English Fruit Culture.

Fruit culture is often conducted on a large scale in England. A manufacturer of jam and jelly has a thousand acres at Histon, near Cambridge, employing at times 800 hands. The factory is in the center of the fruit farm.

outside of those who have learned from bitter experience know anything of its nature or characteristics. At first a little ulcer or sore appears, then glands of the neck or groins swell; pimples break out on the breast, back or some other part of the body and fill with yellow pustular matter the mouth and throat become sore and the tongue is at all times badly coated. Headaches are frequent, and muscles and joints throb and hurt, especially during damp, rainy weather. These are some of the symptoms of that most loathsome of all diseases, Contagious Blood Poison. This strange pois-Contagious on does not affect Blood Poison all alike; some are literally raten up with it within a short time after being inoculated, while others show but alight evidence of any taint for a long time after exposure, but its tendency in every case is to complete destruction of the physical system, sooner or later.

S. S. is a safe and infallible cure for this had disease-the only antidoty for this specific poison. It cures Contagious Blood Poison in every form and stage thoroughly and permanently. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other barmful minerals, but is strictly and entirely a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1,000.00 reward for proof that it is not.

police station was given instructions several weeks ago to "bring in" a young Dunstan, proprietor. man who had a criminal record. The detective knew his man and had received information that he was in the friends to call and see him. city.

A detective working under an instruction to arrest a man when found does not usually devote all his time to the search. He puts the warrant into his nocket and depends upon encountering his man sooner or later. If he has no o her work on hand he occasionally drops into the resorts such as are usually favored with the presence of men who have been photographed side and front.

One morning the "fly man." while ou his way to his room, met the longsought crook at the front stairway of the building.

"I want you," he said good-naturedly, 'but I didn't expect to find you here.' "This is where I live."

"For how long?" "Since I came back, six weeks ago." "Well, you're a bird. I live here, too." Both men were touched in their profesisonal pride-one that he could search for weeks to arrest a man in the same building, the other that he should rent a room next to a "fly man."-Milwaukee Sentinel.

Rubber Heels for Soldiers.

From a regimental surgeon in the French army comes the suggestion that all military boots should have rubber heels. He has been investigating the effect on soldiers of marching with the regular step as they do in a disciplined body, and finds that it causes an indefinite repetition of a shock to brain and bones. This is much more harmful than an irregular walk, and to it he attributes the peculiar aches and pains to which the men are subject. Experiments made with the rubber heel boots show that the brain jar and other unpleasant effects are so much diminished as to give the men great relief.

The "Vigilant Dragon." Nervous folk will welcome the socalled "vigilant dragon" which is not unlike a small brass shelled tortoise. It is, in fact, a dome gong table bell, with spiked legs, and with a spiked dragon's head. When a bedroom door is closed the spikes are placed in the floor and against the door and then the dragon's is connected with the bell clapper, so that if any one endeavors to open the door from outside an obstacle is met with, and the alarm given. When the anxious watches of the night are over the "vigilant dragon" becomes a reposeful bell for the writing table.

Pays Claims on Sight-The Washington Life Insurance Company, of New York, has just paid the claim of Henry Davis, of Medford. Mr. Davis arrived at the company's home office, July 2, 1901, and check in settlement was sent to Mrs. Davis the same day. This company has not had a contested claim in the past decade, an envia-ble record. The Washington Life is tail just touches the floor. This tail one of the strongest and best of all the great life insurance corporations. Its assets aggregate nearly $17,000,- 000; claims paid, over $36,000,000. No other company in the world offers larger guaranteed cash returns at maturity than those contained in the Washington Life's policies. This company's $5,000,000 office building in New York City is one of the world's finest structures.
