ing the war under a lease. April 23, 1879, it was bought by the United States government and described as 'The Confederate Cemetery, formerly occupied by the Camp Chase Rebel Prison." In the inclosure are buried 2,260 Confederate soldiers.

Colonel Knauss, who is well known in the Confederate camps in the South, invited them to send flowers for the unveiling of the monument. The response was general. Nearly every State in the South responded and many contributions were made by Southerners who live in the North and by Northerners as well.

A Sacred Chinese Coin. One of the coins of the Chinese Emperor Kanghi is very much sought after by the Chinese, who use it in making rings for the finger. It is slightly different from the other cash issued under the same emperor in the form of one of the characters that indicate the regnal period. The Chinese call it "Lohan cash," the word Lo-han being a transcript in Chinese characters of the Sanskrit_word Arhan, "venerable," the name applied to the eighteen attendants of Buddha, who are frequently seen ranged along the two sides of the principal halls in Buddhist temples.

The tradition is that while the Emperor was intimately associated with European missionaries he became imbued with a feeling of contemp? for Buddhism and illustrated this phase of his faith by having a set of eighteen brass Lo-han images melted down and east into cash. This brass is said to contain a considerable portion of gold; hence the demand for the cash.

> The 40th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation Celebration given by the colored citizens of Seattle was held in the auditorium of Leschi Park, Monday, the 22d inst. Exercises were held both in the afternoon and evening. Mr. Jno. F. Cragwell, master of ceremonies, conducted the exercises in a very smooth manner. The first speaker on the programme was the Hon, Lawrence Sledge, of Tacoma, the subject of his address was "Force." He spoke of the physical, intellectual and moral forces, bearing very heavily on the moral force and impressing the audience that our future success depended largely on the moral force of our women and how that virtue should be looked upon and protected. Miss Barbara Davis sang a solo which was very creditable indeed. She filled the auditorium with her sweet soprano voice and one listening without see ing the singer would doubtless have taken her for "Black Patti." Mrs. Viola Pleasant Rudd, of Tacoma, recited two of Paul Lawrence Dunbar's selections, making a "hit" as usual. Mrs. Rudd is a great admirer of Dun-bar's works and for some time has made a specialty of reciting his selections. She has a good conception of the dialect, and every one enjoys hearing her recite. The duet "O that We Two Were Maying" by Mrs. L. E. Lark and Miss Mabel Walker, of Tacoma, was very highly appreciated and was heartfly encored. The Hon. I. F. Norris, the speaker of the day, delivered a very able address and gave facts and figures which showed what a wonderful progress the Negro had made since Emancipation in the lines of education, also of the amount of church, school and library property the Negro had accumulated within the lest forty years, which is a creditable showing for any race. Mr. Norris is a very fluent and eloquent speaker. Hon, Wm. E. Humphrey, Republican Congressional candidate, made a very enthusiastic speech and spoke in glow ing terms of the Negro's progress since Emancipation, and said "That the time will come when the white men will have to treat the Negro fairly in order to get justice themselves.

and that the freedom of the Negro freed the white man's mind of the cruelties and wrongs that he had done the defenseless Negro in slavery." Mr. Humphrey was applauded heartily all through his address, which was well worth istening to. Miss Hazel Thompson, the Emancipation queen, read the Immortal Proclamation, which the Hon. Frederick Douglas tried so hard to bring about. The Tacoma Quartet rendered some very melodious and popular selections. The stage of the auditorium was decorated with the American flag and on the all hung the pictures of Abraham incoln, Frederick Douglas and President Roosevelt. A very large audience was in attendance and the celebration was a grand success, Every one I meet lately are speaking in glowing terms of The New Age. and if the subscription roll climbs up much higher than at present the two orrespondents stationed here will be enrolling names all the while, have enrolled 200 already. "McCarthy's Mishaps" is a red hot Irish comedy of the right kind. There is real humor in every situation; Barney Ferguson, who stands at the head of the list of Irish Comedians, as the luckless McCarthy, is extremely funny in the various mishaps to which he falls heir. He creates as much laughter as one could possibly stand in a single evening. His meeting with Miss Primrose, a maiden lady with everything but youth to fascinate, creates amusement and the marriage which eventually takes place is probably the most serious mishap which the unlucky McCarthy stum-bles into. The supporting company contains the most prominent vaude Ferguson and Mack, the funniest of all eccentric comedians, Caron and Herbert, the world's greatest comedy acrobates, James E. Rome and Mar-sucrite Ferguson, Charlotte Ray, Dick Ferguson and Grace Passmore, the D'Estelle Sisters, the Misses Fenie and Wheeler, Virginia Logan and a com-pany of 20 people. This great production will be at Cordrav's theater four ing, October 1, and Saturday matines
