APOLOGY OF CHINA.

Delivered by Prince Chun to the Kaiser with Considerable Humility.

Berlin, Sept. 5.-Emperor William's reception of the Chinese mission of expiation, headed by Prince Chun, which took place yesterday at Potsdam, was marked with all the severity consistent with an audience nominally friendly. The Chinese imperial envoy on entering the palace was not accorded a salute by the Garde du Corps. The Emperor received him seated. The buttons and epulettes of His Majesty's white uniform were enveloped in crepe. Prince Chun bowed thrice on entering and leaving. Emperor William remained seated during the reading of the Chinese address. Afterward, however, he relaxed his stern demeanor and welcomed the envoy courteously, and subsequently accom-panied by his adjutant, he called upon Prince Chun at the Orangery. Later in the evening the Emperor, Prince Chun and a dozen members of the ex-platory mission took tea on an island in the Havel.

The Emperor had evidently arranged the entire ceremony with a view of impressing Prince Chun with the feeling that the ceremony meant explation for a foul crime, and that only through explation had Prince Chun acquired the right to be treated with princely honor. Not until after the ceremony did the atmosphere change. Then the troops outside having saluted and the band having played, Hussars escorted Prince Chun back to the Orangery. pressed with the solemnity of the occasion, an when summoned to the throne room, he showed visible em-barassment. He bowed repeatedly while approaching the throne, and his voice was agitated while he was read ing the imperial address. The entire manner of Emperor William was calculated to impress Prince Chun with the solemnity of the ceremonial. He spoke emphatically and seriously, em-phasizing particularly the word "civilized."

The ceremonial lasted only ten minutes. In the meantime ten Chinese dignitaries of the highest rank were halted in the ante-room, remaining perfectly motionless and speechless, awaiting Prince Chun's return with evranges within a few weeks. Feed is dry and the weather being so warm, he believes sheep are likely to go on ident anxiety. Prince Chun retired backward from the throneroom, bowing profusely.
