by Negroes in Georgia is $14,118,20, as against $13,560,179 last year. Of this $4,361,390 is in city and town property and $4,274,594 is represented by farm lands. They own $72,975 worth of merchandise, have $93,480 in cash solvent debts and $469,637 in plantation and mechanical tools.

The total number of acres of land owned by Negroes is 1,075,073, and there are 110,98 Negro voters in the state as shown by the digest. There are 14 Negro lawyers, 43 doctors and dentists. The report shows a marked improvement in the condition of the Negroes of Georgia. In fact, their property returns show a flattering increase for every year since 1879, when they returned for taxation only $5,182,398 worth of property. In 1899, ten years later they had doubled their possessions, returning for taxation at that time $10,41,330 worth of property.

TO THE DEAF—A rich lady, cured of her deafness and noises in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear Drums, gave $25,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. D 3381, The Nicholson Institute, 780, Eighth avenue, New York.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order of the referee in bankruptcy for the district court of the United States for the district of Oregon, residing at Portland, Oregon, made on the 26th day of January, 1901, in the matter of the estate of J. J. Morgan, in bankruptcy, in said court, the undersigned trustee of said estate will receive sealed bids and will sell to the highest bidder, for cash, all the accounts, notes and judgments, listed as assets of said estate, at the time of filing his said petition in bankruptcy, in said court. That all bids must be delivered to me, or mailed to me, in care of Alex. Sweek, referee in bankruptcy, room 600, Chamber of Commerce building, Portland, Oregon, on or before 10 o'clock A. M., of the 12th day of February, 1901. Bids opened at the office of said referee. THOMAS CONNELL, Trustee in Bankruptcy of the Estate of J. J. Morgan.

We shall know no favorites, and shall be absolutely impartial. To insure publication, all local news must reach us not later than Thursday morning of each week.

The la grippe is still quite prevalent. Mr. C. O. Coffey is confined to the house with an attack of la grippe. Mr. Benjamin Johnson, of Albany, an old pioneer of Oregon, died in that city on the 26th inst.

Mr. John Sample, who was sent to the insane asylum, died at that institution on the 31st ultimo. Mrs. Laura Lapsley, well known in this city, has accepted a position with Williams & Walker's "Coon Town 400" company.

Mr. J. E. Colbert is able to follow his usual avocation after being confined to the house for several days the first part of the week. Mrs. Chas. Green, of this city, expects to move to Red Bluff, Cal., to reside permanently, as her husband has found employment there.

Mrs. John Lang who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Thomas, returned to her home in Red Bluff, Cal., last Wednesday evening. There will be a Valentine social at the A. M. E. Zion church Thursday evening, Feb. 14. Many novel and interesting features are promised.

Mrs. Maria Ja-keen who underwent a severe operation at St. Vincent's hospital last week, is progressing nicely and the physicians have every hope of her ultimate recovery. The concert given Thursday evening at Odd Fellows' hall, for the benefit of Mt. Olivet Baptist church, was a decided success and reflected great credit on the committee having charge of the same. A neat sum was raised as the result of their efforts.

The parents of Fred Alexander, who was burned alive, have taken steps to sue the county for damages and support. It is announced that they are poor. If an appeal is made for funds to assist them in their suit, let our people respond heartily. If we cannot touch the conscience of these barbarous mobs, we may make them pause by touching their pockets.

At the last regular meeting of the Afro-American Council the following executive committee were selected: B. R. Corlie, J. G. Logan, J. N. Fullmore, Henry Taylor and Chas. A. Ritter. The council is rapidly increasing in membership and bids fair to be an instrument of great good in our midst. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at the Bethel A. M. E. church.

Many a man becomes a hero through having some woman over estimate his worth. Rather than disillusion her, he acquires the qualities with which her loving imagination has invested him. Colored women can in many cases assist their husbands by staying at home and beautifying it. When on the street look in front of them and keep their mouths shut, and when in church control their little heels. This will go a long way toward helping their husbands.

Mr. S. S. Freeman, who has for some time past conducted a grocery store on Seventh and Davis streets, has opened a neat restaurant and chop house at 266 Everett street, where he is prepared to serve meals at all hours, day or night. Mr. Freeman has thoroughly renovated the establishment and secured an efficient corps of waiters and cooks and intends to conduct his new business in first class style. We bespeak him success and recommend parties looking for satisfactory service to patronize him. A few men of the push and enterprise of Mr. Freeman in any community will do more to solve the race question than all the resolutions of regret or condemnation that may be passed by our people all over the country.

The February Everybody's Magazine is a first rate number full of articles with life and vim in them. In every contribution there is spirit and individuality. The stories are brisk and stirring, the descriptive articles notably interesting and vivid. Nothing better in its way has been written than Maximilian Foster's "The Conqueror"—which tells in picturesque style the life of a bull carlin in the Northern woods. The "Curiosities of Courage" is a subject that appeals naturally to Richard Harding Davis, who narrates a variety of entertaining stories illustrating various phases of the virtue, all of which make capital reading. The "Making of a Country Home," by J. P. Mowbray, is a charming opening to a series of articles which will have a wide circle of readers. There is a "Yawp," by W. J. Lampton, a virile impression of the fight at "Bloody Angle," by Carl Hovey, together with stories by Adachi Kinoshita, Eugene P. Lyle, Jr., Raphael Sabatini, and the continuation of the stirring novel "Joelyu Cheshire," by Sara Beaumont Kennedy.
