

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease. It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.

When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result.

Unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.

Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

COL. EDITH MADISON AMES.

Young Woman Gives an Unusual Distinction by Gov. Yates.

When the innumerable friends of Miss Edith Madison Ames meet her now they come to "attention," salute and address her as "Colonel," writes a Chicago correspondent of the New York Journal.

And she is a colonel. Because she fought for him politically.

Governor Yates appointed Miss Ames Honorary Colonel of the Sixth Regiment, Illinois National Guard.

She is but 19 years old, but she is the only woman in all the United States who has the right to ride at the head of a regiment of soldiers.

In Europe, of course, the Queen of England, the Czarina, the Empress of Germany and other women of imperial or royal birth are honorary colonels of regiments distinguished for their services and their histories.

Colonel Miss Ames succeeds "Jack" Foster as commander of the gallant

MISS EDITH AMES.

Sixth. Colonel Foster resigned voluntarily. Lately he met Colonel Ames at Governor Yates' house in Springfield.

She is a great friend of Mrs. Yates. Rumor has it that Colonel Foster surrendered at discretion to Colonel Ames, and that he is resolved to keep the colonelcy of the Sixth in his family.

Before her entrance into military life Miss Ames was well known as an influential Republican politician.

She accompanied Governor Yates' party on his private car during the last campaign, and he asserts that she won many votes for him.

Miss Ames was born in Fort Wayne, Ind., going to East Chicago six years ago.

She was graduated with honors at the high school there two years ago.

She is the only daughter of her widowed mother, Mrs. Benson Carey Ames.

Easy Lessons in City Life.

When Moses K. Armstrong was elected delegate to Congress from the Territory of Dakota, he made an experimental trip to Washington to accustom himself to metropolitan ways.

In "Early Empire-Builders of the Great West" he humorously describes some of his first day's experiences in an Eastern city.

Down at the corner of the next block I heard an auctioneer crying out, "Going for fifty cents!"

I struck straight for his voice, and as I entered the room, he caught my eye and nodded his head.

I returned the compliment. At that moment he cried out: "Sold and gone!"

To my surprise, I found that by nodding my head I had bought a woman's head-dress for fifty cents.

I paid the money and left the prize on the counter. I skipped out and walked slowly down the street, muttering to myself, "Sold and gone!"

I have not nodded my head at a man since I made that bargain.

Being a single man, I felt a little blue over that purchase, so I pushed on through the rain up the avenue, and soon met a bootblack who offered me a shine for ten cents.

I poked my foot out to him. He pulled his artist-brush, looked at me and said:

"Boss, you looks like one o' dem Congressmen. Chuck down de cash befo' I spit on your boots; we don't trust dem M. C. fellers."

I paid him the dime, and he blacked one boot, and then asked if I wanted the other polished, saying that his price was ten cents a foot.

By this time I began to get mad, and I turned down Sambo, and walked rapidly on with one boot black and the other brindle.

My brindle foot at last attracted so much attention that I stepped the other into the mud to make a match.

"The sardine towns on the Maine coast," says the Kennebec Journal, "are congratulating themselves on the fact that herring are beginning to come.

PULLMAN ORDINARY SLEEPERS.

The tourist travel between the East and the Pacific coast has reached enormous proportions in the last few years, and calls for a special class of equipment. To meet this demand the Pullman Company has issued from its shops what it technically calls the "Pullman Ordinary Sleeper." *

These cars appear similar to the regular sleepers, being built on the same plan, but not furnished with the same elegance. They are equipped with mattresses, blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow-cases, towels, combs, brushes, etc., requiring nothing of the kind to be furnished by the passenger. *

Each car has a stove for making tea and coffee and doing "light housekeeping," and each section can be fitted with an adjustable table. A uniformed porter, accompanies each car, his business being to make up berths, keep the car clean, and look after the wants and comforts of the passengers. *

In each of the trains which are dispatched daily from Portland by the O. R. & N. Co. is to be found one of these "Pullman Ordinary Sleepers." *

The car attached to the "Chicago-Portland Special" goes through to Chicago without change, and the one in the "Atlantic Express" runs to Kansas City without change. Passengers in this car for Chicago change to a similar car at Granger. *

Much of the first-class travel is being carried in these cars, the rates being lower, and the service nearly equal to that in the palace sleepers. *
